His apples, pears, and other fruit were a fine crop this year.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Expect County to go Over Top by the End of Week

COUNTY SEAT ABOUT OVER

Some Outside Districts Went Over in Day or So, Others Slow

J. H. Garrett, Chairman of the United War Drive Campaign, reports that by the end of this week he expects Washington County to have gone over the top in fine style. Already many districts have reached their original quota, with the fifty per cent addition, while in other districts the subscriptions have been dragging a little. The solicitors found that here and there they were hampered by people who were mighty willing to give to one or more of the sub-divisions needing the money, but were loath to give where another organization would get its division. This prejudice in some cases could not be overcome, and like a two-edged sword, it worked both ways, for the very organization one man was willing to help was getting the ban by another. Fortunately this was not so strong that it was not largely overcome.

Hillsboro is well to the top of the drive, and by Saturday will be able to report its full quota with the 50 per cent added.

The following announcement has been sent out by the signers:

A CARD
To the U. W. W. Chairmen and Assistants for Washington Co.—

At the close of this great 7 in 1 drive, with the laying aside of the duties which have befallen us, we take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the splendid service rendered by you and your assistants.

The difficulties which confronted this campaign from start to finish were hard to overcome, but they were met and surmounted by an indomitable spirit of co-operation.

Your hearty support and response to every suggestion and appeal from this office has made our work easier, and furthermore has helped to put over a campaign that will go down in history as the greatest gift campaign ever undertaken.

Thanking you for your earnest support, we remain yours truly,

United War Work Campaign Committee for Washington Co., J. H. Garrett, Chairman; Sam Weil, Publicity Director and Speaker Chairman.

MISS MAMIE McDANIELS

Miss Mamie McDaniels, well known here for several years, having been one of the proficient central operators for the Hillsboro Telephone Company, died at McMinnville, Nov. 18, 1918, from an attack of pleuro-pneumonia. She went to McMinnville to visit a sister, Mrs. Sandstone, and was stricken while there. Her condition became so serious that she was sent to the local hospital. Her mother resides in Portland. Miss McDaniels was aged 20 years. She was the fiancee of Vaughn Wells, with the U. S. Engineers in France, who was in the hospital from wounds at his last writing.

The funeral was held at Middleton yesterday afternoon, and those attending from this city were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Montgomery, Miss Montgomery, Mrs. Reeves and Miss Ella Ellefson.

Mrs. Allen and daughter, Miss Valine, of Anity, came down the last of the week and will make their home in Hillsboro during the school term. Miss Pearl Allen, another daughter, being an instructor in the High School.

John Engledinger, now living at Vancouver, was over last week greeting friends, and getting his Christmas parcels O. K'd by the Red Cross. John and his estimable wife have three sons in the service—George, in France; Vincent, in New Jersey, and Fred, in a responsible position in the drug department of the army hospital at Boulder, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Markee, of Washington, arrived here Monday and went out to Mountaineer to visit Mrs. O. Gardner, a sister of Mr. Markee. Lowell Markee, whose wife died recently in California, her illness being influenza, was also a guest of Mrs. Gardner the first of the week. Lowell came North to have the body of his late wife interred at Forest Grove.

R. A. Keller, of below Tigard, near the Multnomah line, was arrested Tuesday and taken before Justice Smith, charged with maintaining an unsanitary slaughter house. Keller put up bail and will fight the case. He says that he keeps his slaughter house floor as clean as a kitchen and that people who say it is not sanitary are mistaken. He says he will fight this case to a finish before a jury.

Herman Pranger, of Leisyville, was a city caller Tuesday.

Frank Johnson, North Plains, was in town the first of the week.

Wm. Schendel, of near Varley, was in the city the first of the week.

For Sale—Eight head of pigs, eight weeks old; good sized and healthy.—Frank Greener, Hillsboro, R. 5; 3 miles southeast of Hillsboro, across the Road Bridge. 36-8

J. H. Foot, former proprietor of the Hotel Tualatin, now with one of Portland's shipyards, was out Friday on legal business, getting a court title to his South Hillsboro property.

For Sale—About 30 head of pigs, over 6 weeks old, about $4.50 each. Also registered Duroc Jersey boar for service.—Chas. Epler, Cornelius, Route 2, Phone 25 Hill Line. 35-7

If you need furniture, or if you want a bargain in furniture, do not forget that the big sale of the Donelson stock, on Third Street, north of Will's Store, begins on Saturday, Nov. 23, and continues Nov. 25 and 26.

Rev. E. W. Luecke, who has had charge of the Lutheran services of Hillsboro and beyond Leisyville, has resigned, and has gone to Kansas to take a pastorate. The pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Blacomb, of Portland, next Sunday, at 2:30 P. M., at the Advent Church.

H. G. Guild is busy these days getting settled in his new purchase, the Dr. Robb property, north of the E. B. Tongue home. Mr. and Mrs. Fayrum, who have lived there the past six months, have moved into the Dr. Bailey property, west of the McQuillan property, on Oak Street.

Zina Wood, has an easy way to remember his marriage anniversary and the day that the armistice was signed—he was married on date November 11, and so, hereafter he can celebrate both days at once. Ex-Sheriff Reeves, of this city, has a birthday Nov. 11, so he, too, is in on the "twin" celebration.

Mrs. Ruth A. Blair, of Portland, came out Monday for a short visit with friends. Mrs. Blair states that she has had no confirmation of the report that her son, Robert, was killed in France, but has not received any letter from him since in September. The report was published in the regulation casualty list.

Lawrence Taggart, under date of Oct. 25 writes from South American waters, from the battleship Pittsburgh, and says that he is getting along finely. A young fellow by the name of Sharp, from near Phillips, formerly, is with him on the ship. Lawrence says he is mighty keen to get back to the good old U. S. A. for a visit. He has been down there since June, 1917.

John Engledinger, now living at Vancouver, was over last week greeting friends, and getting his Christmas parcels O. K'd by the Red Cross. John and his estimable wife have three sons in the service—George, in France; Vincent, in New Jersey, and Fred, in a responsible position in the drug department of the army hospital at Boulder, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Markee, of Washington, arrived here Monday and went out to Mountaineer to visit Mrs. O. Gardner, a sister of Mr. Markee. Lowell Markee, whose wife died recently in California, her illness being influenza, was also a guest of Mrs. Gardner the first of the week. Lowell came North to have the body of his late wife interred at Forest Grove.

R. A. Keller, of below Tigard, near the Multnomah line, was arrested Tuesday and taken before Justice Smith, charged with maintaining an unsanitary slaughter house. Keller put up bail and will fight the case. He says that he keeps his slaughter house floor as clean as a kitchen and that people who say it is not sanitary are mistaken. He says he will fight this case to a finish before a jury.
