

Ed. Meeuwass, of Banks, was a city caller the last of the week.

Percy Weik came over from Ferndale, Wash., the last of the week.

Herman Rannow, of the Farmington river road, was in the city Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koehn, of Oreono, were in the city the last of the week.

Earl Luther and wife motored down from Salem Sunday and visited home folks.

Ralph Withycombe, of South Tualatin, was a county seat visitor the last of the week.

Fred Bishop, of Oreono, now with the Helvetia rock crusher, was in the city Saturday.

Nick Kemmer, of Cooper Mountain, was greeting friends in the county seat Friday morning.

Carl Asbahr, farming the home place over in South Tualatin, was a city visitor Friday afternoon.

Sol Keffer, one of the old timers of the Glencoe country, was out from Portland the last of the week.

H. D. Kerkman, of Kerkman Bros., owners of the Behrman tract in the H. Harrington section, Shelton, was in the city Monday.

Wanted—Blackberries, string beans, and other fruits and vegetables in season. Cash on delivery, if desired.—Hillsboro Canning Co. 23-6

Alfred Pierson, who is getting out rock and macadamizing Helvetia roads with the best stone to be found in the county, was in the city the last of the week.

Lost—Twenty War Savings Stamps, worth $100, bought August 13th at the Hillsboro National Bank. Lost on street in Hillsboro. Leave at Argus Office.—Henry Harris. 23-5

Landlord McQuillan, of the Tualatin, says that it is a strange thing, this traveling proposition. He states that of the many pilgrimages made to California by Washington County residents not one, returning, can tell what kind of water they have down in the Sacramento valley.

J. E. Keffer, of West Union, was in town the last of the week. His son, Walter, well known to the younger generation, is at present with a submarine chaser. His chaser was shelled and sunk a few days ago, but the boys got ashore safely. They made the U-boat jump some at that. This was probably the first submarine chaser that has met disaster.

David Kurath, whose wife has been visiting here several days, spent last week in the city, the guest of relatives. Dave is at present with the Tillamook County Bank, and is associated with Mark Harrison, one of Washington county's former residents, years ago, who resided near Mountaineale. Dave says there is lots of business over in the port city.

Jas. Mahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mahon, is probably now on his way to France. He had orders to report at a port of embarkation a week ago Monday. He now ranks as a master gunner, and his office is the one that does the calculus on firing. He was very anxious to get across and has been chafing because he has been held here—but training is what counts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Henton and daughter motored down the Columbia Highway from Sherman county a few days ago, and went over to the Netarts. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Pomeroy accompanying them. The Hentons and Alex Brandt, who came down from Eastern Oregon with them, returned home the last of the week, and Dwight is just recovering from his heavy diet of clams and sea fish.

TO REPORT, EIGHTY; FIFTY MUST ENTRAIN

Selective Draft Listed to Appear at Hillsboro About August 26

1 NEW CLASS VOLUNTEERS

Amos Watkins, Ninth Man on 1918 Registration, Asks to Go

The local war board has issued a call to 80 selective draft men to appear at Hillsboro on or about August 26—they will go some time during the day of the 26th, and may be called here a day prior—and fifty of the number will be entrained to Camp Lewis for training. Of the 80 men called, one of the 1918 class is included, Amos Watkins, the No. 9 on the 1918 registrants of 20 years of age, having called on the board and volunteered. In the list are several men who have married since the 1917 registration. The list:

William Earl Allen, William Neal, Tad Derbyshire, William Reid Heider, Amos Watkins (volunteered), Holly Wilson, Leonard Klaus, John Louis Vandecovering, Carl G. Peterson, Elmer Carl Peik, Arthur C. Wahl, William Augustine Brady, Paul Carl Beringer, Max Moore Reicher, Perry Weston, James Homer Haynes, Alfred Johanson, Henry H. G. Schmidt, William Carlyle Miller, W. C. Schlottmann, Daniel Vandebey, Roy Chester DeLetts, Edward L. Koch, Carr Leslie Moffit, John O. Engeldinger, Frank Jacob Hanson, Henry Fritz Eliander, Walter Lewis Dente, Arthur Arno Jopel, Loel Hollenbeck, Ludwig E. Newkirk, Henry Vandebey, Harry Wahl, Fritz Louis Fischer, Edward Wager, Merrill Theodore Huffstatter, Earl Leon Hobbs, Albert August Herman Meier, Gottlieb Werre, Omer Vaylske, Theodore J. Vandecovering, Francis Melville Joel, Edward Maurer, Ernest Rehbeck, Oscar Eugene Pfahl, John Vandomejon, Herman Gustiff Houch, Edward Fisher, Joseph William Fessler, Albert Meier.

