JOHN BARLEYCORN IS BURIED WITH HONORS

Gov. Withycombe Signs Bone-Dry Bill Last Friday at 4 P. M.

SHIPMENTS CAN NO MORE BE MADE

Luscious Loganberry Now Steps Out and Views Audience

John Barleycorn was buried last Friday when Gov. Withycombe signed the bone-dry bill, and Oregon is now a prohi state. Miss Loganberry made her debut at once, and is courting popular favor, her two rivals being Bull Run and Sain Creek. The law provided that five days be given to complete transactions of shipments ordered prior to the bill becoming a law. Beginning with this morning no more shipments can be delivered.

The chronology of the prohibition movement follows:

June 6, 1904—Local option liquor law passed, 43,316 voting for the measure and 40,198 against.

June 4, 1906—Attempt to amend local option liquor law fails, 35,297 voting for the amendment and 45,144 voting against.

June 1, 1908—Effort to give cities and towns control of the sale of liquor within their confines fails, 39,442 voting for the plan and 52,346 voting against.

November 8, 1910—Home-rule amendment to permit cities and towns to control sale of liquor carries, 53,321 voting for and 50,799 voting against.

Amendment entirely to prohibit the liquor traffic fails, 43,540 voting for the amendment and 61,221 voting against.

Bill prohibiting sale of liquors and regulating shipments of same fails, 42,651 voting for the bill and 63,546 voting against.

Nov. 3, 1914—Amendment prohibiting manufacture and sale of liquors in state carries, 136,842 voting for the amendment and 100,362 voting against.

Feb. 17, 1915—House bill No. 362, by Mr. Anderson (Wasco), regulating shipments of liquor into the state, signed by Governor Withycombe.

Feb. 23, 1915—House bill 362 filed in the office of Secretary of State.

Jan. 1, 1916—House bill 362 becomes a law.

November 7, 1916 "Bone-dry" amendment passed by the people, 114,932 voting for the amendment and 109,761 voting against.

Jan. 16, 1917—House bill No. 100, of the 1917 Legislature, by Mr. Anderson, of Wasco, introduced in the House.

Jan. 29, 1917—House bill No. 100 passes the House.

Feb. 1, 1917—House bill No. 100 passes the Senate.

Feb. 2, 1917—House bill No. 100, carrying an emergency clause and becoming effective immediately, is signed by Governor Withycombe.

Clem Shaner has bought the McNeilly place of 38 acres, on Jolly Plains, between here and North Plains, paying therefor $216 per acre. This is one of the best places of its size on the Plains, and adjoins the present Shaner home. Shaner is a good ranchman, and expects to make the place pay for itself in a few years.

Thos. Hess, aged 47, was Friday ordered committed to the Hospital for the Insane at Salem. He assaulted his uncle, Sam Hess, near Sherwood, the other day, and after knocking him down with a tool proceeded to throw everything he could lay his hands on at the head of the prostrate man. The patient has been erratic for several years, and is troubled with insomnia. He says that he knows the Catholics are after him, and when in the court room said that they had their X-rays on him. In 1911 he was taken up for mental disturbance, but was not dangerous, and was allowed to go. Dr. F. A. Bailey examined the patient. His friends think that with treatment he will soon be restored to health.

Eugene Dant, of Reedyville, was here the first of the week. Dant has sold his threshing outfit to Max Berg, and the old-time thresherman will no longer be a figure in Washington County harvests. For 44 seasons Dant has threshed for farmers—the record in the state. He will go out with Berg a few days this season, just to show him the ropes.

For sale: Dairy and stock ranch of 300 acres with 75 cows and young stock, horses, and fully equipped. Will take smaller ranch up to $10,000, as part payment. If interested address P. O. Box 112, Hillsboro, Oregon. 40tf

Wm. Schulmerich went to Salem, Tuesday, to look after legislation in the interest of the Oregon Livestock Association. He says that the movement to put the food and dairy commissioner's office in with another commission is not conducive to economy, and the association is striving to hold the present law, which is more effective and more economical than the proposed law.

