Trust to the fool democrats of Chi to do the wrong thing at the right time—two of them tried to run against Mayor Thompson, who was in bad odor on the matter of love of his country, which was and has been lacking, and Thompson won out by thirteen thousand. Had there been but one candidate against Thompson he would have been beaten. In all probability each of the minority candidates is glad to have Thompson win rather than the other candidate. Such is life and such is the Omega of fools.

Lloyd George, of Britain, has had his troubles as well as other world statesmen. The people at home were always criticising him when at war, and when he threw down the gauge and went into an election his opposition was cleaned up. The little Welshman should know how to sympathize with Woodrow, who has had more than his share of criticism.

Not being adverse to following the footsteps of distinguished contemporaries, The Argus modestly relates that some weeks ago it "predicted" that April Fool's Day would be on the 1919 calendar on April 1—a most accurate prophecy. And at this time, in the full flush of prophetic victory we venture the prediction that Independence Day is to come on July 4.

If the Russ and the German and Austrian Reds should get together and put up a fighting front perhaps Woodrow and Lloyd George will feel that they were badly mistaken to listen to that opposition call "Bring the Boys Home."

Mexico isn't so anxious to break out since the war closed—and perhaps there is method in Mexican madness.

The boy who puts the brick under the hat on April 1 was not in evidence here this year.

Mrs. A. Connelly and Miss Viola Glascoe arrived last night from Seattle, and are guests of their mother, Mrs. F. Glascoe.

Wanted—Some responsible party to take the agency for Maxwell or Chalmers automobiles in the vicinity of Hillsboro.—M. S. Allen & Co., Forest Grove. 3-4

Dr. J. R. Marshall, who has practiced dentistry in this city for many years, has located in Portland, where he will practice his profession. He conducted a very successful business here, and the many friends of the Dr. and his wife wish them success in their new home.

POOR FINANCE TO LET BANKS TAKE V. LOAN

By M. S. Wildman, Head of the Department of Economics and Political Science at Stanford University, California.

Just about two years ago we began to make war and stopped making a lot of other things or made these other things only in limited supply. Railway construction came to a dead stop. Equipment was worn out faster than it was replaced. All over the country building operations were suspended. In the North Atlantic states alone the deficiency in building is estimated by the Department of Labor to exceed $500,000,000. If the situation all over the country is comparable to this, the accumulated need for construction now exceeds two billion dollars. Through a wide range of manufactures from automobiles to chewing gum curtailment was the order of the day until now we face a deficiency in numberless commodities of customary use.

The emergency which led to curtailment is happily past. The interest of all classes of people requires the quickest possible resumption of normal activity. Consumers want the goods, returning soldiers need the employment. The heavy war taxes call for correspondingly large production, while European reconstruction will open the way for exports.

This resumption of enterprise, if we embark upon it as we should, will require bank loans on a tremendous scale. The high wages and high cost of materials will necessitate advances proportionately greater than in the past. To be available for this purpose, the funds of the banks must not be absorbed by government requirements. The necessity for a wide public participation in the Victory Liberty loan is even greater than it was in the case of earlier loans when curtailment of industry diminished the needs of private business.

If the banks are compelled to carry the government, they cannot at the same time carry their customers. For every billion dollars worth of bonds left on the hands of the banks there will be just a billion less for the revival of industry and the employment of labor.

It is to the personal interest of every man and woman in America to subscribe to the Victory Liberty loan out of his or her savings.

"The woman who can save money wins masculine respect and feminine envy."—Mrs. Carey.

THOSE LIBERTY BONDS

There is a lot of money being spent every day in advertising with the object of separating plain Mr. American from his Liberty Bonds either by offers to buy them outright or trading in wildcat stock for them. Many plain Mr. Americans are rushing in where wise men fear to tread and are "falling" for the advertisements without thought of why the other fellow wants the bonds.

Advertising, especially the kind Liberty Bond brokers are using, costs a lot of money. Where does the buyer get off? Well, be sure he is getting off as he wouldn't advertise. He isn't in business for his health. He is after the money. It's a cinch you are helping him to a big rake-off when you trade or sell your Liberty Bonds. That's sense, isn't it?

If a Liberty Bond is worth, say, $5 to the broker after he has paid for all of his expensive advertising, it certainly is worth par or more than par to the holder. For on top of his advertising expenses the broker maintains costly offices and much help. That's sense, isn't it?

The reason the broker wants the bonds is that he or his clients want to hold them. It's the broker's business to know bond values. He knows that these Liberty Bonds are going to be valuable things—that they are going way above par—within a year or two. Hold them yourself.

THE ACID TEST

Provost Marshal-General Crowder's report of the work of mobilizing the man-power of the nation under the Selective Draft Act disclosed the reason why America was able to produce such a tremendous quantity of foodstuff despite the drain upon the labor of the country by the operation of the draft. The reason was that sixty-five per cent of the farm labor of the country registered for military service was given deferred classification upon agricultural grounds.

Saving the possible exception of shipyard workers no other single industry was given such consideration as was the pursuit of farming and no class of producers was treated more fairly than the farmers. This was right and just, yet to the credit of the government.

The war is over as far as the fighting is concerned and the government turns to the people to settle up the bills incurred in ending it. It expects the farmer, individually and as a class, to retaliate with the "square deal."

The Victory Liberty Loan—the last of the Liberty Loans—is coming next month. It is going to catch the farmer at the wrong season. That is good.

It will be an acid test.

To learn to save is the first important lesson of life.

John Elliott, of Shady Brook, was today examined for insanity, the trouble being senile decay. The aged man will not live long, and his stay at the State Hospital is likely to be brief.

Ed. Moore, who has been in Arizona with a copper mine for many years, arrived home Tuesday evening to remain indefinitely. He was called home because of the critical illness of his mother, Mrs. Mary Moore.

Our oldtime friend, Thomas Murphy, of above Mountaineale took a header yesterday, the result of a runaway. Dr. E. H. Smith went up and found no bones broken and Thos. will be ready to drive again in a day or so.

John McClaren, of Gales Cr., was in the city this morning. John has many supporters in the idea of getting the State Commission to locate a highway up Gales Creek, and through by Timber, to Astoria, a route that is beautiful and useful, beyond compare.

Albert Connell, just returned from the Canadian service in England, and a cousin of the host, arrived here from Hamilton, Ontario, Saturday, for an extended visit with Thos. Connell and other relatives. He is accompanied by Stanley Thantson, of the same place.
