THE LATE DR. BAILEY

When a man passes the three score years and ten by a decade and rounds out a well-ordered life in a community, passing away with the esteem of an entire commonwealth, he has not lived in vain. He has left an example well worth while, and there is no thought of him but is replete with tenderness, esteem and well-deserved encomiums. Such is the legacy left by the late Dr. F. A. Bailey, who for many years ministered to the sick of Hillsboro and Washington County. His name for more than a generation was a household word, and his presence always sensed the deepest respect for his ability as a physician; his broadmindedness as a man of affairs, and his position as a factor in our every-day life as one who was a splendid judge of the law of averages in this vale of joy and tears. His deep sense of justice in no way abated even in his declining years, and his abiding faith in rectitude was his highest worth, after all is said and done. He is mourned by a multitude who knew him as he was, a man of rare ability, justice-loving, kindly, ever ready to help the weak and erring, and always with a word of encouragement to those who were deserving, and many times assisting those who were not. Taken by and large, we rarely look upon his like, and in speaking of the fullness of his life, his genuine worth, his spotless manhood, and his wonderful devotion to his home ties, we dumbly deplore the inadequacy of the English language in which he was so richly versed. There is neither finite nor infinite reason why he will not "rest well."

WM. B. JOLLY

William B. Jolly, residence at No. 572 Maple Ave., Portland, passed away January 24, 1920, after about a year of indisposition. He was a son of the late Rev. William Jolly, who settled north of Hillsboro in 1847. Deceased was born in Knox County, Ill., May 26, 1843, and came to Oregon with his parents in 1847. He was married Nov. 9, 1863 to Harriet Griffin, daughter of Rev. J. S. Griffin, pioneer of 1839. The wife died Oct. 25, 1877. He was married to Hattie E. Woodworth, of Marion County, April 10, 1879, who with the following children, survives: Mrs. W. N. Sawyer, of New Westminister, B. C.; Inez, Hattie, Roland and Margaret, at home. Of his immediate family he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Nomanda J. Thein, of Aberdeen, Wn., and Mrs. Adeline Beardsley, of Hillsboro, is a niece, and W. W. Williams, of above Mountindale, a nephew.

The funeral was held at Portland at 2 p. m., Monday, and interment was in the Rose City cemetery.

Mr. Jolly lived here for many years, and up to within a few years still held his ranch property northeast of this city. He was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends in this county.

The two stage lines between here and Portland, operating heretofore as the Auto Transit Co. and the United Motor Bus Co. have consolidated and are now conducting the business under the name and style of the Auto Transit Co. Their service is the finest of the fine; lands you in the city without a stop, and in less time than the trains. Try their service.

Frank C. Francis, of south of Oak Park, was a city caller Wednesday.

Frank Rowell, of Scholls, was greeting friends in town the first of the week.

NAMES OF SERVICE DEAD

The American Legion, Department of Oregon, Morgan Building, Portland, Oregon—

The nearest relatives of men who died during the World War are requested to send the full names of the soldiers, sailors or marines making the supreme sacrifice, to the American Legion Post in their locality as soon as possible, in order that the men may be remembered in the presentation of memorial certificates of the French Government.

Presentation ceremonies will be held by local Posts of the American Legion on February 22, 1920, Washington's Birthday.

With the names of men who died, should go the names and addresses of the next of kin, and the probable place where they can be reached on February 22d.

E. J. Eivers, State Adjutant.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Court of Washington County, Oregon, until two P. M., February 9, 1920, and then opened for the crushing of rock at the following County Plants: Hazeldale, two miles south of Reedville; Luicks, six miles north of Mountindale; Jackson, two miles north of Connell on the United Railway; Beaverton quarry about one mile north of Beaverton; Hillside quarry about six miles northwest of Forest Grove; Laurel quarry near Laurel; and Manning quarry northwest of Banks.

The County will furnish machinery and tools.

A certified check for $100.00 must accompany each bid, and the Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Specifications may be seen at the office of the County Judge.

By order of the County Court, dated this 27th day of January, 1920.

J. W. Goodin, County Judge.

For Sale: Hill-grown Burbanks select stock, delivered in town on orders, at houses.—C. O. Hornceker, Hillsboro, R. 3. Telephone 33RX5. Also have several tons loose mixed and clover hay for sale. 45-47

Roy Rice has taken a position as head filer for the Standard Box at Seefeld, and has moved there with his family.

Bessie May Crawford has asked the court to give her a decree of divorce from Jos. Nelson Crawford. She says they were married at Vancouver in 1916, and for over three years has scandalized herself and himself by improper conduct with other "ladies" and has made uncomplimentary remarks about her personal appearance. She says the husband is an engineer and makes from $7 to $8 per day, and she asks for $25 monthly for her support and $30 monthly for the support of the child, of which she asks custody.

A. B. Schoonover has sued the Pacific Potato Starch Co. on a promissory note for $235.76, given Dec. 2, 1918, and no part of which, principal or interest, has been paid.

Try Tanlac for that tired feeling, nothing better for giving strength and toning up the system.

R. Linton, of Belknap Plains, was in the city Monday afternoon and called on the religious weekly.

Carl Berggren, of North Plains, was over to the city Monday morning.

Daniel Wooten, of above Mountindale, was in town Tuesday.

By W. W. Downs, Deputy. H. B. Adams, Chamber of Commerce Building, Portland, Ore., Attorney for Plaintiff.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Hillsboro, Ore., Jan. 25, 1920.

Editor of The Argus:

As I sat in the Congregational Church of this city this afternoon and listened to the tributes and comforting words made in recognition of the life and work of the late Dr. F. A. Bailey, I could not help but think of that greater tribute which has been paid to him, and will be paid for many years to come.

I am a comparatively new comer in Washington County, only six years, but in that time I have heard tributes of respect paid by grateful patients to the memory of the good deeds of the late Dr. S. T. Linklater. The homely statement, "He was very good to us and we do miss him," has fallen from the lips of many with whom my activities have brought me.

How it is possible to get along without Dr. Bailey will be no less of a problem to those who have been benefited by his ministrations. It is not easy to lose one in whom you have reposed confidence and trust and who has helped you through trying sickness and distress. No one could have done better.

Personally, I shall miss him much, for he has been a competitor for whom I have the highest respect. In the consultations which I have had with him and at which times I have benefited by his advice and help, I have found him a courteous gentleman, a kind and good friend and one who spoke his mind honorably and with conviction. He is an example of professional life, courtesy and ethics that any physician might copy with credit and benefit.
