

NO ROAD MASTER FOR THE COUNTY

County Commissioners' Court May Handle Highways

PATROLS TO BE NAMED

All Supervisors Are Caring For Bad Places During Month

In all likelihood Washington County will have no road master this year, but, instead, the county will be divided into districts, three in number, one of which will be under a commissioner of the county judge. Patrolmen will be named here and there at the February session of the court so some one will be in immediate authority to take care of contingencies.

The Board has sought legal advice on the matter and it is said that there is nothing in the way of this mode of procedure. Some two or three years ago a roadmaster was appointed and he was not at all satisfactory. The court tried to appoint many sections, but here and there was complaint and so the road master died "a natural death."

There will of necessity be a great deal of permanent road work in all sections of the county the coming season, and the judges and Commissioners Rodell Mattison and Henry Hesse will have a great deal of traveling to do in taking care of these improvements, and it is considered a no-difficult thing at the same time that each one can look after a certain sector of the dirt roads, and see that they are improved.

Macadamizing will start earlier than usual in 1918, as every thing is in readiness for a big campaign. Quarries are opened and ready for the workmen; there are plenty of rock tools and two auto trucks are on the way, with another purchase of two in the balance—so when things settle down to a decent weather basis there will be plenty of road activity in the Tualatin Valley.

OLANIE WRITES

Henry Olanie, with the U. S. Marine Corps, has been cruising in South Atlantic waters. He is the son of Mrs. F. C. Francis, of Oak Park. He writes: "I am still a long ways from Hillsboro. South America is a pretty big country—but Oh, you U. S. A! We left San Diego May 7 and proceeded to Panama. From there we passed down the canal to Colon. It was a beautiful trip. From Colon we steamed to Bahia, Brazil; and from there to Rio de Janeiro. We paraded there July 4, the line being represented by the forces of Brazil, U. S., France and England. We received a fine welcome there with "Viva La North Americano, Hurrah!" We steamed from there to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where we also received a royal welcome. If I told you all I saw it would fill a good sized book, so I will cut it short."

The consor cut out about half of the letter, and one imagines that this was the most interesting part of it.

Anyone wanting a good work team should see the undersigned. Bay gelding, 1400; mare, 1225; both tractable, well built animals. Just right for a reliable farm team. Also set double work harness. Call on Mrs. A. Weisenback, Reedville, near Olinger's Store. 45-7

A. E. Murrow came up from Southern Oregon last Friday to appear before the war board. He returned to his work the last of the week.

Wanted—A team of 1300 lb horses; must be all right.—J. A. Hobbs, Cornelius, Ore., Route 1, Phone, Cornelius, East 3. 45-7

Ray Reasoner is planning to put in another 16 acres of mint on the Reasoner ranch beyond Oak Park, and he will plant as early as possible in hopes of getting a cut this year. The mint business is rapidly approaching proportions in the county, and promise to be the source of considerable husbandry in a few years. The Reasoner ranch already has 5 acres in crop, and the profit has been satisfactory. Last year the 1916 mint sold for $1.70 per pound, but the offer for the 1917 crop has long since reached the magnificent sum of $5.70 per pound. The great majority are still holding even under the possibility that the government may take it over as a necessity during war times.

Wanted: Hogs, shoats, sheep, beef, etc. We buy in Washington county and pay telephone charges of prospective sellers if they mean business. Will call in response to telephones or letters. Address C. K. Rogers, Portland, R. 1, Box 392, or telephone Woodlawn 5358. Will also do general hauling and long distance moving. 35tf

Mrs. Chas. F. True passed away last Sunday, after a long illness in the hospital. She was a splendid woman and was one of the early settlers in the Middleton country. She was married to Mr. True in 1871. The husband and one son, Wm., of Tillamook, and a daughter, Mrs. Chas. Shattuck, survive her. She was aged 71 years. Her best epitaph is the love of the community in which she lived so many years. She was a pioneer of 1863, and was a native of Iowa. She crossed the Divide with the family of an uncle and settlement was made in Yamhill County, where the husband first met her.

