Supt. Frost, of the county schools, certainly has some task on his hands in handling the W. S. S. drive—and he needs all the help he can get. Give it to him.

The long-looked-for German drive on the Western front did materialize. Just why this was advertised remains yet unknown to the outsider. But it is pretty certain that there is a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere. The Allies, however, are watching every move.

A valley newspaper thinks West could not run well in Oregon because Mr. Smith was defeated. "Mebbe so—mebbe so." But Br'er West has always run pretty "tollable" strong, and he was so busy putting skids under Booth that he might have lost sight of Mr. Smith.

It is a pretty good sign when one man can circulate a petition asking a man to accept a place on a ticket and he gets every man he meets on the paper. Mr. Hare, who has been in the legislature, should feel gratified to know that his efforts are appreciated. The list was circulated without his knowledge, and this makes it the more gratifying.

Uncle Sam may yet have to adopt the Swiss system of military training. Switzerland, which is a country of but a few millions, has many men trained to military needs, and she has maintained her independence as a republic only because she had this training and was a republic. Had the little country been a kingdom, or ruled by an emperor, there would today be no Switzerland. Her one great fear at this time is that Germany, in order to break through to new lines, may violate her neutrality.
