THE ARMY MULE

Why was I shoved aboard that train,
Why was I brought to this land of rain,
Why didn't they wait till I was older;
Ma didn't raise me to be a soldier
I think this deal is pretty raw,
So I guess I bray—Ee haw! Ee haw!

They force a bit right into my mouth,
And lead me around from North to South—
These skimmers make me look like fury;
I wish I was back in old Missouri.
It may be all within the law,
But I protest—Ee haw! Ee haw.
But they say that over across the sea
I'll follow Old Glory to Belgium and France—
Up there in the gilded hall of fame
No person will ever inscribe my name,
But tho I'm food for the cannon's maw,
I'll do my bit—Ee haw! Ee haw!

A subscriber sends the above to the Argus. The army mule is one of the standbys that can't be overlooked. A soldier on the French front, under Pershing, writes that a shell struck a four-mule team pulling the battery to position. The gun was wrecked and every mule was skinned up but every one was able to be in harness the next morning. Here's to the Missouri mule!

John Marty, of near Cedar Mill, was an Argus caller Monday morning.

C. L. Brown, of Manning, was in town Monday, feeling good over the prospects of a new railway close to his property.

Carl Olsen, Sergeant in the army at Camp Lewis, was here over Sunday, coming on a special train that brought over 500 men to spend the week-end.

Clarence V. Bloyd enlisted last Friday as machinist in the Navy, and went to Vallejo that evening. Clarence is a first-class machinist and will make good. His shop will be open in Hillsboro, a mechanic having charge.

John R. Bailey, the pioneer of the Buxton country, was down to the city Friday, returning home from a Portland trip. John R. has a fine place in the hills, and if the new road goes—which it will—he will be in the center of civilization.

IRRITABLE NERVOUS

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeler, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Cardui. But I was not always this way. . . I think I have taken a dozen bottles . . . before my little girl came."

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy . . . I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Cardui about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Cardui at all . . . It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Cardui has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Cardui a fair trial. Your dealer sells Cardui. EB-10