The county court has finished putting in the railroad signs all over Washington County, outside of those cities which have taken over the roads as streets as a charter provision, and the signs numbered 250. This means that in the neighborhood of 300 feet on each side of a railway crossing there is a circular sign, several feet high, with the letters "R. R." on it. This means 125 crossings. Cornelius, Tualatin and Orengo, although incorporated, did not take over the streets, so the county furnished their signs. L. Melquist and Henry Erickson put up the danger signs.

Wanted—Beef, pork, mutton, veal, etc., and will pay the highest market price for same. Will call any place.—T. A. Miller, Beaverton, Route 4; telephone, Beaverton 3, on line 3. 2

When you are in town don't forget to see Selgegel, moved to No. 1254, Second Street, in regard to transforming your Ford into a one-ton truck. It will permit you to use your Ford for pleasure purposes as well as for hauling. Fifteen minutes work will transform your car back into a purely pleasure vehicle, with no signs that it has been used for commercial purposes. Don't forget that I can handle your trucking problem, no matter how large or how small. 43-1f

POMONA HAS SESSION WITH INNOVATIONS

Interesting Session Held at Sherwood, Jan. 23

SOME OF GRANGE HISTORY

R. G. Scott Sends Interesting Article on P. of H.

"Washington County Pomona Grange met at Sherwood for an all-day session Jan. 23, with an attendance of about 175. During the forenoon the usual reports from the County Granges were read, showing a healthy condition. The fact was brought out that out of thirteen Granges in the county, seven own their hails, while one Grange (Kinton) owns land on which to build, and Sherwood Grange has a landlord who rents them a hall for less than they could afford to build. Among the Granges, Sherwood has the largest membership, with 150, this being attributed to the fact that Sherwood Grange owns a co-operative store.

The delegation from Scholls was strong. They boast a Juvenile Grange at Scholls, which meets in a separate building of its own, and which has a large attendance. At the installation of officers, the Juveniles were installed jointly with their seniors.

Kinton Grange, although organized but a year ago, has a splendid membership and a pushing spirit. They own an acre of ground which was given them by Mr. Jay Bowdman in return for grubbing an adjoining acre. The Kinton folks grubbed the acre in five hours, and the story is that there were so many Grangers there, that they simply crowded the stumps off. In the near future they expect to build on this acre.

Among the visitors, Bro. Stevens and Sister Fletcher, from Marion County, spoke of the Grange work there, and complimented Washington County on its splendid spirit and "pep." Brother Sellwood, from Milwaukie, spoke reminiscences of the early days of the Grange in Oregon, when Pomona for the three counties of Washington, Clackamas and Multnomah was held jointly.

After a good old fashioned Grange dinner, an address was made by N. C. Jamison, County Agricultural Agent, describing the work being done by him, along the lines of dairy feeding, rodent control, Canada thistle control, and fertilizer demonstrations. There were some interesting discussions of the problems of marketing, and of labor. A resolution was adopted objecting to any affiliation between the Grange and Union labor. Another resolution set forth the needs of better marketing facilities, and set a date for a meeting of elected delegates from the three counties of Washington, Multnomah and Clackamas, to see what could be done in this line. Also a strong resolution in support of the O. A. C. was passed.

In the evening, after a real Grange supper, there was an hour of entertainment, in the form of recitations, quartet singing, violin solos, and song solos, followed by an initiation into the Fifth Degree. There were thirty-nine candidates admitted.

It is such meetings as this, full of good-fellowship and social enjoyment, combined with the resolve to improve the conditions under which we live and labor, which show the value of the Grange to the farmers of Oregon.

The next Pomona Grange will be held at Hillsboro on the fourth Wednesday in April.

A move is being started to have Congress pass legislation allowing rural mail carriers an appropriation for upkeep of their conveyances. Just what amount will be incorporated into the measure is not yet determined, but the universal wish seems to be that it be fixed at from $500 upward. The fact that so many have to travel over mountain roads, which are severe on vehicles and animals, has given the matter a great deal of favorable consideration. Take it out of Washington County offices, for instance, and where there are no mountain roads, there is generally a sea of mud in the lowlands. The pay of carriers is now limited and when one considers the deterioration of buggies and of stock it would only seem fair that some compensation should be allowed.