Alternates—Herbert A. Carleton, William Rollins, Wm. Arthur Knox, Robt. Alfred Levick, Herbert Ernest Kappel, Henry Walters, Peter John Vandebey, Milo Ellis Ballard, Edward Richen, Leon John Vandebey, Herman Lechner, Jacob Sylvester Bany, Alfred Frederickson Jr., Gene Ivan Lee, Herman Fred Zuercher, Roy Victor Cary, Carl Eugene Brandaw, Joseph D. Vandebey, Demetrios Stamatian, Geo. Michael Susbauer, Charles Lee Young, Guy William Haguewood, Geo. Charles R. Rupprecht, Frank Cecil Doane, Francis A. O'Meara, Lawrence Manning, Clarence Fanne.

MILITARY SUITS ARRIVE

W. W. Boscow Tuesday morning received a shipment of 190 suits for the Oregon State Militia, equipping Hillsboro, Beaverton and Sherwood. The outfit includes a khaki suit; leggings, and hats, and they are more than natty—in fact, they are classy. The price to the county is away under that charged by Portland dealers, and at that they were made in Portland. Mr. Boscow was determined to furnish the equipment, and the price for enlisted men per outfit is $12. The officer uniforms are very chic, and the boys appeared in their new riggings last night.

Mr. Boscow gave the county figures on the furnishings at a price that was suicidal, and he stands to lose on the officers' end of the sale. He figured with Eastern parties, and found that he could do as well in Portland, and thus save the business to a community institution.

For Sale—Registered Jersey bull, out of O. A. C. herd; four years old and fine conformation. Have two, and must sell one.—Andrew Pierson, half mile north of Reedville. Address, Reedville, Ore. 23-5

T. P. Goodin, who is cutting fifteen thousand feet daily at his portable mill up on the headwaters of the Yamhill, was down to spend Sunday at his Hillsboro home. He will soon have to move his plant to another section of his timber. He is cutting for Leonard Tompkins.

James Mahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mahon, was ordered to report for embarkation some time ago, and it is supposed he is by this time landed on the other side. He goes with the master gunners, and it is the chance he has been looking for for many a month.

Elmer Burch, enlisted in the U. S. navy, stationed at San Diego, is home for an extended stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Burch, of Second and Jefferson streets. Elmer recently was operated on the head by one of the best U. S. surgeons, and he is given sixty days shore leave before returning to duty.

Chas. Walters, of North Plains, was a city caller Saturday.

W. Raynard, of Laurel-Scholls, was a Hillsboro visitor Saturday.

Emil Ritter, of near the crest of Helvetia, was a city caller Saturday.

John I. Marsh, of Centerville, was a city visitor Monday afternoon.

E. L. Mapes, of near Laurel, was a city caller the first of the week.

F. E. Pugh and R. Bennett, of Cornelius, were Argus callers Friday.

J. J. Schmitke, of above Mountaineale, was in the city Monday morning.

Wanted—A milker. Good wages. Apply to John W. Connell, of Connell & Brown, Hillsboro.

Herman Luck, of above Mountaineale, who has sons in the service, was a city visitor Friday afternoon.

J. B. Campbell, of above North Plains, was in town Saturday. Mr. Campbell's father recently passed away.

W. L. Moore, of Banks, connected with the Washington County Bank, was down Saturday, greeting friends.

W. A. Adams, who contracted here several years ago, was in the city the last of the week, having spent the last eight years in Oklahoma.

For Sale—Four-foot fir wood, first growth, and ash wood, at reasonable price, delivered.—C. Beglinger, near Newton. P. O. address, Hillsboro, R. 5. 22-4

A. E. Hanley, farming on Jolly Plains, was in the city Monday. His winter wheat went a little better than 20 bushels per, which is not bad for a drouthy year, after all.