Money to loan on improved real estate, principally farms and choice city property.—Kerr Bros., Hillsboro, Odd Fellows Building. 19tf

J. T. Rice, of near Oak Park, has sold his farm of over twenty acres, and will try something else after next October. He still remains on the ranch for this season, and gets the 1917 crop. Mr. Rice has been raising onions for a number of years, and says he is willing to forego the anxiety of the industry.

Men Wanted—To cut cordwood. Must have own tools. Tent and quarters furnished.—Frank Greener, Hillsboro, R. 5. Tel. Rk51.

C. C. Frick went to Portland, Saturday, to meet Mrs. Frick, on her return from an extended visit with relatives in Michigan. His trip was fruitless, as Mrs. Frick was snow-bound at Cheyenne, and was unable to get through until the first of the week.

Fine cedar posts, 14 feet in length, for sale. Will sell on place. John Ironside, near Laurel. 46-8

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Fayram, of Corvallis, were here Saturday for a short call on friends, between trains, enroute to Portland. Mr. Fayram is with a Corvallis paper, and says he likes the college town very well. While in the city Fayram called on his bowler friends.

Mike O'Meara, of Elmonica, was a city caller the last of the week.

C. Jesse, of Roy, was greeting friends here Monday.

THE ZOO'S SONS GET INSIDE RACING MONEY

Isipan, 4-Year-Old, Wins Nearly 70,000 Crowns in European Races

ZOO BRED ON JAP REEVES' FARM

Plucky Little Stallion Has Many Sons and Daughters on Track

The Zoo, a stallion foaled on the J. E. Reeves farm, and owned by the ex-sheriff when the stork brought him to the green pastures south of Cornelius, made his mark in the 2:09 class. Later he was sold by Reeves and taken to New York, where he was sold to a Russian horseman. He now has a big family of sons and daughters, and they have been breaking into the futurity races at Buda-Pesth and Vienna. Isipan, a 4-year-old, this Summer won nearly seventy thousand crowns, winning 60,000 on one race at Vienna, and taking second money at Buda Pesth.

The last Horse Review gives a belated account of the meeting, and Isipan figured as first and second winners in a number of the tests. Motor, another son of the Zoo, was a consistent performer, and was inside the money several times, and Diplomat and Rossi, two other sons, went the course inside the purses.

While so far none has walked up to the record of the noted father they are still young. The Zoo has fifty more offspring coming on in the European futurity races.

Isipan won the Australian Trotting Derby, free for all, at the first Summer meet at Vienna.

The body of George Meacham Jr., aged 19, was found in the South Fork of the Nehalem, near Mohler, Thursday night last, by Albert Crawford, a fisherman. Thos. G. Meacham, the father, went over Friday, and returned with the body Saturday, the funeral following on Sunday. Young Meacham was trapping between Maples and Batterson, and was drowned Dec. 14. Search had been made all along the river, and the finding of the body was given up as impossible. Crawford was casting his boat when he found the body afloat. The Tillamook coroner was notified and took charge of the remains until the father arrived.

Judge Geo. R. Bagley went to Tillamook, Sunday, to open circuit court Monday. As soon as he returns the circuit court panel will be called in to try cases of indictments brought in by the grand jury.

Herman Bishop, of above Mountaineer, was in the city Saturday, on legal business.

Mrs. A. B. Connell, of Portland, was in town Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. A. C. Mulloy, of Laurel, were city callers Monday. C. Ward, of South Tualatin, was over to the county seat Saturday.

Gerhardt Goetze and J. D. Koch, of above Blooming, greeted friends in the county seat the last of the week.

J. R. McNew, of above Buxton, was down to Hillsboro the last of the week. He reported a foot of snow in his neighborhood.

A. C. Shute went to Eugene, Saturday, accompanying his daughter, Miss Gladys, to the University of Oregon, where she is enrolled as a student.

Alfred Vanderzanden, of near Greenville, was in the city Monday, and carried home with him a fishing license—he says that the big fellows are biting finely out his way.

Jos. Meier, who now resides in Switzerland, writes his relatives, the Wolfgang Meiers, that he is still in fair health, but that he occasionally feels like he would like to return to old Oregon.

