

ADVISORY BOARD FOR BEST UPLIFT WORK

R. Frank Peters Selected as the Chairman of Body

BOARD FORMED LAST WEEK

Home Service Program Outlined for Year 1920

To what extent and what manner the Salvation Army may most effectively exert its constructive social effort in Washington County will be determined by the County Advisory Board organized here Friday night, at a meeting held in the Commercial Club Rooms. The Board, which is composed of some of the County's foremost business men, and civic leaders, thoroughly discussed the advantages of the step before organizing, and came to the conclusion that the Salvation Army Home Service Program for 1920, as explained to them by Mr. W. S. Parks, Field Representative of the Army, offers a valuable opportunity for Washington County to avail itself of the social service facilities of the great Salvation Army organization.

Hereafter the Advisory Board, whose chairman is R. Frank Peters, will constitute the directing force governing the Army's work in this county. Its members, in addition to Mr. Peters, the chairman, are: Fred Holzmueller, vice chairman; J. H. Garrett, Secretary; B. W. Barnes, E. Schulerich, W. W. Boccow, E. L. Moore, Dr. E. T. Helms, Ralph Easter, Wm. Bergen, Geo. E. Allen and J. M. Goar.

This body is to study certain phases of social and moral conditions that may exist in the county, and report this to the state headquarters of the army in Portland. There the situation will be revealed and the Army officials will take such action as may be deemed necessary to meet it, utilizing to best advantage their trained personnel and the numerous departments and institutions.

Similar Boards are being formed in every county in the state, Mr. Parks explained, and will in like manner study their field and report, thus giving the State officials of the Army a comprehensive view of the entire Oregon situation. They will thus be in a position to locate accurately the State "sore spots" and concentrate their efforts, if necessary, at a particular point or points. In addition, the Board will keep in close touch with the situation here, and opportunities for the Army can be brought to its attention, or can ask for help whenever an emergency arises. The Army's numerous institutions in this and adjoining States, such as Rescue Homes, Industrial Homes, Girls' Boarding Homes, Employment Bureaus, and Orphanages, can be placed directly at the service of the people of this county.

It is not thought that conditions in Washington County will be found worse than in any other county of similar population or location, but it is expected that the study will reveal the manner and places in which the Salvation Army may make its work more efficient. Mr. Parks emphasized the point that care must be taken to see that the Army did not duplicate any work now being done by similar agencies, and he declared his belief that it has always covered a field not reached by any other organization. The formation of a strong Board here, it was felt, would give double assurance against any duplication of effort.

J. C. Kuratli, Auctioneer.

John Hay, of Portland, was out to the city Tuesday afternoon, looking after the interests of the firm with which he is associated in the Rose City. John says that the old town is blossoming out like the proverbial rose and green bay tree, and he is always ready to acclaim this as his birth-town wherever he goes. ## NO TIME EXTENSION FOR FILING REPORTS

Collector Milton A. Miller Sends Argus Ruling

IF YOU EMPLOY, READ IT

Must be in Hands of Collector by March 15th

Complete returns of individuals, partnerships, fiduciaries and corporations must be in the hands of Milton A. Miller, Collector of Internal Revenue, Portland, Oregon on or before March 15th, 1920.

This also applies to the information returns. In addition to the income tax statements required by law, all individuals, partnerships, fiduciaries and corporations having made payments during the year of $1,000 or over to any one person (which includes salaries, wages, fees, commissions, rent, interest, premiums and annuities) must file information returns on Form 1099, accompanying said Form with letter of transmission on Form 1096. These information returns must be forwarded directly to Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sorting Division, Washington, D. C.

Last year, if having good and sufficient reason it was found impossible to complete a return by March 15th, corporations, individuals and partnerships were permitted to file on or before March 15th, a tentative return and were given an extension of 45 days in which to file a complete return. Conditions which justified such extensions do not exist this year.

Where additional time is actually required because of illness or absence, an extension of time not to exceed 30 days may be granted upon written application therefor made before the return is due. This, however, only applies to specific cases of illness or absence.

Where a fiscal year has been established in the Collector's office the due date of filing Income Tax Returns is the fifteenth day of the third month from the close of the accounting period, but this does not apply to the information returns referred to which must be filed as above.

Alta Miller, of Portland, has sued P. H. Miller for a decree of divorce, alleging all kinds of cruelty. She says they were married in Vancouver, Wash., Sept. 30, 1919, and within three days after the ceremony he commenced treating her in an unheard-of manner. The complaint sets forth that the husband frequently threatened to kill himself, and on Nov. 21, 1919, locked her and her mother in room with defendant, pulled out a knife, tore open his shirt bosom, and told her he was going to kill himself in their presence. But he didn't. He threw the wife on the bed seven or eight times, kicked furniture, and decamped. She says he also would come to a place of business she conducted and threaten to fight all the employees—and she wants the Court to untie the knot that is so burdensome and give her back her maiden name of Woolley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hay, of Astoria, motored up the Columbia. Monday, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Imbric, of Orenco and relatives at Cornelius and Forest Grove, for a few days the first of the week. Ben says that Hillsboro has improved wonderfully since last he visited the place where he spent his boyhood. Ben was raised below Newton, and as a barefoot boy knew every toe-smubbing stone from the Hay place to town—and he says he always caught them all, either coming or going. When he came to school and struck a stone he merely skinned the top of the toe but going back a collision meant that a nail came off.