L. M. Graham, Forest Grove's attorney, was down to Hillsboro Monday. Mr. Graham is one of the candidates on the legislative ticket on the Republican side of the column.

Christian Science Society—Sunday services at 11 o'clock; Sunday School at 10:15; Wednesday evening meetings at 8, at Vita Hall, 1228 Washington Street.

Chester Stewart, of Tigard, is getting along nicely from his injuries received in a fall from a silo, and he will soon be able to get out to Bear ranch and supervise affairs.

For Sale—Horse, good driver, will work anywhere; make a good mail route animal. No use for him. Will sell cheap.—J. A. Hobbs. Phone, Cornelius Central, East 3. 22-3

Gilgian Hager and daughter, of above Mountaineale, were city visitors Friday. Gilgian is suffering from infection in a wound caused recently by cutting his knee with an ax.

I want to rent a farm of from 25 to 60 acres for a period of 3 to 5 years. Will pay cash rent, or will take place on shares. Can give references.—G. F. Mayback, Cornelius, Ore., Box 17. 22-4

Wm. Koppel, formerly one of the star players on Forest Grove baseball nine, when it was the star amateur team of the Willamette Valley, was in the city Monday morning, on business at the court house.

For Sale—Two full-blooded O. I. C. sows to farrow litter latter part of October, second litter. Also a Sharpless cream separator in good condition.—G. A. Weisenbach, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 3. 21-3

Wm. Darety, of North Plains, was over town Saturday—his first trip since he fell and broke his hip early in June. He is making territory on a pair of crutches but still finds time to smile once in a while.

For Sale—Registered Jersey bull, out of O. A. C. herd; four years old and fine conformation. Have two, and must sell one.—Andrew Pierson, half mile north of Reedville. Address, Reedville, Ore. 23-5

T. P. Goodin, who is cutting fifteen thousand feet daily at his portable mill up on the headwaters of the Yamhill, was down to spend Sunday at his Hillsboro home. He will soon have to move his plant to another section of his timber. He is cutting for Leonard Tompkins.

James Mahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mahon, was ordered to report for embarkation some time ago, and it is supposed he is by this time landed on the other side. He goes with the master gunners, and it is the chance he has been looking for for many a month.

Elmer recently was operated on the head by one of the best U. S. surgeons, and he is given sixty days shore leave before returning to duty.

BENNETT THOMPSON CAUGHT AT RAINIER

Says His First Appearance in the Daylight Was His Undoing

DIDN'T HEED OWN ADVICE

Caught Monday and Landed in Penitentiary Monday Night

Bennett Thompson, double-murder convict, and a lifer in the state penitentiary, escaping from the institution two weeks ago, was caught near Rainier, on Monday afternoon and lodged shortly after daylight and lodged in the state's prison at 8:30 the same evening. Thompson was unarmed, contrary to general belief, and when the deputy threw two guns in his face surrendered without a struggle. He said he was headed for British Columbia where he intended joining the Canadian Army and land in France.

Deputy James Jesse, of Rainier, made the capture, upon advice of Sheriff Stanwood, of St. Helens, that Thompson was supposed to be in the Rainier vicinity.

Thompson admits he was at Mulloy the next morning after the escape.

"I looked up," related Thompson afterward, "straight into two guns, and there wasn't anything left but to give in."

"Thurber and I parted near Lents," said Thompson, "and my last warning to him was not to travel in daytime. I was a fool when I didn't take my own advice. This was my first and last appearance after sunrise since I made the break."

Thompson told the deputies that the task of sawing the bars through which they made their escape from the penitentiary, via the course of a stream, was simple. He smiled when asked where the saw was procured, but said that the bars were severed in less than half an hour. Thurber and he slipped through with their clothing tucked in an old boot to keep it dry.

Then followed almost two weeks of hiding in the brush by day and stealthy travel by night. Provided with a few dollars, Thompson made one appearance at Mulloy, and bought provisions, rolled oats and other simple articles, which formed the greater part of their fare.

At one time Thompson was in the outskirts of Portland and met by chance with some one of his old-time acquaintances.

