VAN KLEEK AND SONS WORLD CHAMPION

Lulu Alpha of Ashburn Eclipse World Record of all Dairy Stock
BEST IN THE DAIRY WORLD
Kinton Dairymen Capture Honors of State, County and World

The greatest young cow of the dairy world is owned by J. J. VanKleek & Sons, of Kinton, south of Beaverton. On November 22, 1919, Lulu Alpha of Ashburn won the world's record as a producer of butter fat for one year in the senior yearling sired by St. Mawes of Ashburn, a bull from the famous Ed. Carey herd, and her dam is Wilda of Ashburn Second, a line-bred representative of the Golden Glow's Chief family. She therefore combines the blood of St. Mawes and Golden Glow's Chief—the two outstanding sires of the Jersey breed in Oregon.

Experts who have seen this wonderful heifer believe she will eventually break the world's record of all-age cows, now held by an Oregon cow, Vivi La France. During the test-year of Lulu Alpha she was fed, cared for and milked by W. A. VanKleek, who has proved himself a herdsman of note. He milked three times daily with no holidays or vacations.

class, eclipsing not only the Jersey record, but the record of all breeds of her age. According to the announcement of the American Jersey Cattle Club this phenomenal heifer produced from Nov. 30, 1918, to Nov. 30, 1919, milk weighing 13,668.7 pounds, and testing 5.85 per cent. butter fat, and her total butter fat production was for the year's test 800.08 lbs. The test was under the supervision of the Oregon Agricultural College, and proof tests were made by the University of California; University of Idaho, and the Washington State College.
The result pronounces Lulu Alpha of Ashburn the greatest cow of her age known of record. The test commenced when she was 22 months old, and the results proclaim her champion of all breeds in butter fat production.
The champion was bred by J. M. Dickson & Son, of Shedd, Linn County, Oregon, and at the age of nine months was sold to VanKleek & Sons, the sum paid being quoted at $150—the smallest sum ever paid for a cow, considering her production. She was of the war were shown in the Argus office, Monday, by Mr. Dorland. The list included the German Iron Cross and a brass screw out of the submarine which sunk the Lusitania. Young Neilsen had seven bullets put through his caudal while crawling along a dead-furrow in the Argonne.

Parly will pay cash for a place that suits. Please give complete description and full particulars.—Ralph Harris Company, 827 Chamber Commerce, Portland. 41-4

BANKS TO VOTE

Banks will vote for and against incorporation on January 15, and it is said that a majority for incorporation will be returned without question. Banks want water works and other municipal improvements and want to get a charter so the expense will fall on the just and the others alike.
Walter VanDyke, of Verboort, was a city caller Monday.

STATE COM. LEVIES FOR MARKET ROAD

Neighborhood of $37,000 Will Come to This County

COUNTY MUST MATCH IT Levy Does not Come Under the Six Per Cent. Limitation Law

The State Highway Commission has levied a one mill tax on the state valuation of county property for the purpose of building market roads, and this means, of course, that Washington County must raise dollar for dollar in order to get the state fund. The county must pay $29,000 of this anyway, whether or not it gets any of it, for it comes to us in the form of a state levy, and if we do not match it we simply lose that much. In other words, if we do not levy an amount equal to the $29,000 and about $8,000 more in order to balance the differential that comes to us from Multnomah, making a total of $37,000 we get what the boy got "when he shot."
This levy, under the law, does not come under the state limitation six per cent. law.
This levy being de facto the state tax levy in the county budget is not high enough, and this will be remedied at the coming budget session.
Market roads have received the endorsement of the Grangers, and it will mean a big help towards better roads.

A WORD IN TIME

There are numerous cases of scarlet fever and smallpox in a very light form reported from time to time in parts of the county, the origin of which seems in no ways traceable.

These cases are not easily recognized and it is desirable that the families having children with suspicious eruptions or severe sore throats call in their family physicians for advice. It is frequently through light cases of contagious diseases that epidemics follow, which it is desirable to avoid.

County Health Officer for Washington County, Oregon.

SAVES GIRL FROM PEN

Mr. McClaran, of the Oregon Prison Society Saturday procured a habeas corpus writ and secured possession of Alta Brooks, the 16 year old former Gaston girl, when she was being conveyed through Portland by a Walla Walla prison official. Alta had been given 5 years in the pen by a Vancouver, Wash., judge, for the theft of an auto. The McCool girl, aged about 18, who was with the Brooks girl in the theft and sentenced at the same time, also came under the authority of the writ and the two girls are being held in Portland pending the settlement of the habeas corpus legality.

KERR-BECK

Arthur W. Kerr and Miss Ruth Beck, of Gaston, were united in marriage, Saturday, Dec. 20, 1919, at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Clay Freeman, Rev. Walton Skipworth officiating. After a short wedding trip the newly weds departed for Creswell, where they will make their future home, and where the groom and his father, W. T. Kerr, have a thousand acres under leasehold and are engaged in raising stock.

L. G. Weidewitsch, of Cornelius, was greeting friends in the city the first of the week.

Want to Buy—A good family cow, giving milk.—Telephone 2821, Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cooley, of Laurel, were Hillsboro callers Monday.

John Kamms, of Farmington, was up to the city the last of the week.

Mrs. Chas. Elwell, of Portland, was in the city Sunday, called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. U. G. Gardner.

Otto Brosch, of Timber, has bought the L. H. Shirley home, and will take possession in a few days.

Beginning with Monday, the hours of daylight will lengthen, and while the increase isn't much it will help some.
The mild weather had bored a hole into the nearly two feet of snow by Monday morning, and Mother Earth showed many spots here and there.

