BOY HILLSBORO BORN DIES IN CANTONMENT

John Roselair Wipes Out Stain of Father, John D. Roselair

GREW TO FINE MANHOOD

Died in Ohio, Buried at New Richmond, Wis., With Honors

John Roselair, born in Hillsboro, and well known as a little fellow, was buried with military honors at New Richmond, Wis., last month, having died in the service of his country at a camp. He was enlisted in 19th Co., 158th Training Brigade, Camp Sherman, Ohio, and death was due to disease contracted at camp.

The entire city turned out to young Roselair's obsequies and two of the clergy paid the private a glowing tribute. From the kindly words spoken the young man must have grown to a splendid manhood, worthy of the highest respect and esteem of the community. He was in the volunteer class. The Home Guards formed the escort, and he was given the military honors. Of the subject of supreme sacrifice, one of the clergy said:

"This afternoon we have before us the earthly remains of a true and noble young man who gave to the nation the best he had. Even if he did not die on the battlefield, stricken by the enemy's bullet or sword, yet we class him among the brave and the true. He heard the call of his nation and went forth to serve. Our young men who make this supreme sacrifice will not be forgotten. No longer will we look to Israel, Greece or Rome for examples of heroism. Will we forget the ashes of our brave defenders who are saving the world's freedom in these darkest hours? No—the glory of fame is undying."

The deceased soldier was a son of the late John D. Roselair, who is remembered here for the commission of a crime for which he paid his life. The son has redeemed the family name.

WOOTEN WRITES

Lawrence Wooten, with Uncle Sam's Transport service, writes the Argus under date of Nov. 3, after being across to France, and mailing from Newport News, Va. "Have just received eight copies of the Argus and notice considerable change in regard to the number of men under colors since my departure. I met a few of the boys occasionally going overseas and am always gratified to meet them and ask about the Oregon country."

I certainly enjoy reading the paper as anyone would after not being in the Hillsboro country for a year. I have served on one of Uncle Sam's large and most prominent transports for eight months, and have made as many trips across the pond. Hoping that the future we are looking and longing for is not far off, I am, sincerely,

Lawrence A. Wooten,
U. S. S. Tenderos, N. Y.

The Jackson Bottom, covering the Zion Wood overflow lands, and the overflow lands on the J. C. Hare and the John Jensen places are under lease for hunting purposes and all hunters are hereby warned to keep off and save trouble.

SUPPOSE you had been a week in the trenches—can you imagine what it would mean to you to come out and run into a full-fledged good old American baseball game? The shipments of baseballs sent to France would make a line more than two miles long if they were laid side by side. The athletic orders placed by the war work agencies are the largest in the history of sport. Keep the boys' spirits high and they will tend to the Kaiser. Get behind the John Dennis, who is at Never-did, was over to Hillsboro Monday afternoon and evening—just coming to take part in the peace celebration. John says that "Victory" looks good to him. Dennis says that the logging camp where he is in charge had two Kaiser sympathizers put to rout the other day, and they left camp without their effects.

WAR ENDED MONDAY, NOVEMBER ELEVENTH

Armistice Signed at Stroke of 12 in the Morning

GERMAN EMPIRE NO MORE

Devastated Europe in Throes of Revolutions as to Central Empire

The German emissaries signed the articles of armistice, unconditional surrender, at the stroke of twelve Monday morning, Paris time; and hostilities ceased at 11 a. m. Word reached Hillsboro at seven o'clock, Portland time, and by 7:30 o'clock the city was celebrating with the ringing of bells, blowing of whistles and sirens, and a parade was formed by the business men. Every noise making device which could be put into action was commandeered, and bearded G. A. R., business men, young men, women and school children were soon parading the business streets. Emperor Wilhelm, Emperor no more, the cause of the great world catastrophe, with the Crown Prince and his heads of the war party, fled to Holland, arriving there Sunday night at 7:45 Paris time. The release of the great news was given out from the White House so that by six or seven o'clock every city with a telegraph line in the great republic was the recipient of the wonderful news.

Mayor Wall notified the public that a celebration would be held in the afternoon, beginning at 3:30. A big parade was formed, and promptly at 3:30 it swung into the Main Street intersection at First. Prior to this Forest Grove's auto parade appeared on the scene, and there were nearly 100 machines in line. Hillsboro's parade was headed by the Iowa Hill-Laurel Band, combined with the State Militia Co. following. Then came the Honor Guard girls. The City Fire Dept. outfit, Chas. Koontz driving; the decorated autos followed, with two Kaisers' tied and enroute for execution. These effigies were burned on the big bonfire at 7:30 in the evening.

After the parade the crowd adjourned to the courtyard, where Mayor Wall called them to order. After a few preliminary remarks, short addresses were made by Dr. F. A. Bailey, Wm. G. Hare, L. A. Long, Rev. J. T. Anderson and Charles E. Wells.

After the speaking, at about 5:30, the State Militia and many autos went to Forest Grove and paraded around the city.

It was truly a day of smiles and relief for everyone. All business houses were closed, and laborers and employees were told to lay off and celebrate in the afternoon. J. C. Lamkin and M. C. Lincoln were the color-bearers for the day.

The celebration continued in the evening and closed with a big dance at the Moose Hall. The peace terms mean evacuation of Belgium and France; surrender of Alsace-Lorraine; loss of German South Africa; turning over to the Allies all big guns, then practically 90 per cent of war supplies, the breaking of the great German navy and entire disarmament. Meantime the Kaiser has fled to Holland for refuge. Hindy and the Crown Prince and the other sons are with the once royal daddy. It is expected that the Allies will call for them and that Holland will turn them over without dispute.