After the escape the convicts proceeded to Mulloy and thence to Oswego, said Thompson. There they crossed the river to Milwaukie, and the following day went to Lents, where they parted. Thompson circled the city and crossed from Linnton to St. Johns in a rowboat which he commandeered. Thence he proceeded to St. Helens and Rainier. He was unarmed when taken, but carried two skeleton keys which his captors believe were manufactured in prison. His clothing was torn in tatters from pressing through the undergrowth, and a stiff bristle of beard added to his unprepossessing appearance. He seemed apathetic about his capture.

Thompson is under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. Helen Jennings and Fred Ristman, a chauffeur, on the Jennings ranch, near Tualatin.

During the trip from St. Helens, Thompson was freely communicative and related many details of his escape and flight to the Portland deputies. His sole mistake, he contended, had been in neglecting his own advice against appearing in daylight. He spoke of the recapture of Thurber, a fellow convict who escaped with him, as an additional example of such folly.

W. S. S. Redeem your pledge. Do not wait for a notice. The War Savings Committee has reported to the State Chairman total pledges and purchases of W. S. S. in Washington County, $534,470. Our quota was $534,000. This means that every one must absolutely fulfill his pledge and some will have to increase their purchases to make up for those who move away, or for some unavoidable reason fail to make good.

Every district chairman will be furnished with a list of names of those pledging in his district, with the amounts pledged for each month. Each district will be checked up at stated times. Possession of the stamps is the receipt for purchases. The original pledge cards will be kept on file at the School Superintendent's office, in Hillsboro, except in case of some of the towns where the cards may be placed at the Post Office and Banks.

Emil Ritter, of Helvetia, was an Argus caller Saturday morning.

Finis Brown, of Laurel, was over to the county seat Friday afternoon.

E. L. McCormick and family returned the first of the week from Netarts.

Nels Larsen, of below Minter Bridge, was a city caller Saturday morning.

F. M. Crabtree was in the city Saturday. Crabtree has a fine prune crop his year.

Mrs. F. Bockman, of Aloha, was in the city Saturday, accompanied by her little niece, who is here from Seattle on a visit.

Jos. Harrington, of Shelton, was a city visitor Saturday. He has finished his threshing and reports a fair crop considering.

For reservations, furnished tents by day or week, at Eden Camp, Netarts, Ore., write to G. N. Taggart, Netarts, Ore. 22-25

J. B. Walker, of below Beaver-ton, was up Friday, looking over prospective sidewalk improvement at the Walker place in South Hillsboro.

The Condenser is paying $2.75 for milk during the first half of August. Supt. Lamb reports $15 in pennies and small coins in the Belgian fund at the plant.

T. E. Cornelius of Gales Creek was in the city Monday. T. E. and wife will soon move down to Hillsboro to make their home, having sold their Gales Creek farm.

B. W. Barnes and family have returned from their auto trip to California. B. W. is now getting ready for the campaign in the schools of Hillsboro for the coming year.

Mrs. Wm. Tupper and daughter, Emma, started for a few weeks visit at LaPine, Ore., with the James Miltenbergers. Miss Tupper is nearly recovered from her fall of a few weeks ago.

Having purchased a tractor, I have for sale a work team of 6-year-olds, weighing 3200 lbs., strong and good workers. Price reasonable.—E. L. Hurd, Hillsboro, R. 1. Phone 404. 22-4

State Fair, Salem, Oregon, September 23-28. Splendid exhibits, excellent music, high-class entertainments and a superb racing card. For particulars write A. H. Lea, Secretary, Salem, Oregon. 22-5

L. W. House returned Saturday from Southern Oregon, visiting Crater Lake and other points of interest. He was joined in the trip by his sister from East, Mrs. Ackley, who returned to Hillsboro with him for a short visit.

Fritz Pritzlaff, of upper Gales Creek, was a city caller Monday. Of course old Fred came in to see the Argus editor, who worked for the same company with him over 30 years ago, when Fred was "floorman" at the Portland house.

J. L. Kerr has a tomato vine that is trying to do its bit in these war times. At the end of a ripe tomato, right out of the blossom end, a small tomato started growth and until picked was making out a fine case of double-header.

Margaret Wilson has sued Frank M. Wilson for divorce. They were married at Dayton, Ohio, the home of the airplanes, and the husband deserted her just ten years later. There are no children and no property to fight about.

