The tobacco that gives you the most lasting chew is the kind that saves you money. You don't have to take so many fresh chews. The rich tobacco taste stays right with it. That's why you take a smaller chew.

BURNS-HANCOCK

On Wednesday afternoon, October 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hancock, occurred a very pretty wedding when their talented daughter, Miss Margaret M. Hancock, was united in marriage to Edward V. Burns, son of Rev. and Mrs. F. S. Burns, of Salem, the father of the groom officiating. Charles H. Hancock, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the groom's sister, Miss Margaret Burns, acted as bridesmaid; little Marjorie Burns, a niece, taking the part of flower girl.

Miss Isabelle Burns played the wedding march. The couple stood under a canopy of autumn leaves. The rooms were generously decorated with autumn colors, ferns, dahlias, asters and roses.

Dainty refreshments were served, and the emblems of the bride's cake were the source of much merriment. Miss Greta McIntyre, of Pacific University, caught the bride's bouquet.

The young couple departed for Portland by auto with the Portland guests, leaving that night at 9:30 for Medford and other Southern Oregon towns, where the groom is the sales agent for the J. I. Case Company.

They are excellent young people whom a host of friends will delight to extend congratulations and best wishes. —News-Times, Forest Grove.

The bride is well known in Hillsboro, where she resided four years during the time her father was sheriff. For the past year she has officiated as deputy county recorder.

MISS SIMPSON WRITES

Under date of Sept. 26, Miss Mary A. Simpson, formerly of Hillsboro, now of Brighthelm, York-shire, England, writes:

Editor Argus: I see the "boys" are fast returning home. They will have much to relate. What experiences they have gone through! The half will never be known. I have just returned from a fortnight's visit at Scarborough. While there I saw many things to remind me of the bombardment—huge pieces of shell. These are now in the Museum. Smaller pieces are in store windows for sale. I saw an oil painting with great holes torn through, but the face of a woman in it was intact, but quite close to it the canvas was in threads. I went to Whitby during my stay in Scarborough, but could not see much of the damage done there. The old Abbey was hit, but I could not climb the 199 steps necessary to get to the top of it. Divine Service is held in a part of the Abbey every Sabbath, and there is no way of getting there except by way of those 199 steps—that is, unless the climb is done without the steps. We have been enjoying some real grand weather lately. I thought you must have sent us some of the genuinely warm variety from Oregon. It lasted till Sept. 19th. Then it rained, and on the 20th it snowed and it was "some" snow, too. It made one hug the fire. Bridlington has enjoyed a very prosperous season. The town has been full of visitors, and they had lots of money to spend. It was no object.

With kind regards, not forgetting the Hillsboro friends, I am,

Sincerely Yours,
