ARGUS PUBLISHING CO.

Congress should get the conscription matter settled and get down to business. Here's hoping it will soon be passed.

If Col. Roosevelt wants a Legion for the battle front he should not be denied. He has 187,000 men ready, it is said, and ten millions back of it. Roosevelt says he wants no office, being satisfied with nothing, except going. Just as soon as subs can be passed let him and his men go. Until that time, however, it would be a matter of doubtful expediency.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Argus, published by Long & McKinney, will hereafter be published by Mrs. E. C. McKinney, L. A. Long and J. E. McNamara; Mr. Long holding editorial capacity. The new member of the firm is well known here, and is one of the best in the art preservative, having been employed in large job printing establishments and newspapers in Portland for the past ten years. The Argus thanks the public for its support in the past, and requests a continuance of same in the future.
