James Austin Williams, of Co. D, Third Oregon, was united in marriage to Miss Ruby McWilliams, of Portland, July 9, 1917. Judge Reasoner officiating. The young man and his bride returned to Portland that evening and he joins his company at Clackamas. This is the first war bride that Judge Reasoner has joined in wedlock—and the venerable Court wished them a happy journey. At that the witnesses to the ceremony rather felt that perhaps the youngster might not come back from the front and those things do not make an enthusiastic wedding.

Do you want a homestead? If so, can locate you on some fine ones in Central Oregon. In time these will be valuable. A few left of 160 acres each.—Wm. B. Deisman, Box 206, Hillsboro, Or. Phone, City 102. 13-1f

J. I. Knight and wife, of McMinnville, were Hillsboro visitors on the Fourth. Their son is still in the Polar regions, and does not expect to get down to civilization for some months yet. J. I. says that he was more than glad to get back to Hillsboro and revisit his friends of twenty years ago. Knight was Justice of the Peace here, and many curious incidents took place during his tenure of office, one of which was when a father tried to offset a son-in-law's note by the daughter who married the holder of the instrument.

Loring K. Adams, one of Portland's attorneys, was here Friday afternoon, greeting his friends of 20 years ago. He was a law partner of the late Mayor Barrett in the nineties.

Land for Sale—About 20 acres, clean, black loam soil, all clear but half acre oak grove; ground plowed deep and planted to oats, potatoes and beans. Between Oregon Electric and S. P. electric lines; good school, church, store, milk route and on rural mail route. On main county road, two hours drive to Portland. Will sell 10 or 20 acres. No buildings; some English walnut trees. Easy terms. Obtain the owner's name by writing Box 27, Reedville, Oregon. 15-7

Chris Gertsch, of Hillsdale, was a Hillsboro caller Saturday morning. He put in an indemnity claim for some cows that have been condemned as tubercular.

The back tax for Washington Co. on the O. & C. lands which revert to the government minus the $2.50 per acre amounts to over $13,000. The list has been sent back to Washington and Senator Chamberlain is looking out for legislation to remunerate the county. The tax runs back to 1913.

Wanted—Hogs of all kinds, sheep, beef, poultry of all kinds.—C. K. Rogers, Beaverton, Rt. 4, Box 20. Phone Beaverton 53, line 3. Will call at any place designated. 37-1f

F. J. Williams, of a mile northeast of Hillsboro, was severely injured on the Fourth. He was on the running board of an auto, and in some manner fell backward, injuring the base of the brain. For several days he was unable to move his head to the right or left, but at last reports was considerably improved.

For Sale or Trade for Beef Cattle—Some good Shropshire and Cotswold 2 year old ewes. Also some ewe lambs.—C. K. Rogers, Beaverton, Ore., near Hazeldale. 13-1f

Dan Ennes, of Roy, was down to the city Friday.

Thos. Sims, of Farmington, was in the county seat Saturday morning.

Thos. Macauley, of Portland, was out to Hillsboro, Friday, greeting friends.

Mrs. Gail Wells, of Portland, was the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Long, Saturday.

Geo. Madison, who is now located at Knappa, Ore., on the Columbia, was in town over the Fourth.

B. Leis, the Beaverton orchardist, was in the county seat Monday morning, enroute to Forest Grove, on business.

Dr. Clifford Walker, an Osteopath, of Forest Grove, was accidentally shot through the hand while handling a revolver, one day last week.

Henry Schneider, the Gaston International, was sentenced to 6 months in the county jail by the Portland federal judge, last week. Schneider refused to register.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ellis, of Kansas City, Mo., arrived here last week, and are guests of their nephew, J. D. Ellis, and family, of South Tualatin.

Fred Ennes, who is running a camp at Scappoose, is up for a vacation while the logging company builds a new bridge on their logging railway.

John McDonah, of Walla Walla, working with the O. W. R. & N. bridge crew, was here Sunday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. B. K. Long.

Geo. J. McHenry has sued Ethel C. McHenry for divorce. They were married at Ouray, Col., in 1903, and on June 5, 1916, the wife left for good. There are no children.

