

JURORS ARE PICKED FOR NOVEMBER TERM

Will Report For Duty on Thursday, November 9
CALL IS JUST THREE DAYS LATE
Election Date is Jumped to Avoid Extra Expense

The jury list for the November term of circuit court has been drawn by Clerk Luce and Sheriff Reeves, and the veniremen have been summoned to appear for service on Thursday, November 9. The term really should commence on Monday, Nov. 6, but the orders to report on Thursday were formulated because of the expense involved in the jurors reporting on Monday, going home Monday night to be on the ground to vote, and then returning on Wednesday. In this way quite a saving is effected. One of the jurors called is out of the state—F. L. Beamis—and will not be here. He is at Ocean Park, Cal.

Jonas Moline, of below Keedville, was in town Monday. He is road supervisor for his district, No. 7, and has built more macadam road this season than any other supervisor in the county. He says that it looks like another special levy this Fall, as there are many who opposed it last year who are now for road improvement, and will so vote at the special election called for Nov. 25.

R. Puhols, of West Union, was in town Monday. He reported everybody plowing the first of the week where the land would turn half decently.

With Tuesday night the open season for deer closed and the hunter who has not bagged a buck is out of luck until next season. The deer season this year has not been a very good one, for some reason or other. Hunters report a big undergrowth of ferns and foliage, due, no doubt, to the fact of the early rains last Spring, and the moist season up to August 1. It has been almost impossible to see deer, there has been so much cover. Even Thos. Willis, of Mountaineer, who always gets one or two bucks every year, played in hard luck this season.

S. S. Jeffries, well known here as proprietor of a barber shop ten years ago, has returned with his family, and will go out to his 100-acre tract near Bethany. S. S. says he is going to put up a tent house this Winter and start work on his tract. He has 10 acres cleared and he says he will make the timber and logs haul until he gets a good bit under cultivation. Jeff has four husky boys to help him and he expects to make some progress.

Dudley Stowell, of Buxton, was down Monday. Stowell says that Buxton will have a meeting Saturday, to consider the advisability of putting in a bank at that thriving point. The man who is talking of installing is from Oklahoma. Stowell states that business is good up his way, all mills and camps being in operation.

Chas. Phillips, of Neverstill, Columbia County, in the Nehalem district, was in town Sunday, the guest of relatives. This is some name for the new town in that section—and if it shall live up to its name it should soon be the metropolis of the basin in a few years.

Z. T. Cole, supervisor of District No. 2, was up from the Southeast of the county, Monday morning. His road district will vote on special road tax this year.

Mrs. Geo. S. Campbell and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, of South Tualatin, were in town Monday on legal business.

SHERIFF REEVES NABS KIDNAPPER OF BOY

Finds Him in Cabin, on Sandy, up River From Portland, Friday
BRINGS WILSON TO JAIL, LAD HOME
Clever Bit of Work Pulled off by Washington County Official

Sheriff J. E. Reeves late Friday evening captured Jas. H. Wilson, who last week kidnaped his son, Raymond, on the streets in this city, and made his getaway in a Ford machine.

Sheriff Reeves made every effort to notify all places leading out of Portland, but could get no trace of Wilson until the Ford machine was found at the Ford Bridge, on the Canyon road, Portland. He scouted around and received information that Wilson had procured another machine and had crossed to the East side. In some way he found that Wilson had taken the child east of Portland. He hunted the shafts in the brush, near Troutdale all day Thursday without success, and returned Friday morning. He and Detective Coleman went back, but could find no trace of the fugitive. About six o'clock the sheriff stumbled on to a shack, and saw some one dodge away from the window. He had Coleman run to the rear, and then rushed the door. After shaking the door, which was locked, he concluded to break it in, when Wilson opened it and admitted the sheriff. He placed him under arrest and then asked for the child. Wilson said it was upstairs, and Reeves directed him to proceed ahead to the upper story. The woman, who gives the name of Mrs. L. R. Dawson, of East 47th and Kliffkittat, notified the sheriff that she would not have him going through her house, but the officer brushed her aside and followed Wilson upstairs, where the boy was asleep. The father and son were brought to Hillsboro the same night, and Wilson was lodged in jail. Wilson called for Wm. G. Hare, his attorney, Saturday morning.

Mrs. Wilson and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nichodemus, were overjoyed at getting the child back.

Sheriff Reeves had told Wilson two weeks ago, to go away and not attempt to take the child, or he would get him, but Wilson's reply was evasive. He told Reeves Friday night that he "couldn't help it!"

Fred Wilcox, of Banks, was in the city Sunday, enroute home from a business trip to Portland. He says the rains are more than welcomed by the farmer who wants moisture so he can turn his soil over.

Jos. P. Williams returned from Astoria the last of the week. He says the camps down that way have been running full blast, but will soon shut down for the winter, the car shortage seriously interfering with shipping.

County Clerk Holden and Sheriff Crenshaw, of Tillamook, have been here the past week, witnesses on a lawsuit. In fact, Tillamook and Yamhill officials were well represented in the two cases brought here by a change of venue.

The S. P. Co. is now nearly three thousand cars short according to the state railway commission's last report. The company alleges that the cars sent East with lumber and other products are very slow in returning, and as the shipment over the mountains has been greater than heretofore the shortage was inevitable. Farmers and buyers alike are very anxious over the situation.

BAD CHECK ARTIST LANDS IN COUNTY JAIL

Circular Sent Out by Sheriff Reeves Causes Arrest of Suspect
PASSED MANY CHECKS IN COUNTY
Was Taken From Train by Deputy Geo. Alexander, After Cornelius Visit

A man giving the name of J. M. Sowards, of East Portland, was arrested and lodged in jail by Deputy Geo. Alexander, Friday afternoon, and a long chase by officials to catch an elusive bad check artist is ended. For a year a man giving the names of G. E. Wilcox, G. O. Wilcox, J. M. Caldwell, and C. M. Emerson, has been passing small checks on merchants in Clackamas and Clark Counties, Washington, and in Multnomah and Washington Counties, and has dodged the authorities successfully. When Sowards ventured into this county a few weeks ago, Sheriff Reeves sent out a circular describing him, and sent it to every merchant in the county. One reached the desk of Challacombe & Wilkins, of Cornelius, and when Sowards went in their store Friday, about 3 o'clock, and purchased $5.75 worth of merchandise and tendered a $16 check drawn in favor of J. M. Wood, signed by E. M. Emerson, they recalled the circular, and on looking it over knew he was the man wanted.

They notified Deputy Geo. Alexander, Reeves being on the hunt after Wilson. Alexander watched the 4:05 S. P. train, and presuming the man had boarded the train at Catching, west of Cornelius, asked the conductor if anyone had taken passage from that point. Upon affirmative reply, and being told he was in the rear coach, Alexander went in and recognized the chap from his description. He took him from the train and placed him in jail. Sowards telephoned to his wife at Tabor 1923, Portland, and told her he was arrested, but not to worry.

Sowards has passed checks ranging from $10 to $16 at Sherwood, Greenberg, Garden Home, Cedar Mill, Bethany, at Heckman's, Banks, Forest Grove and Cornelius.

The catch is an important one in police circles, and the country will be ridden of a bad actor. At the Challacombe store Sowards bought a jumper, coversalls for children, bacon, lard, sugar, and an umbrella. His purchase amounted to $5.75 and he tendered a $16 check, receiving the change. The most of the change was found on his person.
