Jas. Robb, of Shefflin, was in the city Monday evening.

Frank Keenon, of above North Plains, was in the city Monday.

Ben Thurner and L. J. Holts, of Blooming, were city visitors Monday afternoon.

P. E. Rowell, of Scholls, was up Monday, talking over matters with the income man.

Virgil Weckert, the Sherwood deputy sheriff, was up Monday, on business before the Juvenile Court.

Gus Hieckthier and Cleve Owens of Cedar Mill, were up filing their affidavits before the war board the first of the week.

Henry Kauna, of Blooming, was a city visitor, Monday, and while here called on the income tax agent to see just where he stood with Uncle Sam.

Adam Hergert and son, Elbert, of Blooming, were city callers Saturday. They sent Fred, now up in Idaho, the religious weekly as a New Year's look-in.

One of E. L. Perkins' automobiles was stolen in Portland the other day, by some would-be joy rider. The car was found on the East Side, slightly damaged and brought home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gates, of Leesville, have a garden of raspberries in bloom—but they don't expect to get any results. Stranger (things have happened, however, in Oregon, where one never knows what turn the weather will take.

Scout Harrington Camp, Spanish War Veterans, have elected the following officers for the ensuing term: W. S. Acheson, commander; A. F. Doughty, senior vice; L. H. Shirley, junior vice; Hugh Rogers, officer of the day; Fred Boyd, Dillog, officer of the guard; Dr. L. M. Hyde, trustee for three years; J. C. Barron, Beaverton, trustee for one year.

People who are supposed to know say that R. O. Stevenson, of Giles Creek, has learned to knit, and that he is going to make some red sweaters for his pet deer, and put them on them during the open season. This is because Charlie White, a boy of 79 years, killed one of his pets last summer, mistaking it for a wild one. Bob is going to take time by the forelock.

Men were hunted here Monday for sawmill work, with no supply for the demand. With all camps and mills running, and with the thousands at work in the shipyards along the Columbia and in Portland, the labor shortage is going to be acute next year. The new draft will take all the way from 50 to 100 men from the county, and the farmers will have some sledding to get their crops out of the way in 1918.

When you are in town don't forget to see Schlegel, moved to No. 1254, Second Street, in regard to transforming your Ford into a one-ton truck. It will permit you to use your Ford for pleasure purposes as well as for hauling. Fifteen minutes work will transform your car back into a purely pleasure vehicle, with no signs that it has been used for commercial purposes. Don't forget that I can handle your trucking problem, no matter how large or how small.