Edwin Bowman and wife, of Independence, returned home the last of the week after a Fourth of July visit with the Reasoners and Bowmans.

Jos. A. Zimmerman, of below Witch Hazel, on the River Road, was in the city Friday. J. A. is running the Hazeldale rock crusher, and is turning out the rock faster than the teams can get it moved.

Fred Emerson, formerly in the restaurant business here, was in town Saturday. His wife passed away last September. His son Wilbur is in the United States Navy, and is on the Marblehead, in Southern waters.

Judge Geo. R. Bagley will call no jury until November unless the jail becomes congested and there is urgent demand for jury trials. He wishes to give the farmers all possible chance to take care of their hay and harvest and early Fall work. There are now but two prisoners awaiting circuit court trials.

Miss Elsie Baldwin, of Fillmore Co., Neb., arrived the last of the week, and is visiting at the home of her uncle, Walter E. Taylor. This is her first trip to Oregon and she is very much impressed with the country. She reports a scant crop in her county in the plains country.

M. N. Bonham, of Midway, between Laurel and Scholls, was in town Saturday. He is clearing up some new land as a rest from his school labors. M. N. is on his 68th year, and isn't timid about his age. For the last seven years he has taught, and has not lost a day from illness. Doc Osler is scored against again.

Thos. Withycombe, of Portland, was here the first of the week attempting to stimulate dairymen to become members of the proposed Pacific National Dairy show, which holds in Portland in November. He says that Washington County has some prize winners in registered dairy stock, and he wants to see the county have a fine representation, as we sell more dairy product than any county in the state.

Adam Bell, now residing at Boring, was over Friday, greeting his Washington County friends. Adam recently was tipped over with a load of hay, the net result being two cracked ribs. The load completely covered Bell, and for a time he thought he was going to be smothered. He did a little "goopher work," however, and soon found the strands of a wire fence. His sons soon had him uncovered and he made hotfoot to a physician to let his "slats" mended. He was feeling a little sore over his experience while here, and moved on low all the time.

SUPT. BARNES HEADS HILLSBORO SCHOOLS

Is Fine Educator, and Held Head of Faculty for Nearly 14 Years

WAS BEST LIKED OF ALL OFFICIALS

Board of Directors Unanimous For His Election—Finally Consents

County School Superintendent B. W. Barnes has accepted the position of Superintendent of the Hillsboro schools, and will take charge at the beginning of the 1917-18 school year. Mr. Barnes first came to Hillsboro in 1900, and took the position of principal. He held the place for 13 1/2 years, when he was elected county school superintendent which office he has held since that date. He has so systematized the county school work that his archives today are of much value. He followed up the good work of H. A. Ball in that position, and today the school records are as complete as possible.

There has been a growing demand for the placing of Mr. Barnes at the head of the city schools, and after months of earnest solicitation he finally agreed to accept. He is an able educator and has the happy faculty of harmony in all branches of the school work. The board has always had more or less friction with the school, it being conceded that the superintendency is a trying affair. Mr. Barnes, however, has no trouble with his efforts at discipline, and he is a diplomat as well as an educator.

Mr. Barnes is thoroughly identified with Hillsboro, owning his home here. He will get into the harness in good spirit, and the question of a good school year is assured beyond doubt.

FRANK MYERS RE-APPOINTED

Frank S. Myers, Portland's postmaster for four years, will again receive the appointment, his name to go to the Senate this week for confirmation. F. S. Myers is well known in this county, having been a resident of Forest Grove for years. He was born in the college city, and is a son of the late W. H. H. Myers. He was appointed to the Portland office four years ago, and considering the help available, has made a splendid official. There was a great deal of complaint against him by the opposition clique, but the general public has found him a capable official, courteous and watchful at all times.

His Washington County friends are naturally pleased that his services for the past four years have earned re-appointment for him. Myers' only fault was that he took too great an interest in politics, and he was even charged with attempting to dictate the out state appointments. He appears to have made good to the extent that he exceeds himself, anyway, and perhaps much of the charge against him was unfounded.

Myers received his appointment four years ago through his hard work for the late Senator Lane. The Senators usually name the appointee for their home postmastership, and the Rose City office was Myers' reward.
