RED CROSS

At the Red Cross Auxiliary meeting Tuesday evening, Mr. Sam Well, representing the Liberty Bond Committee, of Hillsboro, gave in the sum of $22.75, this being a third of the surplus which has been divided between the Y. M. C. A., the Honor Guard Girls and the Red Cross. The $10 prize from the Fourth of July committee was also received.

To accommodate a larger number of people, the knitting day at headquarters has been changed to Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. R. M. Erwin and Mrs. Otto Briggs have organized a class of instruction, members of which will later take charge of the workroom, so that in the future a competent member will always have direction of the work. This has been found necessary, as all requirements must be carefully carried out or articles cles will be returned from Portland if not strictly up to standard. With voluntary work even though done with the best of intentions the importance of the Red Cross standards must not be lost sight of. First, in the buying the quality must be secured. Then the strenuous wear calls for certain ways of pressing and finishing, and last but not least, pain-racked bodies may suffer additional tortures from irritation by the careless finishing of a garment. Another very important fact to be remembered is that any person affected with a cold or skin disorder should refrain from working on garments until thoroughly cured, as large articles are not sterilized before use and infection may result.

The organizing committee, accompanied by the following members, C. E. Wells and wife, W. Mahon, Mesdames J. O. Robb, W. G. Hare, Adah Moore and Roy Heater, visited Roy Friday evening, where a meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robb. Messrs. Wells and Mahon spoke, and after music and refreshments a working committee was added to the Auxiliary. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Wm. Robb, chairman; Mrs. Wm. Chalmers, sec., and Mrs. John Parsons, treasurer.

On Sunday evening in the K. P. Hall, at North Plains, another working committee was organized after a very fine program had been given. Mrs. J. L. Groff, through whose efforts the success of the affair was assured, presided, and Drs. Erwin and Robb gave very spirited addresses. Rev. Shaw closed the meeting with prayer, and members of the North Plains Sunday School followed with the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Oath of Allegiance." Miss Lucy Croff sang "My Rose of Yester Eve;" Mrs. Groff read from Iaft's "What's Worth Giving Life For;" Martha Troutman and Anna Bunker sang; John Groff and Chas. Reynolds recited "The Mission of the Flag" and "Old Glory;" Herman Moore, cornet soloist, delighted all with his playing. Mrs. A. K. Reynolds gave the poem, "The Red Cross Spirit;" Mr. Groff sang "The Faded Coat of Blue," and the young ladies of the Sunday School finished the program with "Wake Up, America." Those who attended from Hillsboro and greatly enjoyed the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Erwin and son, Mott, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Robb, Rev. and Mrs. Shaw and son, Leslie; Mrs. Acheson, Mrs. Guyton and Miss Lake. Mrs. Groff was elected chairman; Mrs. Reynolds, sec., and Miss Gordon, treasurer.

E. L. Johnson and family are enjoying a vacation at Rockaway.

Born, to Abe Sipp and wife, Mountaineer, July 6, 1917, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hare left this morning for a few days' outing at the Tillamook beaches.

Wanted—A girl for general housework; family of five. Telephone City 374.

Clair Wilkes, of Corvallis, is visiting relatives here and attending the N. E. A. in Portland.

Henry C. Platt and Miss Minna Hoehne were married July 11, 1917, Rev. A. D. Shaw officiating.

Mrs. Bucholz, whose husband works at the condenser, was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. Smith, this week.

The Commercial Club will have an agricultural fair this Fall, and already have a man in the field looking early after exhibits.

Mrs. Beattie Pomranig and Miss Harriet Connell, Portland, were in town yesterday on business. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. Blackburn and daughter, Hazel.

Mrs. White, of Brownsville, is a guest of her sisters, Mrs. J. W. Gates and Mrs. Jas. Sewell, this week, while Prof. White is attending N. E. A. Mr. and Mrs. Sewell will return home with them and will also visit friends in Eugene.

Dr. R. M. Erwin and Dr. J. O. Robb will soon have a hospital, having purchased the Second & Oak corner property from Mrs. Henrietta Morgan for that purpose. The doctors contemplated the purchase of the Phillips property, on First St., but found the Morgan property better suited for a hospital.

About forty automobiles lined up Tuesday night for the Hillsboro Chautauqua Parade. W. G. Hare led the parade, followed by Miss Marjorie Wells on horseback, carrying a flag; then came other machines with the Band, the Honor Guard Girls, and citizens. After parading through the principal streets, they assembled at the courtyard, where the band played several selections, and Dr. R. M. Erwin and a Chautauqua representative made short addresses.

Celebrated Bachelors.

Handel, Reynolds, Turner, Sir Isaac Newton and Cavendish were among the men illustrious in art or science who remained bachelors.

Among authors we have Pope, Goldsmith, Lamb and Macaulay. The feeble health of "the wasp of Twickenham" stood no doubt in the way of his marrying. Goldsmith had not the same excuse, but in his case it was quite as well that he passed through life as a bachelor. A single man who habitually spends twice as much as he has is never likely to make a wise and prudent husband.

Lamb, "that frail, good man," as Wordsworth calls him, was a bachelor not from choice, but from affection. The singular loyalty with which he devoted himself to his sister in circumstances of melancholy interest prevented his marrying a girl whom, it appears, he truly loved. Lord Macaulay rested content with the loving sympathy of his sister, Hannah, the wife of Sir Charles Trevelyan, whose children were to him as his own.

Eye and Temper Savers.

"Those who do the needlework of any kind," says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion, "will find it advantageous to observe these rules closely:

"Do not sit too long at the task. If you wish to spend a day or a half day at it, keep at it steadily for fifty minutes and drop the work for the next ten minutes, occupying your time with something else through which the mind may be relaxed. At the end of ten minutes go back to the needlework, again applying yourself to it for fifty minutes, and so continue throughout the entire day.

"Always observe closely the rule regarding light direction. Sit with your back almost facing the light, with the latter coming over your left shoulder.

"When working with net or fine lace that are white or light colored wear a black apron that is without gloss, and never wear a dress or apron that has a figure or stripe of any sort in it. Use plain colors as a background for your work and use colors that are receding, like blue, dark brown or green."

A Pat of Butter.

One pat or serving of butter is a little thing. There are about sixty-four of them in a pound, says the department of agriculture.

In many households the butter left on the plates probably would equal one pat, or one-quarter of an ounce daily, scraped off into the refuse pail.

But if every one of our 20,000,000 households should waste one-quarter of an ounce of butter daily on the average it would mean 312,500 pounds a day—114,062,500 pounds a year.

To make this butter would take 285,261,500 gallons of milk, or the product of over half a million cows.

The United States department of agriculture, Washington, or your state agriculture college will tell you how to use every bit of butter in cookery.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Constituents of Soot.

Soot consists chiefly of carbon, tar and mineral matter, with smaller proportions of sulphur and nitrogenous compounds, and frequently has an acid reaction. The proportion of the various constituents varies greatly with different factors, such as the nature of the coal, the completeness of combustion and the distance from the fire at which the soot was deposited.

Fair Warning...

We have only a few more Clark Jewel Oil Stoves to sell at the old price. The next lot costs us 20 per cent more and we will be obliged to advance with the market. Nothing will give the housewife more comfort than a good oil stove. A cool kitchen helps a lot in fruit canning.

We have just in a factory shipment of Aluminum Ware. See the new H. A. P. Cooker with the patent cover. You can't burn the hands or spill the stew. They don't cost much more than a common stew pan.