For Sale—Twenty-five tons of A. No. 1 loose clover hay.—Ben Heineck, 3 miles west of Laurel. Telephone, Scholls 55 on Line 13. 44-6

Save your cancelled stamps and help buy milk for the Belgian babes. Take them to M. B. Bump's office, or notify Miss Peterson, at 1854 Fir St. The stamps are collected and sent to the Queen of Belgium, through a sea captain, who carries them free of charge. The Belgian Consul at New York guarantees their arrival, and says they are sold as wall papers, or curios, and some have the dyes extracted. The fund from the sales, while small, all helps care for the little Belgian infants, or the hospital work at the front. All stamps, even on printed envelopes, are acceptable—color making no difference.

For Sale—Registered Holstein bull, coming 3 years, from Bendler herd.—Address W. H. Bagley, Forest Grove, R. 2, or Telephone, Hillsboro A155. 45-7

J. H. Wilson, auditor, has sent in a report showing all officers' books and accounts are in fine shape, and all moneys properly turned over. He reports the sheriff as collecting taxes in the sum of $555,290.43, and fees, $432.40, for the year 1917; and the clerk of the county, $7,484.20; recorder, $4,596.10; treasurer, he states, has a balance of $129,423.27 cash on hand and in banks. His report is a splendid eulogy on the conduct of the affairs at the court house.

Judge T. A. McBride, well known here, pronounced the eulogy at the tier of the late Senator Fulton, in Portland, Tuesday. The address was touching in the extreme, and was the outburst of a friendship that had endured for over 40 years.

Dr. F. J. Bailey, chairman of the Public Service Reserve, states that an enrollment of shipyard workers will soon be made in the county and the enrolling agencies will soon be announced. This enrollment is purely voluntary, and means that the signer will be willing to give up his present position and go where the Department of Labor needs him most for successful war work aid.

A South Tualatin man reported wild strawberries blooming last week along the road between there and town—and the next day it turned colder.

Chairman Applegate, of the local war board, reports about 700 in Class 1, out of the more than 1300 registration. Some of these yet have to run the gauntlet of the district board. The big rush is over and orders for physical examination will soon be issued.

JUNIOR RED CROSS TO BE ORGANIZED

Schools Will be Asked to Forward Movement

MIDDLETON WANTS FIRST

Mrs. Josephine Case to Act as the Chairman

The American Red Cross, which has received recognition from Congress as the one official organization in time of war to bring aid to the soldier and sailor, sick and wounded, and to the disabled prisoners, feels itself justified in asking for a Red Cross hour of loyal activity in the schools. Moreover, the Red Cross, with its symbol and its past, makes an unexampled appeal to the imagination of the American boy or girl. Its call is one to which every heart responds. Through its organization under its flag, second only to the "Star Spangled Banner," in the love of the American people, the patriotic and altruistic impulses of school children can be developed into acts of practical patriotism.

The Junior Red Cross will give opportunities to every pupil in the United States to be of service in their community. It will teach how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack, and also it will teach how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live.

There has been some interest aroused by the occasional reports of Junior Red Cross activities and a number of queries have been received, nothing definite could be announced until the plan of organization had been agreed upon, and the chairman appointed for Hillsboro and that part of Washington county which is affiliated with the Hillsboro Branch. Mrs. Josephine Case, 924 Sixth St., will have charge, assisted by a committee who will endeavor not only to have the school districts organized, but to arouse the enthusiasm of the teacher to the splendid possibilities of work and the ultimate coordination of all Red Cross activities in East Washington County.

Chairmen of all auxiliaries will be able to render valuable assistance in encouraging the teachers to begin at once, by attending their meetings and finding out how the work is done. It may be well to state that only the simplest kind of work is to be taken up at first, such as knitted wash cloths, or shippings for ambulance pillows. Of course, should there be advanced pupils desirous of doing more ambitious work, they can make the refugee clothing for French and Belgian children. This will all come later with the growth of interest—just now all efforts should be directed towards organizing the schools.

