

HILLSBORO CLUB TO MAKE BIG CAMPAIGN

Endeavor to Get all Business Men Into the Harness

MAKE BETTER HILLSBORO

Enthusiastic Session at the Club Rooms Tuesday Evening

The Hillsboro Club met Tuesday night in a special session to take up matters incident to the future of the organization and thresh out a campaign for membership in the not distant future. President E. L. Moore presided, and called the attention of the members to the need of a larger membership.

It was decided not to lower the membership fee, it being held by a unanimous expression that the man who cannot spare $15 for the best interests of the city would not make a good, live member, if a lesser sum would be an inducement.

A list of the names of all business men were secured and a committee appointed to report on their eligibility. After the list is decided upon there will be a smoker and an effort to put the Club over the top.

The financial report shows the club to be in good financial standing, and at the next regular meeting a committee will report on the canner situation. The present operators of the fruit cannery want a better site, and one that will be in the sewer district, and McMinville is making an effort to interest them. As soon as the committee can get an expression from the operators action will be taken.

Just as the Club was in the work, outlining future work the news was brought of the tragedy at Centralia, where four ex-service men were shot from ambush by the I. W. W. element. Wm. G. Hare and Chas. Buchanan were appointed a committee to telegraph the sentiment of the Club to the executive at Centralia, and the following telegram was sent:

"The Mayor, Centralia, Wash.—The damnable outrage just perpetrated in your city strikes the heart of Americanism and reflects upon the entire Northwest. We urge that Centralia leave no stone unturned to wipe out the disgrace, and that the perpetrators be made to pay the penalty without delay.

Hillsboro Business Men's Club.—In view of the fact that Hillsboro is soon to be connected with the metropolis by a hard surface highway the club hopes to stimulate interest in the organization so that there can be concerted action both in present business and in dealing in futurities.

The original decree ordered Cullins to pay the wife $10 per week. ## WHITE PLAGUE NURSE NOW IN THE COUNTY

Will Remain in District for Three Months

TO ADVISE ABOUT HEALTH

Will Demonstrate How Best to Handle Dread Disease

Beginning with this November, Washington County has a public health nurse at work, and this is the seventh county in the state to be supplied with this type of worker. An eighth county, Clackamas, is also starting this new work this month. Mrs. Agnita Smith is to be the Washington County public health nurse, with headquarters at Hillsboro, and has arrived.

Mrs. Smith has been sent into this county by the Oregon Tuberculosis Association for the purpose of making a three months' demonstration of county public health nursing. For the past two years the Tuberculosis Association has been using its Red Cross Christmas Seal funds for similar demonstrations, thus making the most valuable contribution to the promotion of better public health that has ever been made in Oregon.

At the end of three months' demonstration in Washington County when the people in every section of the county have been given an opportunity to become familiar with the work and to appreciate its great value, the county will be asked to assume the financing of the work.

The work of a county health nurse is that of an instructor and adviser in matters pertaining to individual and community health. She works both in the homes and in the schools of the county. In the homes she not only advises in the prevention of disease, but also demonstrates the proper nursing care of the sick. Pre-natal cases, infant welfare cases (the right care of babies so as to keep them well), tubercular cases, and any type of case having to do with physical health, lie within the scope of her activities. In the schools she stands for good health for the growing children; she gives classroom talks on health, and she inspects for symptoms of physical defects those pupils selected by the teachers as seemingly below normal physically. This school inspection is not compulsory, and parents who do not wish it for their children, may have them excused by notifying the teachers by means of notes.

Mrs. Smith is being introduced throughout the county to the physicians and county officials and others interested in the establishment of this work in the county by Miss Jane C. Allen, the State Advisory Nurse, who is in charge of the organizing work for the Tuberculosis Association. Later on a schedule of visits to the different sections of the county will be worked out and Mrs. Smith will make regular trips each month.

COFFEE CLUB MAKES START AT MEMORIAL

Committee Named to Submit Plans November 21

TO MEET AT CLUB ROOMS

Already Have Fund of $100 as a Nucleus for Building

The regular monthly meeting of the Hillsboro Coffee Club was held Nov. 8, at the Cong. church. The Club decided that the time had come to form a Study Dept., and all interested, whether members of the Club now or not, are invited to meet at the Hillsboro Club Rooms, in the Tammie Block, Friday afternoon, Nov. 21, at 2:30 p. m., to discuss plans.

The dinner committee reported almost $100 in the bank as a beginning of the Memorial Community House fund. A community house committee consisting of Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Harbison, Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. Koerber, was appointed to have plans ready by the next meeting.

The Club decided to make all teachers in our city schools honorary members.

The topic of the day was "Health," and Mrs. Sadie Ordunbar, of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association, was the speaker.

She gave a very interesting account of the Public Health question in Oregon and of the work of the Tuberculosis Association in particular. The work of this Association is taken care of by the funds accumulated by the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals. One activity is the introducing of the county health nurse to the different counties, by taking care of her for three months for the county. Mrs. Dunbar introduced to the Coffee Club Mrs. Smith, who will come to Washington County this week to be our health nurse.

After delightful musical numbers by Mrs. Glenn Payne and Miss Ruth Helms, the Club enjoyed a social hour.

Secretary.

EPISCOPAL DRIVE

Financial Campaign details for the Nation-Wide Campaign in the diocese of Oregon were threshed out this week at a conference held in Portland, at which all the clergy of the Episcopal Church in Oregon, headed by Bishop Sumner, and the leaders of the Campaign in every community, met with John L. Etheridge, diocesan Campaign chairman.

The National-Wide Campaign is a great spiritual movement now before the Episcopal Church, and it is destined to fit the church for the new era of work which faces it.

The Campaign is not so much for the purpose of raising a certain sum of money, but to bring to its fullest expression the full power of Episcopalians to meet the task confronting all religious bodies in the period of world adjustment.

The national organization executive of the Campaign is Henry B. Davison, who donated his time during the war as chairman of the War council of the American Red Cross. While it is expected there will be a money Campaign during some part of the National-Wide Campaign, this feature of the Campaign is not emphasized by nation leaders.

V. W. Gardner, Miss Lake, Miss Helen Wilcox and Mrs. C. W. Rollins are the delegates from Hillsboro.

Omer J. Vuylsteke and Miss Alma Cook were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Schlaus, of near North Plains, November 11, 1919. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Koeh, of south of Cornelius, and the groom is well known here, having been employed at the Zina Wood ranch for several years. The bride has been employed with Mrs. Wood over an extended period. The happy couple will reside at the Wood ranch, south of the city, for the immediate future. Both are popular young people and have a host of friends who are tendering congratulations.