Sam J. Raffety, of Mountaineale, was in the city Saturday. He came over from Rockaway, where he and his wife have been spending the summer in their cottage. He returns this week and will remain at the beach until the middle of September.

Paul Lamm is suing the McCall Lumber Company for $342.75 for wages due for work in May, June, July and a few days in August. Lamm says that he was to receive $8.50 per day under contract, and the above amount is due and he wants the outfit attached to liquidate the sum alleged to be payable.

Bess C. Mulligan sues Cecil E. Mulligan for divorce, alleging that since their marriage at Vancouver, July 2, 1917, he had contributed but twenty bucks to her support. Mulligan enlisted April of this year, and had his allotment paid to his mother instead of the wife, and she has been compelled to support herself by working in a department store. She wants a divorce, and wants her name changed to Bess Gladwyn, a name the Mulligans used after the marriage. Perhaps the name Gladwyn was used by them because Mulligan wasn't prompt in getting the "mulligan" for the family table. There are no children. 23-1f

RECRUITING AGENT GETS NEW RULING

Men Wanted for U. S. Shipping Board at Seattle

YOUTHS 18 TO 20 ACCEPTED

Appeal is Made to F. G. Mitchell to Send Youngsters

F. G. Mitchell, local recruiting agent for the United States Shipping Board, at Hillsboro, has received the following letter, which explains itself:

"This is to inform you that Edward N. Hurley, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, has today established new age limits for men entering the Merchant Marine through the Recruiting Service. From now on adventurous youths from 18 to 20 inclusive will be accepted for training on the training ships of the Shipping Board as sailors, cooks and stewards. Men between the ages of 30 and 35 inclusive, will also be accepted for training as sailors, cooks and stewards. Prior to this date all the 3000 men a month accepted for training by the Shipping Board and subsequent service in merchant crews have been within the present draft age limit of 21 to 31, but in order to draw more lightly on men available for military duty under present draft regulations, the Shipping Board will hereafter accept men of draft age only for training as firemen. New age limits for firemen are 21 to 31 inclusive. Firemen who have fired six months will be given special training as oilers and water-tenders.

Mr. Hurley states that he expects the new age regulations to stimulate recruiting for the Merchant Marine service. There have been several thousand inquiries by letters from youths under the draft age who want to go to sea. We are building for the future and hope that a majority of youths under 21 to be trained by the Shipping Board as sailors, cooks and stewards will stick to the Merchant Marine after the war is over.

Upon receipt of this letter will you please get in touch with the editors of your local newspapers and urge them to patriotically give the above information publicity, so that recruiting for the Merchant Marine will be stimulated. The training station at Seattle consisting of the shore station and the two training ships, U. S. "Triton" and the U. S. "Chippewa," is now in commission, and we now have at the present time some 300 recruits in training. Our capacity is 750 and we urge upon you the patriotic duty of putting forth every effort to send us young Americans to be trained to man the ships of the United States Government, and in doing so you will be materially assisting to win the war."

CLASS 1 ADDS 90 MEN

The local board has been revising the Class 1 status under orders of the Provost Marshal, and as a result there will be all of 90 more men of the 1917 registration added to the fighting forces of Washington County. The board has not yet made the list public, as they have not concluded their work. The list largely embraces married men without children, whose wives, with the government allotment and a part of the soldier's pay, could get along through the war. As Hillsboro women are generally pretty nifty and capable, it is expected that a number of the class will come from the county seat and surrounding section.

NEW REGISTRATION

The Government has set August 24, 1918, for registration of all who have attained the age of 21 years since June 5, or who will have attained that age by the 24th, inclusive. The local war board has fixed Hillsboro, at the war board office, as the place for the County registration. All those in this county from other sections, who can not reach home by August 24th should get their card registration here and send it on to their home counties.

It is estimated that from 30 to 50 more fighters will be added to the county list.

RED CROSS NOTES

All good knitters are urgently requested to come in and get their supply of the new sock yarn. This is much the best yarn we have had and we hope to have our quota of socks finished by September 10th.

There will be work for those who sew next week, as a supply of refugee clothes will be sent in all out and ready for work.

Wanted—A second-hand Ford machine; body not essential, but must have good motor. See Reeves, at the Telephone office, Hillsboro. 23-1f