In a letter received from Mrs. Mary C. Dow, teacher in Middleton School District No. 22, this county, instructions are asked for as the school is ambitious to be the first 100 per cent in Washington county, and the funds are ready. This is a most gratifying start, and if others follow such a good lead, much may soon be accomplished.

Wyono-shot Auxiliary—On Thursday last another auxiliary was added to Hillsboro Branch. The title may not be indicative of the location, only to the old timers who remember the Indian encampment of that name which used to be on the Griffin section, northeast of town. The organization was effected at the home of Mr. Jos. Cousins, when a large attendance showed that women who are interested will not let rain or mud deter them from good work. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Jos. Cousins; Treas., Mrs. John Reilly; Sec., Mrs. George Matthews.

Coffee Club Meeting

The Coffee Club will meet next Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Kuratli, at 2:30. After the business session, Mrs. A. D. Shaw will give a short talk on the Belgian Relief Work, and this will be followed by an address and demonstration on Fats and Substitutes, by Miss Edna Mills, of O. A. C. All ladies of the town interested are cordially invited to attend. The members are requested to be there promptly at 2:30.

JACOB FLESHMAN

Jacob Fleshman, formerly in the grocery business, passed away Sunday morning, at his home on Main and Fourth. He was aged 40 years, and leaves a widow and two children. After services at 2:30, Tuesday, the remains were shipped to Centradia, Wash., by Undertaker Donelson.

Wanted—Will pay cash for one or two good four to six gallon milk cans. Call Farmer 36R4, Hillsboro central. 46-8

The Y. W. C. A. drive for Hillsboro and vicinity is now on, under the direction of Miss Ellanore Ewing, teacher in Hillsboro High. Hillsboro and vicinity will raise $500 to help raise Oregon's quota. Forest Grove is to raise $400. The Y. W. C. A. has quarters at the training camps for the use of soldiers' wives or relatives, visiting them and also has huts in France, where nurses may rendezvous, and relatives visit soldiers at the front. The Hillsboro committee is Mrs. O. B. Gates, Mrs. T. H. Tongue and Mrs. J. W. Bailey, the latter being treasurer. The organization has fifty Hostess Houses in the U. S. training camps and also has several bases established in France. It is a worthy work and should receive public support. It is to be a cash campaign.

H. S. States has sued Geo. Lingenfelter for a team, wagon and harness, and asks for $350 in case the outfit cannot be turned over to him. Suit is in circuit court.

Col. and Mrs. D. T. Smith and daughter, Isabel, of Toronto, Canada, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mahon, the hostess being a sister of Mrs. Smith. They came to Oregon via Los Angeles and San Francisco, and while at the Golden Gate went to the Presidio and met Jas. Mahon, with the Coast Artillery. Col. Smith says he found the youngest boy on his day of liberty. Col. Smith and family may decide to locate in Oregon. The Col. says there is but one ending to the war and he thinks that with the present cohesion between the United States and the allies there can be no possible chance of German victory.

Marriage license was granted to Wilbur A. Dillon and Miss Theresa Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hendricks, of Cornelius, last week.

Good-bye little raspberry and strawberry blossom. We'll see you in the sweet bye-and-bye. The breezes from the breath of old Boreas arrived yesterday and last night was a stinger. Ice froze to the depth of an inch in shallow places, and about two or three nights of this, with a north or east wind prevailing, and we'll all be skating down on the lake.

Owners of gasoline engines which are water cooled should take time by the forelock these snappy days and turn the water out of the jackets. A little protection might save a bursted jacket. This is also a timely hint to auto owners—turn the water out of the radiator.

A. W. Walker, of South Tualatin, was in town Tuesday, and is anxiously waiting to hear from that son over in France.

Come and hear the Evangelist, Rev. N. Welter, at the Free Methodist Church, corner Fifth and Oak Streets. Services every evening at 7:30. Come and hear the plain gospel preached. These meetings will be continued indefinitely. All are invited to attend.—J. N. Wood, Pastor.
