WHY KICK, EH?

This is a republic—and, incidentally a good one, altho it makes mistakes. There's the peace treaty shot to pieces and many of a morbid mourn because it is a mort. This reminds us again, at this is a republic and that in the face of a great war the edges, Borahs, Johnsons, et al., and whatnots, aided by every other who hated this country and r. Wilson's administration, shot Congress into power which was contra purposes with the Commander-in-chief of the American Army, honored by the American people. Every malcontent was eased and every anti-American was tickled to death—and were the Lodges and their friends. So was every voter who felt that we were wrong to take fall out of the Teutonic powers because our rights were trampled. A majority should rule, so by complain so long as we hold a representative form of government. Some of these days when the Reds grab at the American goose and start to shut off an American wind perhaps the inheated gazooks who push pencils for the press in behalf of the olitical pirate class will get a jar in their beans which will awaken them to a proper conception of loyalty to country. Meantime let's accept the result with calmness, and swallow the work of the men who received the majority, part of which "didn't want us to lick, or help lick, anyone, 'now."

Travelers along the state highway cannot fail to notice the great growth in building in the Astoria-Cluber section since the road has been open to travel. In a few years all of the territory between here and Portland close to the highway will be a mass of houses, away from high rentals, and close enough in to make the trip to and from Portland in a day, or commute on the electric line. The way things move down that way must make our friend W. A. Shaw feel that he is being rewarded for hanging on for years trying to develop the West Side.

Team for sale: Black mare, coming 7 years, 1460; bay gelding, coming 8 years, 1400; Oliver, satky plow, 14-inch, good condition.—L. N. Rider, Hillsboro, R-1; 1 1/2 miles northeast. 2-4 marks.

Austin Sims, of Farmington, was here yesterday, and while on the street was accosted by a young fellow who wanted a job on the farm. This is the first time in two years that such a thing has happened to Sims. He says that one reason is the fact that farmers have most of the work out of the way owing to the dry and open winter.

Henry G. Guild, well known here, was in town the past week, and is now residing out in the Lents country. H.
