PROMINENT CITIZEN DROPS DEAD FRIDAY

Fred Meyers, of Chehalem Mountain, Expires in Field, Alone

THE SON DISCOVERS BODY

Had Lived in That Section for Thirty-five Years

Frederick Meyers, well known on the Chehalem Mountain, near Laurel, died suddenly while at work in his field, shortly before noon, last Friday, March 15. Mr. Meyers was working in his field, and when dinner time arrived did not come in. The family ate dinner, thinking he might have been late as a result of his watch stopping. A son, William, who was home from Yamhill County, after finishing his meal, remarked that he felt something might have happened, and said he would go to the field and look up his father. He did so and found the father in a sitting posture. He probably had been dead over an hour.

Coroner Limber made an investigation but held no inquest, it being plain that heart failure was the cause of demise.

Mr. Meyers was born near Bremen, Germany, November 28, 1842, and came to America with his parents in 1859, settling first in Ohio. He enlisted in an Ohio regiment when the Civil War broke. Returning from the war he was married to Miss Louise Ruckerman, at Cincinnati. They lived in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, successively, and then came to Oregon in 1883, settling near Laurel. At death he owned 90 acres of a fertile farm. His widow and the following children survive, four children having passed away:

William Meyers, Frank Meyers, Mrs. G. W. Whitmore, Laurel; Mrs. Willis Challacombe, Cosmopolis, Wash.; Louis Meyers, Laurel; Jesse Meyers, Buxton; Mrs. J. L. Neubert, Cosmopolis, Wash., and Mrs. William Walker, of Laurel, Route 1.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the Laurel Baptist Church, and interment was in the cemetery there.

Mr. Meyers was a fine type of citizenship, and a kind and loving husband and father.

Mrs. W. B. Bolton, of Witch Hazel, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. R. E. Smith, of Portland, was in Hillsboro, Saturday.

LOBSTER A LA HILLSBORO

Phoenix Lodge No. 34, of this city, held one of the finest sessions of years in their hall, Monday evening. One hundred Knights from the body of the county were in attendance, and there were four candidates in the Knight's Rank. Gaston, Forest Grove, North Plains, Cornelius and Hillsboro were represented.

Three local men were inducted into the final mysteries of the order—C. A. Hande, J. H. Garrett and W. T. DuBois. F. H. Clark, of North Plains, was the fourth.

As a finale, the century of K. P. were seated to a crab dinner at midnight, and there were "lobsters" for all. Arthur Knox, of Gaston, ate so much he almost missed his train to Spokane, and Hon. Ben P. Cornelius and J. J. Meacham, veterans of the order for many years, were allowed to come out—their wives withdrawing all objections—and the way they "fell to" the sea-fruit was something of a revelation. It was two o'clock before the lights were out and taps sounded.

C. E. Wells, of the Hillsboro Telephone Co., and Attorney W. G. Hare forgot to Hooverize, and the former, who is at the head of the Food Administration, won the championship at the table.

Herman Boge, of Farmington, was a city caller Monday.

Ralph Withycombe, of South Tualatin, was in the city Saturday.

A. P. Wilkes, of near Scholls, came up Monday, on business at the court house.

Jud McGahey, the logger, is home for a visit. He has just recovered from a broken ankle, and will be unable to work yet for several weeks.

Emil Menke, of Huber, was in town Monday. Emil says that the people down his way are anxious to have the state commission busy on the state highway.

Auto Truck, long distance hauling;new Master 2-ton truck; also cattle hauling. Charges reasonable. Careful service.—Frank Barr, Hillsboro, Ore. Phone, 2031Y. 1-4

Fred Ennis, of Banks, was in the city Tuesday. Fred is sidestepping the logging this year, and doing the agricultural act—and he says it beats the timber hustling away yonder.

For Rent—Twenty-acre farm; all under cultivation; cheap for cash; good 4-room house and a small barn. North of the West Union church.—Inquire of J. J. Whitten, 1922 Oak St., Hillsboro, Ore. 52-2

Julius Christensen, of near Laurel, was in town Monday.

Chas. Pierson,of near Kinton, was a Hillsboro caller Saturday.

J. H. Wescott, of Gaston, was down to the city Tuesday morning.

Frank Lichty and wife, of near Cedar Mill, were city callers the last of the week.

Fred B. Clark, of Farmington, was up to the county seat the last of the week, getting ready for the Spring drive on Father Agriculture.

Attention, Farmers! This is time of year to feed Dr. Hess' Stock and Poultry Tonic. It pays big on your investment. Get it at Hillsboro Pharmacy. 51-02

T. E. Cornelius, of Gales Creek, was in the city Monday. Tom is making many improvements on the Miller place, which he purchased last year.

Wanted—Hogs, sheep, beef, etc. Will call in response to telephone or letter.—Address, C. K. Rogers, Portland, Ore., R. 1, Box 392; Telephone, Woodlawn 5353. Also do general hauling and long distance moving. 52-3

C. E. Mills, of Timber, writes that the Portland Auto Stage Co. will start a stage line from Mist, Columbia County, June 1, and run into Portland, via Timber, Forest Grove and Hillsboro. The auto will make the round trip daily.

For sale: Span mares, 5 years, 1350 each; sound and true, bay and black; also Stover 10 H. P. gas engine, good as new.—Geo. Biersdorf, Cornelius, Ore., R. 1. Telephone 39R25, Hillsboro central. Five miles northwest of Hillsboro, and half mile from Shefflin station, P. R. & N. 52-2

Mrs. Bissner and daughter, Mrs. Emma Christofferson, of South Tualatin, were in the city Monday, on business at the court house. Harry Bissner, son and brother, is now at Dayton, Ohio, in the aviation corps of the U. S. army, taking his finals.

For Sale—Ranch of 55 acres; 49 acres cleared; balance wood lot of fir and ash swale. Running water; on milk and mail routes; rock road; practically all seeded except few acres left for garden, kale, potatoes, etc. Address, sealed envelope—V, care Argus. 52-2

Arthur Knox, of Gaston, was in the city Monday night, attending the Pythian conclave. He left Tuesday morning for Spokane, where he attended a stock sale, Wednesday. Arthur says that the Hillsboro boys put up a fine crab supper, and he wants to come again.