Father J. H. Black, of St. Francis Church, Portland, one of the princes of Prelates of the Catholic Church of the Oregon Diocese, was in town Tuesday afternoon, greeting Hillsboro friends. Father Black still carries that Irish smile with him—the smile that always illumines and puts at ease. For a quarter century he has always called on the Argus in his visitations—and may his visits never grow less frequent.

Ralph Wann, of Portland, came out the last of the week to attend the funeral of his brother, the late Edgar Wann.

Herb Luck was in from near North Plains Tuesday.

Mrs. J. P. McFarland, of Manning, was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson, of North Plains, were city visitors Tuesday.

Fred Goetze and Tony Sinay, of above Blooming, were city callers Tuesday morning.

John and Edw. Boge were in town the first of the week from the Farmington district.

Steve Hollenbeck, of upper East Dairy, above Mountaineale, was in town the first of the week.

For Sale—Two modern, up-to-date 6-room bungalows, on paved street.—Apply 1232 Baseline St., Hillsboro. 50-52

H. H. Boge, one of the oldtimers of the Farmington district, was greeting friends in the city the first of the week.

W. H. Hemsworth, of near Roy, was a city visitor Tuesday. W. H. is waiting for the trout to bite when he will dothrust.

Party wants to borrow $7,000 on 122-acre farm between Hillsboro and Beaverton.—Stroud & Co., Incorporated, Beaverton, Oregon. 51-1f

Harry W. Schofield and May Gheen, of Gales Creek, were united in marriage at Forest Grove, Feb. 21, 1920, Rev. Carlos, of Forest Grove, officiating.

Eugene Loving and Lola V. Harper, of Gales Creek, were united in marriage at Forest Grove, Feb. 21, 1920, Rev. Carlos performing the ceremony.

Frank Berry, with the Cogan mill below Reedville, was in town Tuesday, coming to meet his brother, Pres Berry, who came in from Montana the first of the week.

F. W. Schilling, of Portland, and Mrs. Fannie Williams, of this county, were married in Hillsboro, Feb. 18, 1920, Rev. Walton Skipworth, of the M. E. Church, officiating.

Wm. Metzler, of South Tualatin, was in the city Tuesday. His wife is in Portland, nursing their daughter, Mrs. Philippi, widow of the late Walter Philippi, ill from influenza.

For sale: Forty-seven head goats, old and young, all fine animals.—H. J. Christensen, Hillsboro, R. 3; two miles north of Helvetia. Phone 16F21 North Plains. 49-51

Mrs. Glen Metzger and children, of St. Helens, are guests of Mrs. Metzger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shannon, of north of Hillsboro. Her brother, 'Chick', has been down with the flu.

Judge A. H. Tanner, of above Gaston, was in the city Monday, enroute to Portland. The Judge is living the "simple life" these days, and says there is no atmosphere like that up on the hills of Washington County.

Thomas J. Shaw, who owns six acres of land near Gaston, has sued Leticia M. Shaw for divorce, alleging desertion in 1916. They lived together nearly eight years, and Shaw says he wants full title to the land in question.

For sale—Carter car, with good engine; suitable for truck purposes. Also 50-gallon gasoline tank; express wagon and milk cooler.—Mrs. Josiah Millar, Reedville, Ore. Phone, Beaverton central. 50-52

Clyde Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Berry, of Sage, Mont., arrived the first of the week to attend the funeral of the late M. C. Lincoln. They report rather dry seasons up in their section of Montana for the last two or three years.

To succeed in this world you must not be handicapped. If you have imperfect vision and wear cheap, inferior glasses you can not expect to compete with the man who wears the best. Dr. Thompson's glasses possess the Quality and are made with Ability. Consult him about your eyes next visit, Saturday, March 6, Washington Hotel, all day. 51-52

Beginning next Monday, March 1, the railroads will no longer be under Federal control, and the companies will have absolute charge of operation, subject, of course, to any state commission regulations. This naturally causes one to look at the local angle, and wonder what the S. P. and O. E. will do in regard to the jitney situation as touching on Hillsboro and Forest Grove. Conductors' punches are getting rusty from non-use from these points into and out of Portland.

ORVILLE PRICKETT PASSES FROM FLU

SPENT HIS LIFE IN COUNTY

Life Full of Promise Brought to Close by Epidemic Last Week

Orville Nathan Prickett, a well known young farmer of near Oak Park, died Feb. 18, from an attack of influenza. He was born near Banks, April 20, 1888, and had resided in this county all his life. He was married to Miss Rose Schlegel, a daughter of John Schlegel, June 11, 1911, and three children were born to the union, two of whom are living. He is survived by the widow and children, Earl, aged five, and Oradelle, aged two; his father, N. S. Prickett; step-mother, Mrs. N. S. Prickett; a sister, Mrs. Wm. Thurston, of near Beaverton; and four brothers, Wm. Prickett, of near Hillsboro; Chas., John and Harley, all of Banks.

The funeral took place from the M. E. Church at Banks, Rev. F. S. Ford conducting services. The church was crowded to capacity, forty Odd Fellows attending in a body, Mr. Prickett having been a member of the Banks Lodge. The Odd Fellows' Ritual was read at the cemetery.

The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, indicative of the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Orville Prickett was a conscientious citizen, living up to ideals that were most worthy. He was reliable, trustworthy in all his dealings; a splendid friend; a loving and indulgent husband and father, and always honored for his strict integrity.

He had been a member of Jericho Lodge, I. O. O. F. for many years, and took a great interest in the work of the order. A host of friends deeply regret his demise and extend to the bereaved family their sincere sympathy.
