A DAY OF THRILLS

A Beaverton party, consisting of Elmer Stipe and wife, Raymond Hanson, J. E. Summers, Geo. Blasser, Frank Ericksen, H. P. J. B. and Miss Downing, went to the summit of Mt. Hood, last Sunday. They witnessed the accident of Guide Hans Fuhrer, when he rolled over the precipice with Miss Kruse, in his attempt to save her. Stipe was the first to bandage the Guide's wound. J. B. Downing remained with Fuhrer until help came. He secured the help of Forest Ranger Coleman by signalling him with a coat. Coleman slid three-quarters of a mile without hanging to the life-line, and he then put Fuhrer on a knapsack and sledged him four miles to camp. The Beaverton party say that Fuhrer's fall, Coleman's long slide, and the sledging of the wounded man the four miles to camp made up a day of thrills that will long be remembered.

Aside from the letting of the Rex-Tigard work this year it is not likely that the State Highway commission will do anything more on the Washington County state highways until 1918 rolls around. The county court has endeavored to get some intimation from the commission as to its intentions, but when they visited the sitting of the state highway officials they found men from every county in the state there for the same purpose. This will mean, then, if nothing can be determined this year, that the county court will be held up on road improvement on the state highway portions except that which must be done for absolutely safe travel.

REMINGTON UMC

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

A NOTED Pacific Coast sportsman who has hunted everything from snipe to black bear, said recently: "The wet-proofing feature now offered sportsmen in Remington UMC 'Arrow' and 'Nitro Club' Wetproof Shotshells, is the most important improvement made in the shotshell field in over a decade. The men who perfected the Wetproof system certainly know shotgun shooting and its requirements from field, duck blind and traps, as well as from the scientific angle."

Here is something that every man who lives in a wet climate or does his shooting in the stormy seasons ought to know about.

These are the first completely wetproof shotshells—a new and exclusive feature of the Remington UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Shotshells.

This is a process that took three years to perfect.

It involved a deeper study of wet-proofing materials than has ever been conducted outside of the Remington UMC laboratories.

It means special paper for the shells; a special formula for the wet-proofing; new equipment invented to apply the wet-proofing compound. Virtually a new type of shell—adding to the shooting qualities of "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" the hitherto unknown-quality of perfect resistance to wet.

It produces a shell that can be soaked in water for hours without swelling, and without softening the crimp—a shell that is as bone dry inside after soaking as before—a shell that works perfectly through the gun in all climates, and can be depended upon for sure fire, speed, pattern and penetration, wet days as well as dry.

A shell that you ought to know.
