HILLSBORO, OREGON, MARCH 1, 1917

NO. 50

YOUNG HARRY SANDYS BROUGHT TO HILLSBORO

Was Arrested on Charge of Stealing Auto From Portland Man

SOLD IT TO A CEDAR MILL MAN

Was on Eve of Being Married When Arrested

Harry Sandys, the young man who was arrested in San Francisco, charged with stealing an auto which he sold to a Cedar Mill farmer, of this county, was brought back Friday by a Portland deputy for Sheriff Applegate. Young Sandys had procured a marriage license and was to have married Fern Johnson, aged 17, of Vancouver, Wash. Friday's Oregonian says of the case:

"Young Sandys says he is the son of Harry L. Sandys, formerly proprietor of the Cliff Inn, and manager of the St. Charles Hotel some years ago. He says that Miss Johnson is the mother of his 11-month-old child. He is charged with stealing an automobile from in front of the Y. M. C. A. building last September and selling it to J. Furrer, a farmer living near Cedar Mills, Ore., for $150.

Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Johnson, joined him in California a month and a half ago. The baby was with her, he says.

"We went to the court house in San Francisco," the lad said last night, "but the clerk refused to issue a license to us because the papers on which we had our parents' consent to our wedding had not been certified to by a notary public. Then we went to San Mateo County, where we gave our ages as 18 and 21 years respectively. We got the license and were to have been married last Saturday. Then came my arrest, and the wedding had to be postponed again."

Young Sandys admitted readily that he took the automobile to obtain money for the trip to California.

Sandys was lodged in jail here Friday, by Sheriff Applegate.

The Hillsboro Mercantile will enter the field for baseball honors this season. They have leased the grounds and will endeavor to give us a baseball season. They have leased the grounds and will endeavor to give us a baseball season replete with interest. There are already four good players working under the Mercantile roof, and the boys will play nearly all their games on the home grounds. Very few return games will be played elsewhere, as it costs considerable to pay the rental for the park.

P. X. Johnson, of Portland, was last week given a judgment for $36.50 against the estate of Fred Ristman, who was killed by Bennett Thompson, at Tualatin, last May. The claim was on an unpaid check, and was given by Ristman a day or so before the murder. The widow, who has since married, contested the claim, but the court held it was a valid charge against the estate.

Geo. Laemermann, of above Banks, was down to the county seat Friday. He will plant 350 prune trees on his ranch this Spring, and next season will make another planting. George says that his section is finely adapted to prune culture, and he thinks the days of poor prices for the product are gone to return no more.

John Parsons, of Centerville, was in the city Monday. John is one of the pioneers in the hop business, and will still cultivate a few acres. He thinks the business will gradually come back after the European War is settled.

For Sale—Ten registered Jersey cows and heifers, three of which have registers of merit; also herd bull, son of Eurybidia's Prince, a half-brother of World's Champion, Katie F., gold medal cow of Oregon, and also a grandson of two world's champions. The robins came back last week, and the emigres came just as the snows started. The bird weather bureau evidently slipped a cog, and Wm. Tupper, the janitor at the court house, says that the feathered fellows and the animals as well have nothing on the genus homo when it comes to guessing Oregon weather conditions. One big cock robin held down the court house yard all winter, and apparently waxed fat on Oregon mid-winter, but he was the only one to brave the conditions. Last year thousands of them perished, and many were fed all over the district.

NEW LAW WILL NOT AFFECT STOOL PIGEON

Agent of Sheriff or District Attorney Safe in Making Purchase

PROVIDED HE ACTS AS SUCH AGENT

District Attorneys Who Think Not Are Mistaken—Law Provides

There is some talk over the state by District Attorneys that the prohi law now in force makes it criminal for an agent of a sheriff or district attorney to buy liquor illegally and that he would be liable to prosecution if he bought.

As a matter of fact the authors of the law considered this proposition, and it is fully covered by Section 35, an amendment to the old law, setting out the matter completely. Judge Bagley, without prejudicing himself, on cases that may come before him, says the law does not stop the agents of peace officers from getting such evidences of sale as are covered by the above. The amendment incorporated into the law, and which is germane to this, is as follows:

"In any action or proceeding under this act, no person shall be excused from testifying concerning any offense committed by any court or before any grand jury or before any prosecuting officer on the ground that his testimony may incriminate him; but such testimony shall not be used against him in any prosecution for any crime or misdemeanor under the laws of this state; nor shall any person who has been compelled to testify under this section be thereafter prosecuted in any court in the State of Oregon, or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture, for or on account of any transaction, manner or thing concerning which he has thus been compelled to testify or to produce evidence, documentary or otherwise."