Mrs. A. A. Morrill and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Frick Jr., were obtained in Portland, last week, having been poisoned by some ice cream. Both had narrow escapes, and required medical assistance.

T. R. Davis, of Jolly Plains, was in the city the last of the week. He reports that Winter wheat is not injured so far. He says that the acreage is considerably smaller than last year's sowing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Luper, of above Heppner, were guests of T. A. Rhea and wife, the last of the week. Mr. Luper is a wheat raiser up in the Heppner hills, and says that the growers all received big money for their product this year.

Former Agent Jennings, with the S. P. here years ago, and later transferred to Gaston, has been promoted. He will now be general agent of the traffic department at Spokane, and will assume the duties March 1.

W. H. Hall, of Salem, where he is employed as linotyper at the State Printing office, was here over Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Shinaberger. Mrs. Hall, who is a daughter of the host and hostess is still visiting here.

Wm. McQuillan, of this city, returned Monday, after a lengthy stay at San Mateo, Cal. Mc. has put on 15 pounds of flesh down in the golden state, and is looking fine. He says, though, that he became so lonesome for old Oregon that he could no longer stand it.

Antone Metlio, an Italian of Portland, was arrested by Marshal Karns and Sheriff Applegate, Friday evening, at Orengo, charged with bootlegging. Metlio sold two quart bottles of booze to men sent to him by the sheriff, and the evidence was thus procured that will convict. Metlio has been suspected for some time. He will answer to circuit court, bond being furnished by Italian friends in Portland.

WOODMEN PROGRAM FEB. 1 A SUCCESS

LOCAL CAMP GAINING MANY MEMBERS

Membership Contest Still Swinging, With Many Additions

Feb. 1st marked another epoch in the Hillsboro Woodmen of the World affairs, when at their regular meeting in Moose Hall, a large class initiation was conducted by the local officers of Hillsboro Camp, assisted by O. W. T. Muellhaupt, a district manager of Portland. In addition a number of applications for membership of Hillsboro business men were balloted upon, and the regular business transacted. Much merriment was created when "The Fetchums," under the captainship of J. H. Ray, stole a march on "The Getums," whose leader is Roy E. Heater, and who had secured the applications of more friends. This proved a double surprise, from the fact that at a former meeting "The Getums" were well in the lead. A big farewell banquet will be given to all local Woodmen when the contest closes. The initiation fee, which includes the doctor's examination, is $3.00.

The Woodmen of the World is a true Western Society for Western people. In these nine Northwestern states its great Reserve Fund, which is all invested here in the best school and municipal bonds, amounts to $8,000,000. Of this amount $1,620,857 is at work in Oregon, building up all sections of the state. Since this society began business, it has paid out to widows, orphans and dependent ones over $23,000,000 in death benefits alone, not taking into account the vast social and fraternal good extended its members.

The membership of the Northwest is over 115,000, with an income last year of $2,670,730, and added to their ever growing reserve fund $806,670. Thus it will be seen what a sound, well managed society is accomplishing right in our own midst.

After the initiation, the doors were opened to the general public, and the Women of Woodcraft and their friends joined in a much enjoyed program, social dance and refreshments. The gathering voted the evening one to be long remembered.

The program follows: Piano solo, Miss Eva Emmott. Vocal selections, Prof. Oswald Olson, with Vincent Engeldinger as piano accompanist.

Piano selections, Vincent Engeldinger. "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," an Alaskan Miner's Sketch, by L. A. Long and W. H. Taylor.

Talk on Woodcraft, by District Manager Muellhaupt, Portland. Mandolin and guitar selections, Henry Schlegel. Recitation, Mrs. Mary Sabin. Dance selections, Mrs. Beecher Jones, at piano; Earl I. Donelson and Beecher Jones on violins.

A drill team has been formed, and Hillsboro Camp is assured of many social functions.

H. H. S. vs. VITA CLUB

In the hardest played game of the season, the High School basketball team defeated the Vita Club Greys, 20 to 18, in the first of a series of three games to decide the city championship. High school team work and the fouls of the Greys combined to defeat the club men. Mann and Carter starred for High School; Burkhalter and Rollins for Greys.
