

BIG WILL CONTEST NOW COMPROMISED

Litigants Get Together and Settle Big Probate Case

TESTATOR LEFT TWO WILLS

A. A. Walker Heirs Get the Gaston Farm and Ten Thousand

The Robt. H. Walker estate will contest has been settled out of court and the minor heirs of the late Archie A. Walker will receive 328.42 acres of land near Gaston and ten thousand dollars in cash in lieu of the settlement. The case was instituted by the mother of the minor heirs shortly after two wills had been filed in probate.

The estate was a big one and the settlement out of court came before the court decree had been found.

The farm involved covers what is known as the Walker ranch in the Gaston section, and is one of the best holdings up there.

The agreement to settle has been signed by Rachel Walker, widow of the testator; W. B. Walker, Lauretta Walker Olds and Mrs. Ora P. Walker, comprising all the parties to the suit.

The probate judge of Polk County, who appointed Mrs. Ora P. Walker, guardian ad litem of the minors, authorized the settlement, and has made an order directing that $3,600 be paid to the attorneys for the minor heirs as employed by the guardian.

Judge Robinson's order discloses the fact that the 329 acres is valued at about $40,000. One of the heirs was in France until a few weeks ago.

The compromise agreement was filed in probate court here Tuesday by Judge Holman and E. B. Tongue, attorneys for the executrix, Wm. B. Walker and Mrs. Lauretta Olds.

LOCALS BEAT SHERIDAN

The Hillsboro team journeyed to Sheridan Sunday and beat the nine there by a score of 5 to 1, and only for two errors on Hillsboro's part in the seventh. Sheridan would have been shut out. Roy Schiedel, catcher; Gray and Herb Schulmerich, pitchers; E. Burkhalter, 1 b; Erwin, 2 b; Carol Long, s; H. Bachelar, 3 b; Claude Cook, 1 f; Seth Miller, c; Enoch Dillon, r f.

NOON LUNCHEON; BUILDING AND WATER

Controversy Over Water Supply Brought up at Function

SUPT. ASKS CO-OPERATION

Cornelius Figures in State Board Report on Sain Creek Supply

The noon luncheon at the Hotel Washington, Monday, was of more than unusual interest, because at the session the matter of Hillsboro's water supply was injected. After R. L. Tucker, the lessee of the Badger Lumber Co.'s site, had delivered a short talk about building, Mayor Wall, who presided, brought up the water question, telling his audience that it was not with him a personal question, but one of public interest. He related how the controversy had grown warm, and told of the Cornelius report received from the State Board of Health, saying that the water should be boiled before using. The mayor asked Supt. Easter to talk, and Mr. Easter said that as late as April they had a good report from the State Board, saying the water was pure. He related that the company was not making dividends, but asked for co-operation so that it could be made a paying institution. He said that rules for use of water had been made and these had been submitted to the Public Service Commission, and they would stand unless evidence at a hearing should cause the commission to annul the rules.

Mr. Easter said that when rumors were rife about the water supply, he and a force of men cleaned the reservoir and found nothing deleterious. He said that other samples of water had been submitted to the State Board of Health, and he had no thought but what it would be pronounced O. K.

Mayor Wall, in responding, said that as a representative of the people as Mayor he wanted to serve the public properly, and he felt that he had stated nothing in communications but what was justified.

Mr. Tucker, in his talk, said that Seattle had taken hold of the housing question with more intelligence than Portland, and said he believed that owners of property here could find men who would finance the building of homes if taken up properly. He stated that he had built a half dozen residences in Beaverton and sold them all at a profit.

The next luncheon will be held August 18.

LUMBER INDUSTRY TO BE OREGON'S GREATEST

Untouched Forests Will Bring Golden Stream

MOSSBACKISM PAYS OFF

Demand and High Prices Come at Opportune Time

The great demand for lumber, for both foreign and domestic use, has put a premium on conservation for once, and Oregon will reap a great reward for its mossbackism. Seattle and Tacoma built greatly on the profits of the Washington forests when logs and lumber were cheap. Oregon's capital shied at big lumber investment with the result that Portland grew in spite of lethargy. With logs going out of sight and lumber over double back-time prices, Oregon will reap millions of benefit in the next 20 years. Today the scene of lumber activity is shifting from the Sound to the Oregon country.

Industrial Notes—Homestead—The Copper Dyke Mining Company has started sinking in the Cap Miller shaft. Building permits show increased activity in Eugene.

Portland—Radical elements lose out in fight to secure control of Central Labor Council and Portland labor press.

Weyerhaeuser officials see great industrial future for Klamath Falls.

Survey for Pendleton—Cabbage Hill section of Eastern Oregon highway begun.

Pendleton—Proposed Elk's Triangle business block and theater to cost $167,000.

Pendleton—Pipeline to Chaplist Springs all laid; system soon completed.

Vale—Big dam at Riverside to be completed by Oct. 1st.

Klamath Falls—New laundry enlarges, takes new name and puts in new machinery.

With one exception, highway from Oregon City to Portland will soon be entirely completed.

Klamath Falls—Marsh lands surrounding upper Klamath Lake to be dyked and lands reclaimed.

Amity—Derrick erected to sink test oil well on Newman ranch.

Banks—Logging railroad to go in from Wilkesboro to Vernonia. Commercial Clubs should take an interest in increasing berry acreage, as the product will bring profitable prices for years to come, and a large income per acre from sale of rooted plants.

Astoria Marine Iron Works lowest bidder on six steel tanks for Portland docks.

New saw mill in prospect for Allegany section in Coos County.

Portland and Southeastern to build from Mt. Angel to Bend.

Newport—First contract for new macadam highway to connect Newport with Willamette Valley let.

Contracts for paving final 11.8 miles on highway from Pendleton to state line beyond Freewater let Aug. 5.

Eugene—Contract let for construction of $10,000 unit of Eugene Fruit Growers' Association.

Pilot Rock streets have electric lights.

Gresham—New garage erected for Standard Oil Co.

The department of labor reminds us that on account of suspended building operations during the war, the United States now needs almost a million new homes. We are also reminded that building is a basic industry, and that if you build a home you make business for more than a hundred correlated and contributing industries; each building erected sends its wave of demand through the industrial organization of the country from the ditch diggers to the bank presidents and back, by way of pay envelopes, to the ditch diggers again.

Nitrate deposits on Sheep Mountain and Stinking Lake to be developed.

Bend—1500 horse power electric unit goes in on Tumalo.

TWO MORE HOME

Emmett Nichodemus, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nichodemus, and Glen Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Powers, were in the city over Sunday, visiting home folks. The boys were enroute to Camp Lewis and prevailed upon the officer in command to let them report at Camp Lewis late Monday morning. They look fine, and were stationed at St. Nazaire, on the French seaboard. Both boys were stationed with the Army Fire Department at the port, and were kept constantly on duty. Glen left Camp Lewis for the Yakima country to remain a day or so before coming home.

PUT OUT THE FIRE

Campers are cautioned to use every precaution when quitting a camp so that fire can not spread. Carry a little water and put out the last spark, for a little breeze might fan it to a blaze and start a fire that would cost thousands of dollars. The wooded districts are as dry as tinder in many places, as the rains have been very "spotted," falling only here and there. A little precaution might prevent an expensive timber fire.
