The Victrola opens new worlds to your children

There is no finer influence in child-life than music in the home. The Victrola is the children's wonder instrument. It sings to them their own songs—the songs of childhood, made for children and loved by them eternally. And the Victrola tells stories to the little ones—all the famous bed-time tales of old days, and nowadays as well.

But the true greatness of the Victrola is here—it educates and uplifts while it entertains.

Come in and ask for our complete catalogue of children's records, and learn about our easiest of terms. Victrolas and Victrolas $10 to $400.

WOMAN SCALDS BOY

Mrs. Robert Alexander, of Dilley, was in jail over night Monday, on a charge of assaulting her step-son, Lewis Alexander, aged about 14. Mrs. Alexander was brought before Judge Smith Monday and bail was fixed at $1,000. On Tuesday, the husband came down and he and E. B. Sappington, county treasurer, executed a bond. Mrs. Alexander admitted that she threw the hot water on the lad and said she did it because he was incorrigible. The water was hot enough to cause the skin to come off in places, and the boy suffered considerably. The act was committed on Jan. 25. Judge Smith says that she admitted threatening to repeat the action, but insisted that she did not mean it, and also that she would not commit a like offense. The case will probably come before the grand jury.

There are few better traps than a court house seat. A Hillsboro newspaper man was leaning his foot on one of the seats, which was folded, Monday morning, and a little forward motion put his foot clear through the aperture. There was no releasing the pedal extremity until the shoe was removed. Rev. Smith, of the Baptist Church, and others present, submitted the newspaper reporter to considerable joshing on the efficiency of the "trap." As a result of the tie-up reporting was suspended on the Argus for about three minutes.
