

MOTHERS GO TO SCHOOL TO LEARN DRESSMAKING

Where Philadelphia Crown-Ups are Taught Dressmaking

A surprisingly large number of women in Philadelphia, as in other big cities, don't know how to make dresses or trim hats. One of the activities which Community Service has started in the Pennsylvania metropolis is a series of night classes where women can learn these things together with other domestic arts.

The women meet in a public school, sit at the desks like regular pupils and find the blackboard a great help in the study of patterns.

Simple garments for the children form the first objects of study for the beginners. With a little girl as model, with the blackboard patterns, a tape measure, and an efficient teacher, the class is making rapid progress.

"So that's the way to cut out a shoulder!" sighed one mother in relief when the first demonstration ended. "I never could make 'em come together right under the arm."

"And that's a button-hole, is it?" said another. "Well, it won't ever bother me again, for sure."

It looks as though any number of Philadelphia children were going to be dressed more inexpensively and more prettily—and more easily—than ever before.

SUPPORT LEGION

The Episcopal Church in Oregon has gotten behind the American Legion. Bishop Sumner has written to every Episcopal Clergyman, urging that he take immediate steps to support the American Legion in every way in his community, and if there be no American Legion Post to do all he can towards its organization.

The nation-wide campaign of the church, including a great Americanization program, aims to turn disloyal and ignorant citizens into loyal ones.

Co-operation with the American Legion in its own aims, is one of the best ways to accomplish this end, the Bishop believes.

Bishop Sumner said: "At this critical time of unrest and possible revolution full membership in the American Legion is all important. The American Legion is one of the most practical ways of Americanization of the foreign-born."

"In my judgment the American Legion stands as one of the most potent forces in the country in the direction of order and loyalty. I trust the clergy of our church will give special attention to the ideals for which the American Legion stands, as named in the preamble of its constitution. As part of the work of its nation-wide campaign the Episcopal church plans a gigantic Americanization plan, and in the process of this plan it intends to work hand in hand with the American Legion."

When you buy that Xmas present don't forget the Hillsboro Pharmacy.

E. Wiebold, of Shefflin, was transacting business in the county seat Saturday afternoon.

Chris Reichen, who is entered for his 15th year of the Argus, was a caller the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Landauer, of Calwa City, Cal., arrived Sunday night, and Joseph Landauer, of The Dalles, arrived Saturday, to attend the funeral of their mother, the late Mrs. Paul Landauer, of West Union.

Chas. G. Koeber, brother of H. T. Koeber, left Laurel, Monday, for Petaluma, Cal., to visit his son, who is residing in the city that turns out thousands of incubators each year. He may remain indefinitely in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Metzler, of Fern Hill, returned the last of the week from a three months' visit with relatives at Belleville, Ill., and say that Oregon, after all, is the finest home state. They say that farmers are prosperous back there, but they raise no crop like Oregon's. The cold wave struck the Mississippi Valley before they departed for home, and they were glad to get back to the mild climate of the Coast.

S. Cooper, one of the pioneer agents for the Oregon Electric after an absence of several years down in the Lakeview, Southern Oregon, section, where he has been farming, arrived here the last of the week to take up his residence. Cooper spent the day greeting oldtime friends and many there were who did not recognize him until he started their memories working. He expects to buy a small piece of ranch property and try the simple life.

FORD

The Universal Car

Insist on Genuine Ford Parts

Imitation "Ford" parts are being sold by many mail-order houses, down-town stores and garages to unsuspecting Ford owners as "Ford" parts. But they are not Genuine Ford parts made by the Ford Motor Company. They are made by concerns who have no connection whatsoever with the Ford Motor Company. These imitation parts are not even made from the same grade of steel, or under the same formulas used by the Ford Company. They are counterfeit parts. Tests have shown them to break when the genuine Ford parts didn't even bend, and they generally are from thirty-five to one hundred per cent lower in quality.

The authorized Ford Dealer is your protection. As such, we handle nothing but the Genuine Ford parts. They are made from the famous Ford Vanadium Steel and each part—according to its use—is heat-treated in the way that will give it the longest wearing qualities. Every part is the same as its duplicate in your Ford car or Ford truck.

Our stock of parts is complete. And our Ford garage and Ford mechanics are at your service at all times. Drive in when replacements or repairs for your Ford car may be necessary. Save your car and also your money.

Is Every Animal At Its Best?

Don't let your stock lose their Summer's gain through November neglect. Your animals are now going on dry feed—hay and grain.

It's a big change from the succulent, nutritious grasses of summer pastures which supply the needed laxatives and tonics.

Keep your animals' bowels open and regular—drive out the worms—keep their blood rich and keep their digestion good by feeding regularly.

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

A Conditioner and Worm Expeller

Don't allow your stock to "get off feed" and in a run-down condition.

Condition your cows for calving by feeding Dr. Hess Stock Tonic before freshing. Then feed it regularly to increase the flow of milk. It lengthens the milking period.

Buy Stock Tonic according to the size of your herd. Get from your dealer two pounds for each average hog, five pounds for each horse, cow or steer, to start with, feed as directed and then watch results.
