PRETTY WORK OVER SKINNING SOLDIER

Furniture and Hardware Co., of Portland, Refunded $13.50

FORCED TO GIVE CASH

E. Wenstrom, of Scholls, Takes Matters up and Makes Good

A few weeks ago one Henry Christopher married—and came home that night to find that he was in the selective draft. Henry had bought some household goods of D. Nemerovsky Furniture & Hardware Co., of Portland, amounting to $33.50. The goods were never packed or moved from the store, and, of course, Henry, being then and there to all intents and purposes a Nemesis of the Kaiser, had no use for the purchase. So he went back to Portland and explained the situation to the firm. Nothing doing on a refund of the cash—but after much stowing around Christopher was offered $20 of a refund. Henry took it because he could do no better. He returned to Scholls and told E. Wenstrom of his treatment, and on the day that Christopher went into the entrapment Wenstrom went to Portland and put the matter up to the Portland military authorities. It worked. The firm has coughed up, and this is the evidence of their shelling out the cash:

The Letter
E. Wenstrom, Laurel, Ore.
We are holding in our office a check for $13.50, payable to Henry Christopher, being a refund from the D. Nemerovsky Furniture & Hardware Co., of this city. We are holding this here for such disposition as you advise.

C. R. PECK,
1st Lieut. 63rd Inf.,
Portland, Ore.

And thus another "skinner" was made to come thro' with the ill-gotten gains.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross will finish all garments now under way and ship, and at that present demands will have been supplied. All branches and auxiliaries will hold themselves in readiness to take up any new line of work which is expected to be announced any day. As the army call for physicians and nurses is so great lessons in "aid" will probably be taken up for home work—"First Aid in Elemental Hygiene," and "Home Care of Sick and Dietetics." Nursing, etc., and it is hoped that all will work to make this a success. The classes will be instructed by physicians and a Red Cross nurse. First Aid classes must have 15, and the cost is but $2.30 for the class list. The Hygiene class costs a total of $4 to establish, and the Dietetics class, $5.75.

McKay Creek Branch, the 20th to be enrolled, has for its officers Mrs. Chris Peterson, Chairman, and Miss Dell Young, Secretary. The West Side Ladies' Club have given in $18.30, the proceeds of a local sale.

M. N. Lewis, of the Lewis Marble Works, has turned in $35 from the sale of the monument donated to the Red Cross.

HOUSE FIRE

The residence of Mrs. L. A. Rood caught fire last night about 10 o'clock, presumably from spontaneous combustion. The department arrived within three minutes after the alarm and found the kitchen enveloped in flames. Water was on in short order and although the roof of the main structure was ablaze the fire was soon under control. The damage will be in the neighborhood of $400 or $500, fully covered by insurance. Mr. Briggs first noticed the blaze and alarmed the neighborhood along First and Baseline. The presumption is that some oiled agency caused ignition, as there could have been no other cause. The house was practically emptied of its contents. The entire kitchen interior will have to be re-walled, and the main building will require more or less of a new roof. All the building will have to be repainted and papered inside.

MORE REGISTER

Four more men attaining 21 years registered with the war board since the 5th, the cards coming in from outside—Clifton B. Hardin, of Gaston; Oscar Nitschmann, Palmer, Ore.; Geo. Livengood, Beaverton, and Julius Richter, at Astoria.

Mr. Hayes, of Portland, will on Tuesday evening, June 18, give a lecture on the destruction of churches in Northern France, illustrated by stereopticon views. A literary program is prepared for the fore part of the evening, beginning at 8:30, at Johnson school house. A free-will offering will be taken for benefit of South Tualatin Red Cross Aux. The public is cordially invited.

Class One, registered men, outside of the registration of June 5, yet for service, limited or army full-service, numbers 173. This is sub-divided as follows: Limited service, 55; remediable group, 5; emergency fleet, 78; delinquent, 17, inducted and called for service, 205. This capitulation means that after our 67 called for June 24 entrainment are sent we shall still have 115 men left subject to call and on top of this the 137 registries of June 5.

John Pomeroy, of Portland, sues his wife, Theresa, who lives here, for divorce. They were married in 1916, and have an infant daughter. The husband alleges the wife deserted him in the latter part of 1917, and came to Hillsboro to reside with her mother, taking the child with her. He also says that she unjustly caused his indictment for non-support, on two different occasions. He says he has always provided for the wife and child, and he now asks the Court to give him the care and custody of the child as well as a decree of separation.

Portland's Civil Service is wanting men to take examination for the police force, and so acute is the necessity they are sending out notices to the country press asking men for the outside to apply. Police officers are paid $100 monthly on appointment; $10 increase after the first six months; $5 more at the end of the second six months; and $10 additional at the end of the second year, and at the rate of $125 per month salary thereafter. Applicants must be between 25 and 48 years of age. If you should happen to be interested write O. C. Bortz-meyer, Secretary, Civil Service Board, Portland.

At a joint meeting of the Hillsboro Club and Red Cross at the Club rooms it was decided to have a patriotic celebration here July 4, and the day will be turned over to the Red Cross, the organization to have charge of the concessions and program, and at this time they will doubtless have their big Red Cross sale.

The occupations deemed non-productive are waiters, either in dispensing food or drink or refreshments; elevator operators, doormen, footmen, clerks in stores, porters around hotels, salesmen, workers around office buildings, games, sports, and many other like lines.
