ROOT COMMISSION IN LAND OF THE FREE

United States Ship Lands Aged Diplomat in Pacific Port Last Week

HILLSBORO BOY WAS ON THE TRIP

Clifford Long Home Saturday to Thursday on Shore Leave

The United States Cruiser arrived in a Pacific Port last week, direct from a Russian port, making the time of approximately two weeks. Elihu Root, at the head of the commission, is 72 years of age, and he was on deck every day of the trip.

Clifford Long, able seaman, was with the ship on its trip, and it conveyed the mission to Russia, arriving there early in June, leaving the North Pacific coast. He says that Elihu is as sprightly as the average man of 50, and he was very much interested in the vessel on which he was the chief passenger and representative of the United States.

Long arrived here Saturday morning to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Long.

He says that he was much impressed with his travels, and he thinks in time Russia will come back, and come back good and hard. He saw much in Japan that was interesting, and found much pro-American sentiment.

After spending the week at the camp of his parents on Dairy Creek, near Leveich Lake, Cliff departed this morning to join his ship, in order to connect with his seven days of transportation and furlough.

THREE TIMES QUOTA CALLED BY BOARD

August Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Named for Examinations

ONE HUNDRED FOURTEEN DRAWN

Thirty Eight Men Will be Drawn From This Published List

The examining board for the army made a call of 114 men for examination, making up the list Saturday in their order drawn, the first 38, No. 1 to 38 inclusive to be examined Aug. 9th; the next 38, No. 39 to 76 inclusive, on the 10th; and the remaining 38 will appear before the war board on August 11th.

If the required 38 are drawn inside the 114 names, exemptions thrown aside, then the selection for the first quota will be settled—otherwise more men will be cited to appear for examination.

This board can exempt for a physical disability, or because of people absolutely dependent on drafted man—and claim for such latter exemption must be made within 7 days after draft notification is mailed, and one has 10 days to submit proofs of such dependencies. The examinations will be held on dates indicated, in the Sheriff's office, the war board being Sheriff Applegate, Clerk Kuratli and Senator Wood, the latter making the medical examination. Any claim for exemption because of farming or vocational work must go to some other board. The draft list:

TAGGART ABROAD

Lawrence Taggart, who is on the Pittsburg, writes his parents as follows:

"We have been under way for the last month and have had no chance to write. We got our first mail from the states yesterday, June 30. We left the states May 7th. I would like to tell where I am, but there is no chance. We are about 8,000 miles apart. You will have to guess which way. My address is the same ship, care Postmaster, New York, Atlantic Station. I received the county papers and Journal. Don't be worried if you don't hear from me for a month or two, because we are cruising all the time. There are four different navies in this port. We have to pay for our clothes—shoes, $5, and blouse suits, $10. I have no idea when I will be able to get home. Not until the war is over, I suppose. Tell everybody hello for me."

SCHOOL REUNION

An interesting reunion was held at the McKay school house, District No. 18, July 21, by about fifty former patrons of the school. Dinner was served in a grove where tables had been arranged for the occasion.

A permanent organization was formed for the purpose of making the reunion an annual event. H. B. Nicholas, a pupil of 1864, and later a teacher in the district, was elected president, and C. M. McKay, secretary. The president appointed a committee to perfect arrangements for the next meeting, which will be held on Saturday immediately following the Oregon Pioneer Reunion, as follows: Allie Brown, Lettie McKay and B. K. Denny.

The meeting was very ably addressed by H. B. Nicholas, who reviewed the history of the school since the erection of the school building at the present location in 1864. Mr. Nicholas was followed by F. J. Denney, who was a pupil in the first school in the district after its organization in 1857. A. J. Fan no gave an interesting talk on every day events in connection with the school.

If you own a motor car or motor cycle it will be well for you to mind your speed these days. Ten miles is the limit while crossing a bridge, and 25 miles is your maximum on a regular highway. The new state law is a corker, and all over the state comes the word of law enforcement.

The Public Service Commission for Oregon will hold a hearing in this city, on Wednesday, Aug. 22, at the court house, to take up the matter of station facilities at the intersection of the Electric line and the Tillamook branch, at the west end of Main Street. The session will begin at ten o'clock.

Sam Johnson, of Shady Brook, came in the first of the week for a little treatment for "crimps," the result of too much crispiness in the air. Sam won't admit that this was the cause of his disturbance—but no doubt it was contracted on a fishing trip last Spring when the bait was not in the class of "90" proof.

The Nursery Company has started budding again, and is now hiring more boys, also men, at good wages. There will be steady work for two months or longer at this job for those who start now. If you want easy work and steady employment for some time better try and start work there this week. 21-3

August Tews and family returned from the Tillamook and Netarts beaches Sunday, after a month at that best of resorts. Herb Matteson, of Gaston, was in town Friday. A big buck elk, a four-pronger, rambled into his barnyard the other day, and was witnessed by several who were working close by. His elkship then went over to the Rodell Matteson farm and friend Rodell thinks he would have downed him had he been there just to get it of court record that he had killed big game. 19-21

TREATING SOLDIERS RIGHT

The following was published in a Wenatchee, Wash., paper: "Just a word should be said in passing about the way Wenatchee is treating the soldier boys who are her guardians, as well as, to a degree at least, her guests.

Every effort is being put forth to give both the Washington troops guarding the Columbia river bridge and other points on the Great Northern, and the Oregon troops who are on duty at other points in the valley as pleasant a stay as circumstances will permit.

Many little acts of thoughtfulness are being done. Conspicuous among the services rendered is that of H. N. May, of the Wenatchee Undertaking Company. Mr. May rescued the Oregon boys from the unsanitary camp on the old wagon lots on Wenatchee. He took them to the beautiful grounds at the home of the undertaking company, where the tents are pitched under big shade trees and on the grassy lawn. This service he has rendered without exacting a cent of pay, in fact he would resent a proffer of remuneration. Not only that, but Mr. May can be seen at all hours of the day and evening, taking some of the boys in khaki out in his car for a ride. This is a service many other thoughtful citizens contribute. Gifts are sent the boys every day. Many boxes of luscious cherries have been given the soldiers by individual citizens, and other good things to eat. One local man, a lawyer, sent the boys a box of cigars, not even permitting his name to be made known to them or any one else.

Wenatchee wants the Washington and Oregon boys to know that the town appreciates their faithful work and the good, clean character of their service here.