L. R. Campbell, of Scholls, who postponed his dairy stock sale scheduled for the cold snap, was in the city Saturday. He will hold his sale on January 3.

Taken Up—Black pony, about 4 years; unbroke. Owner prove property, pay charges and take same away.—A. C. Alford, Buxton, Ore. 40-42

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Freeman departed Tuesday for Creswell, to spend the Christmas season with Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kerr. They will return Saturday.

For Sale—Ten acres, close to Hillsboro; good house and orchard, barn, running water on the place; a good home.—Inquire at 846 First St., city. 40-42

The Argus wishes its over 2000 subscribers in Washington County a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and the same message is sent to its over 200 in other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Mills, of Shady Brook, were Hillsboro visitors Monday. Mills is the recognized chef of the K. P. lodge at North Plains when the boys put on a big feed, and he "knows how."

A. B. Spittler, of Timber, now one of the pioneers of the new lumbering point, was down to the city Monday, on legal business. He says the snowfall was no heavier up at Timber than down at the county seat.

On Friday, January 2, the Budget Meeting for the county's 1920 tax expenditure for all purposes will be held in Hillsboro. The session will be important in more ways than one and every taxpayer has a voice in the proceedings. A big crowd is expected.

The snows played havoc with the Mongolian pheasants, and many have been found dead in the drifts now that the snow has melted. Many farmers fed these birds, as well as all others of the feathered tribe. Farmers report that the Chinas in some localities came in and took pot luck with the chickens.

For sale: 18-acre farm, including stock and implements; all under cultivation except 3/4 acre; 3 miles south of Hillsboro; quarantine; seven room modern house on place. For further information write or see W. H. Weinecke, Hillsboro, R. 5. 80-41

Arthur Spiesschart, farming on the Tongue place, near Mountaine, was in town Monday. Arthur says that several deer came down from the mountains during the big snowfall and visited various ranches in quest of food. Two or three crossed the Tongue ranch, and the place was visited by many Chinas and quail, which were fed by Spiesschart for several days.

CANNERY PLANS

The ground floor blue print for the new cannery is now in the hands of the promoters, and the specifications follow lines for the finest plant ever installed in the county along cannery construction. The building will be constructed for convenience, and conveyors will be installed at all points where quick carriage is a necessity. A woman's rest room is to be one of the features, and the facilities for shipping from the curing room will be splendid. The whole plan of building has been such as to make it a model affair.

PYTHIANS HONOR A DISTINGUISHED GUEST

Supreme Chancellor Chas. S. Davis, of Denver, Officially Visits WAS GIVEN A BIG OVATION

Highest Official of Pythianom Spends Friday Evening in City

Chas. S. Davis, Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, visited in Hillsboro Friday, in his official capacity as the head of the great order, and was the guest of Phoenix Lodge No. 34 and members of North Plains, Cornelius, Forest Grove, Gaston, Yamhill and McMinnville. Chancellor Davis arrived at 5:45 in company with Walter Gleason, G. K. of R. & S., Vice Chancellor Clark; Supreme Representative Frank S. Grant, Grand Master of Finance Bellagh, and Past G. C. Emil Waldman. The party were entertained at dinner at the Hotel

Washington, being met by Past Grand Chancellor John M. Wall, Wm. G. Hare and L. A. Long.

R. Frank Peters called the awaiting Knights to order in the Castle Hall, at 8 o'clock sharp, and when the gavel fell it is estimated that 250 devotees of Damon and Pythias were hosts to the distinguished visitor.

A class of 36 Pages were given the initial rank in the order in a ceremonial that was one of the most impressive ever witnessed in this section of the Domain.

The team conferring the primary rank consisted of R. F. Peters, chancellor commander; Dr. E. T. Helms, lecturer; W. N. Harris, vice chancellor; John Boeker, Prelate; John W. Connell, Master-at-work; L. A. Long, master-at-arms; J. H. Garrett, inner guard; John Gotlieb, outer guard; assisting master-at-arms with the flag ceremonial, E. L. Perkins and Wm. Taylor; escorts in uniform, F. J. Sewell in command—S. E. Fayram, Aug. Tews, Will Taylor, Ralph Deaville, J. D. Anderson, Leo Perkins, C. A. Hande and Russell Morgan. E. L. Moore had charge of the overhead lighting and L. W. House operated the machine in the lecture on the order's basic foundation.

The music for the floor work was rendered by Glen Payne. After the rank was conferred the assembly listened to a wonderful address by the Supreme Chief, in which he extolled Americanism to the limit, explained how the great fraternal organizations were in a position to educate the masses to a higher sense and appreciation of citizenship, and demonstrated the necessity of Pythians, as well as other fraternalists, taking hold of the great and burning questions of the hour, when it looks as though Americanism is trembling in the balance. The Chief complimented the order on its accession in Monday night's class, of many young men who were serving their country in the recent war. His democratic manner, his charm of personality, and his forcible way of calling things by their right names, earned for him the tremendous ovation given him at the conclusion of his hour.

Frank S. Grant, of Portland, followed in one of his characteristic addresses—and Frank is the real historian of Pythianism.

After the ceremonial and addresses the meeting adjourned to a splendid cafeteria luncheon, prepared by the committee, comprised of Wm. Nelson, Hal Taylor, August Tews and Alfred Morgan.

The visit accorded Hillsboro is perhaps the greatest honor ever accorded a Washington County fraternal organization. Never before has a National Executive of so great an order visited the city, and perhaps the event will never be repeated. Every Pythian, from the youngest down to the veterans of 30 and 40 years, feels the stimulus of the consideration shown a lodge and district, and the session will long be historic.
