

SOME EIGHTH GRADE ANSWERS TO QUERIES

A Few Interesting Observations Written by County Pupils

COVER A WIDE RANGE

Something That Would Make an Habitual Grouch Smile

Drawing the "long bow" lends to the mirth of the world, but occasionally in the archives of the county there are things that will make the habitual grouch smile and cure the worst case of dyspepsia that was ever inducted into the stomach of the genus homo. Some of the answers to questions in the recent Eighth Grade county examinations would make a long-faced newspaper man forget his troubles and envy, start his digestion, and even take his mind off more acute tribulations. To make a long story short here are some of the queries and answers handled by the recent examining board at the county examination:

- Question—Write a complex sentence.
- Answer—"When the roll is called up yonder 'll be there."
- Q.—Name the allies of Germany.
- A.—"Austria, Turkey and all the foot countries of the world."
- Q.—Give an illustration of an adverbial phrase.
- A.—"Give the Kaiser a black eye for me."
- Q.—What is an alien?
- A.—"An alien is a man from another country and has no civilization papers."
- Q.—Name ten chief towns in Oregon.
- A.—"Dilley is one of ten chief towns in Oregon."
- Q.—How should one care for the ears?
- A.—"We should not let any insect get in the ears. It might gnaw a hole in the ear-drum and then one could not hear any more."
- Q.—Define an "alien enemy."
- A.—"An alien enemy is a foreigner that sticks up for his fatherland, the way some of the dam old Germans do."

The above are actual answers to questions submitted, and while ridiculous in many ways, are indicative of the current trend of juvenile thought.

RED CROSS

From now on until further notice headquarters will only be open for work Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. This will enable the faithful workers to have a rest from sewing and attending to gardens and households, which require extra attention these days.

The requirements and specifications have not been issued, but the aftermath of opinion from the Seattle conference is that when materials on hand in various chapters, branches and auxiliaries have been made up, Refugee clothing will claim attention. As it is now no more materials are to be purchased until instructions have been issued and these are absolutely dependent upon conditions in France.

We must obey them, we must do the work we are asked to do, and stop doing it when we are asked to stop.

The Northwestern Division, of which Hillsboro Branch and its auxiliaries are a part, have used 700,000 yards of material, making 350,000 garments; 800,000 yards of gauze, making 3,500,000 dressings; 150,000 lbs. of yarn, making 80,000 sweaters and 40,000 socks.

The Junior Red Cross is no longer an experiment—it is a success, and as the Northwest is the land of universal education, the flag and the Red Cross have followed the school.

The new chairman of the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. B. M. Blumauer, has notified the various representatives of the work that at the Seattle Conference it was thought unwise to give out any program for Summer Junior Red Cross work, but it is hoped that every boy and girl will continue to give patriotic service to his country, perhaps in war gardening, food production, food conservation, selling Thrift Stamps, or, perhaps, doing some work required by Red Cross Auxiliaries in neighborhoods. Mrs. Blumauer plans for a conference early in the Fall, when with new hope and inspiration, it may be possible to extend this work to the farthest end of each county.

As all reports from the schools are not in, complete results of the work cannot be given, but donations of money received are 67c from Shute school; $1.00 from Johnson school; $2.00 from Arcade school, given in by Miss Gladys Cornelius, on behalf of the Junior work, being proceeds from an entertainment given by the children.

Eighteen pupils of the Rock Creek school have a "Kan the Kaiser" club and sent in $25.50 by Miss Tilda Grossen.

The Misses Dunaer's Red Cross dog, "Gyp," has been catching gophers and moles to the extent of $3.15; Mrs. J. M. Elder, $1.00 for the local fund. Mr. Ruslow leaves a Daily Journal at headquarters as his donation.

For Sale—Farm of 121 acres at Dershaa Station, practically all cleared and in cultivation, habitable house; good barn; running water; near United depot; on rural mail and milk routes; Telephone Farmer 774, North Plains, 12-14
