When it comes to race distinctions Chicago appears to have the South backed off the map.

Dear Subscriber—Sure, this is a non-partisan war. Don't you believe anyone who tells the opposite.

President Wilson soon starts on his tour of the country, and will visit the Pacific Coast, laying before the people the reasons why the League of Nations should be ratified in the peace treaty. Woodrow is some little old persuader when it comes to personal work.

It might be a mighty pious idea to boil your water before drinking. Besides being sanitary, it might allay any alarm as to that dangerous little bacilli which may or may not infest the water supply.

For Sale—Twenty-four high grade young Hampshire ewes; 4 ewe lambs; 9 buck lambs.—Carl Pfahl, Cornelius, R. 2; 4 miles south of Cornelius; telephone, Hill 52. 21-23

L. F. Humburg, of Forest Grove, is suffering from a piece of steel which lodged in his eye while working for the state highway contractor, Guthrie, near Witch Hazel, the other day. Dr. Dinsmore was called to examine the injured optic and thinks it may be saved.

Mrs. Laura Sheppard, field secretary of the Baby Home, was in town last week. The Board of Directors of the Baby Home are planning to build a new home, to cost $70,000, and the funds for this home will be raised by life membership fees of $100 each. A. C. Shute, of the Shute Savings Bank, was the first in Hillsboro to take a life membership. Mrs. Sheppard's mission is to organize auxiliaries in the towns outside of Portland to assist in the relief work. An appeal is made to the housewives to put up an extra jar of fruit, jelly, or vegetables to send to the Baby Home.

Ronald Vaughn, who has been service in England and France, and prior to that on the Mexican border, arrived in from Camp Lewis today, and is enjoying a reunion with home folks, the R. C. Vaughns. Ron came back via Marselles and New York.

Three Ford accidents were chronicled the past week—Eris Wells, son of C. E. Wells, broke an arm while cranking the machine; E. W. Reeves, of the Perkins Garage, had a like mishap, and J. B. Adams, the Farmington blacksmith made the third. Dr. J. O. Robb reduced the fractures.

Employers of labor have been sent out a list of those who cancelled their first papers in Oregon rather than take the draft. Among the list was the name of Carl Betz, of Beaverton, and Nile Strombat, of a Hillsboro route. Neither can, under congressional law, become a citizen of the U. S. without further legislation.

W. J. Cuddy, veteran Northwest editor for many years, now editor of the Weekly Oregonian, was an Argus caller the last of the week, being out on a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Peterson, of Hillsboro. The owner of a Briscoe machine ran his auto off a steep grade down near the Chas. Bloom place, the other day, so that it took some horse power to run it out. He propped it up with a pole so he could leave it without fear of it turning over and for an entire day every passerby went down to investigate to see whether or not some one had been injured.