The two veterans of the Civil War, reminders of the time we had our nasty family unpleasantness—M. C. Lincoln, of the G. A. R., and Postmaster J. C. Lamkin, with the Confederates in the sixties, carrying the Stars and Stripes with a fervor as strong as any doughboy in France, was a spectacle of interest, and the Argus hopes they will live many years. The next big parade we have we are going to have them joined by veterans of the Spanish War and the war just closed.

John Olson, of Cedar Mill, was in town Saturday.

G. W. Whitmore, of Chehalam Mountain, was in town Friday.

Mrs. Geo. S. Johnson, of South Tualatin, was a city caller the first of the week.

Increase your production per man and save money thro less hiring by using the Moline Universal Tractor. See John Wunderlich, Hillsboro, one door south of Telephone Central, or at his Banks office. 25-1f

John Merz, of Helvetia, was in town Friday.

J. F. Carstens and C. O. Galaway, of Banks, were down Tuesday on court business.

P. I. Lillgard, of Laurel, was in the county seat Saturday.

Herbert Sahnow, of Verboort, was an Argus caller Friday.

Henry Miller, of below Witch Hazel, was in town Tuesday, and called on the Argus.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jossy, of above North Plains, on the Ben Cornelius place, were city callers Tuesday.

For Sale—Several head hogs, about 150 lbs each.—F. H. Bowlby, Cornelius, Ore., R. 2. Phone 23865, Hillsboro. 34-6

Chas. Follett, engineer on the P. R. & N., went to Portland Tuesday to visit his daughter, who is reported ill.

Dairy Cows for Sale—Your choice of ten cows, four of them just fresh; balance fresh soon.—Fred Jossy, Banks, Ore., R. 3, Tel. N. Plains, 14F2. 36-8

Bruce Schulerich and wife visited with the J. H. Colliers, Sunday. Bruce is just completing his big drainage ditch on the Collier ranch at Scholls.

Wanted—Beef cattle, hogs and sheep. Will pay best price for good stuff. Phone Beaverton. Mail address, W. W. Mellar, Reedville, Oregon. 35-35

Ralph Hannan, who succeeded to the old reliable Hannan store at Buxton, was down to the county seat Monday, joining with the "rioting" over the peace news.

Four foot slab wood, after Sept. 1, $2.75 per four foot cord; sixteen inch wood, $3.25 per cord. Place your orders at once. G. H. P. Lumber Co., South Third St., Telephone 942. 1f

Farmers are certainly putting in the seed this week in all locations in the county where the land isn't too low, and with two or three more days of seeding conditions there should be a mammoth crop of winter wheat in 1919.

For Sale or Rent: Small place, well improved, good bungalow, barn and outbuildings. Will sell crops and all farm tools, team, young mule, fat hog, cow in milk, 4 dozen chickens, hay in barn, also Ford car. This place is located at Oak Park station, 200 yards from depot, Oregon Electric; 40 minutes ride to Portland.—W. A. Goodman, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 4, Tel. Hillsboro, 116. 281f

Rev. A. D. Shaw, who has gone to Honolulu to take the pastorate of one of the Island Churches, received word before leaving asking him to report at Camp Taylor, Ky., as Army Chaplain. As peace talk was in the air he proceeded to the Sandwich Islands, but will return to Kentucky in case he is needed. Mr. Shaw and family made many friends while here who wish them every happiness in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stuart and son, recently here from Idaho, making the trip overland, visited a few days with Mr. Stuart's parents, A. G. Stuart and wife, and then went on to Corvallis, where they are making their home. They visited the Yellowstone National Park before coming to Oregon, and enroute here visited with Roy Stuart and family, at Lakeside, Southern Oregon, who joined them on the trip up here.

The Flu ban was raised the last of the week, and Sunday the churches had their usual meetings. Liberty Theatre was also open for evening theatre goes, and "Fatty" Arbuckle made his visitation. The schools opened Monday morning, but the stampede was so wild over the peace news that school was dismissed. The young men and ladies wanted to get out and hurrah, and Supt. Barnes concluded it was wise to dismiss.

F. W. Morton, the negro barber on Main St., west of Second, failed to close his barber shop Monday during the celebration, and Monday night some one heaved a dozen bricks through the front. Every pane in the front was broken. Sheriff Alexander is looking into the affair. Morton still has an unpaid fine imposed in Circuit Court, which should have been paid a couple of years ago. He is liable to custody at any time. As the fine ultimately would come out of his wife, who is a first-class dressmaker, Morton has had much leniency. His barber shop has never paid him. The damage to the building is $15 or $20, and a subscription will be raised to pay it.

JUDGE BENNETT GOES OVER TOP IN STATE

Elected Supreme Judge by Reason of Several Candidates

JUDGE COKE 2ND IN RACE

Judge Campbell Carries Home and Washington Counties

Judge Alfred S. Bennett, democrat, and jurist by right of intellect and research, has been elected Supreme Judge of the State of Oregon by a plurality over the republican candidates. Coke, Campbell and Olson, the latter being Gov. Withycombe's appointee, were in the race and this multiplicity of candidates gave the democratic candidate a lead. Judge Bennett was late coming out, or he might as well have had several hundred more votes. Before he entered the race many democrats lined up with Judge Campbell in the Clackamas counties—where Judge Campbell carried heavily—and this meant a corresponding loss to the Wasco county jurist. Judge Bennett is a former Washington County man, hailing in early days from Gales Creek. The official vote for the county on state and county ticket was finished Saturday by Justices D. R. Wheeler and E. X. Harding, assisted by B. W. Barnes. The vote is:
