VOL. XXVII.

HILLSBORO, OREGON, MARCH 18, 1920.

No. 2.

HARRY GARDNER ON WAY TO STATE PEN

Was Chief of Looters of the C. C. Store Last Wednesday Night

ARRESTED AT VANCOUVER He and Eugene Kelly and Two Girls Figured in the Robbery

Harry Gardner, of Hillsboro, twice an inmate of the Salem penitentiary, is again in the toils of law. Gardner, Eugene Kelly, a Portland crook, and two Portland girls, were the lootors of the C. C. Store, in this city, last Wednesday night. Mabel Loury, one of the girls, rented the car from the Smith Auto Co., and the quartet reached Hillsboro about midnight. Later in the night they posted a sentry, and Gardner entered the building thru the rear window. He took out 69 pairs of shoes and 21 suits of clothes, a dozen pairs of silk hose for men, (they slighted the "ladies in the party") and two suit cases. The Ford started for Portland post haste, and went thru Beaverton at 40 miles per hour. When they struck the Rex Tizard road at Bertha and reached the top of the hill they must have let the flivver take the bit in its teeth, for when they reached the bottom of the hill where it is fenced on both sides, just before the Slavin road branches off, the car commenced to skid a hundred feet before it was wrecked. It struck one side of the fencing, skidded to the other side, striking the posts, and was soon turned turtle, with shoes, suits, shoes and socks scattered all over the road. None of the occupants was injured, but the car was wrecked. A Portland detective passed the road and saw the wreck early in the morning and commenced investigation. He soon found that the car belonged to the Smith Auto Co., and in a few hours Kelly and the two girls were under arrest. Gardner was caught the next day at Vancouver, Wn., and brot to Portland.

Gardner is well known in Hillsboro, having been reared here. He was sent to the pen in July, 1915, for a statutory offense, and it is said served time in the same institution, later, on a charge of burglary from Multnomah County.

Young Gardner was capable in the big timber, and was able to earn seven or eight dollars per day. He chose the easier way of making a living, however, and is now enroute back to the state pen.

ALBERT A. MEAD

Albert A. Mead, well known figure in Hillsboro for a number of years, died at his home in East Hillsboro, March 12, 1920, after an illness which covered a period of several years. He was born in Steuben County, Indiana, June 19, 1847, and when a child moved to Petersburg, Mich., with his parents. He grew to manhood in that state and at the age of 17 enlisted in a Michigan Cavalry regiment and served until the war ended. He came to Oregon in 1882 and after a brief stay went to California, returning here in 1884, making this county his home ever since. He has resided at Buxton and Hillsboro, and had a wide acquaintance all over the county. For many terms he served as bailiff in circuit court. The funeral services were held at the Banks M. E. Church, Sunday, Rev. Ford conducting the service. He was laid to rest by the side of his brother, the late A. E. Mead, in the Banks cemetery. Three brothers survive—M. M. Mead, of Linnton; Cassius R. Mead, of Springfield, Oregon, and L. W. Mead, of Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Mead was held in highest esteem by all who knew him, and his passing is a matter of genuine regret to his numerous friends.

Chas. J. Cowaniah died March 3, 1920, after a short illness. He was born near Cornell Station, in 1852, and has made his home in this county since birth. All his life he has spent on the old Cowaniah homestead. Cowaniah was a typical woodsman, and in early days he was noted as a hunter. He is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Jasper Keffer, and a step-mother, Mrs. Clemens, of near Cornell Station. Deceased was reliable in every way, and had many friends in the section in which he lived.

Richard H. Parson, Cashier of the Bank of Sherwood, was in the city the last of the week. Mr. Parson is an ardent supporter of a good road between here and Sherwood, and asks the Club of Hillsboro to get behind and assist in getting one. The Club will sure do it.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The boys are now passing their tenderfoot tests fast and there is a reason for all of this rush. Last January a rule was passed that all boys who have not passed their tenderfoot test by March 15 will be dropped from their patrol and the ones who have passed their tests, who are not already assigned, will fill their places. All of the Patrol Leaders and assistants have passed, so this doesn't worry them. Scout Master Deck announced that in a week there will be a new election of Patrol Leaders and assistants because some of them don't seem interested enough in the movement.

With each week the baseball season comes closer and the fever is attacking the scouts. The Bob Whites and Eagles held a meeting after the regular meeting, for the purpose of choosing officers for their baseball team. Patrol Leader George Thompson was chosen Captain and Scout Kenneth Linklater was elected manager. They expect to have a good team and Manager Linklater says they want to get in practice as soon as possible so they can be in shape to whip the Beavers and Panthers. The Panthers and Beavers will hold a meeting March 16, for the purpose of choosing their officers for their team.

Dr. J. H. Rossman has ordered a volley ball for the scouts to use after meetings.

Assistant Scout Master R. L. Smith has given us two lessons in signaling and an exhibition was given at the last meeting by two scouts. It is one of the requirements of the secondclass test to be able to signal correctly.

Dr. Helms is giving us instruction on bandaging which is another qualification for the second class scout.

Those who have not yet passed their tenderfoot test have been instructed on knot tying by Scout Master Deck.

Parents of the scouts and those who are interested in scouting are cordially invited to come to scout meetings which are held over the new garage on the corner of Second and Washington. The meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:00.—Scout Scribe.

HILLSBORO VOCAL TALENT IN LEAD

Has Representation in Both U. of O. Glee Clubs

SCORE BIG FOR HILLSBORO

Little Old County Seat Forges to Musical Front

Three Hillsboro girls, Marjorie Wells, Florence Garrett and Miriam Stockton, are members of the Girls' Glee Club. Hillsboro has as big a representation on the Girls' Glee Club as the city of Portland. Added to that the fact of Vincent Engeldinger being accompanist of the same organization and Russell Morgan singing with the Men's Glee Club, it can be seen that Hillsboro students have gained excellent recognition in the musical circles of the university. The explanation for their success lies in two facts which are as follows: First, Hillsboro has had unusually good vocal and instrumental material—students, in other words; second, Hillsboro has had a number of very excellent musical instructors.

Vincent Engeldinger has joined the S-Maralda, a local campus club. Engeldinger says: "They're a fine bunch of fellows and are mostly ex-service men—so I thought I'd join."

Russell Morgan will accompany the Men's Glee Club on its annual tour during spring vacation. Morgan sings second bass in the organization. Programs will be given in Albany, Salem, Bend, The Dalles, Prineville, Pendleton, LaGrande, and Hood River.

Miriam Stockton is now a member of the Girls' Glee Club and will accompany the organization on its spring vacation tour. She sings a second soprano. Miriam is delighted over the prospect of the trip.

John Dierdorff secured second place and Herbert Scheidt ninth place in a psychological test for journalistic aptitude recently taken by over 100 journalism students in the university. John received a total of 225 points and Herbert 205. Dierdorff ranked highest in the Sophomore journalism class of about 20 students and Scheidt ranked sixth in the Freshman class of 70 members.

Florence Garrett and Miriam Stockton visited home over the week-end.

Next week the examinations for the winter term are going to be given. Then will come the spring vacation which starts on March 26. The spring term will commence on April 5. The students all look forward to the time when they will be able to put their feet under pa's table and eat ma's cooking again.—Herbert E. Scheidt.
