MEDALS GO OUT

The distribution of the Oregon State War Medals to be presented by the State of Oregon to all its men and women who served in the world war commenced Friday morning. The Hillsboro Post, No. 6, of the American Legion, which is acting as the agent of the State Military Department in making these awards, has arranged for the distribution to be made at the Weil Department Store, by Morris Weil and R. G. Cull, both members of the Hillsboro Post. Ex-service men who entered the service from this state may call there at any time and receive their medal.

The medal is a handsome one and any service man may well be proud of wearing this official recognition of a grateful state. The only procedure for the members of the American Legion is to sign up a receipt for the records of the State Military Department, providing the information which has been asked for at various times of the members of Hillsboro Post has been sent, thus allowing the Post Adjutant to certify their names to the Adjutant-General. Otherwise the discharge papers will be presented in evidence of the fact of enlistment from this State.

Posthumous awards are now being arranged by the Post to all the families of the men who if they had lived would have been entitled to the award. These will be distributed at a very early date.

Particular attention is called to the fact that since the American Legion has grown to such an extent and has been so closely in touch with the various organizations of the Government, it becomes the logical organization to take up the matters relating to any claim a service man may have against the Government. Bureaus for the handling of Liberty Bonds, allotments, deferred pay, bonus, soldiers' effects and others are being maintained.

The local post has the advantage of this service, and urges that every ex-service man or anyone having an unsettled claim communicate with the Post Adjutant. The limit of the resources of the American Legion is pledged to all such cases.

FARM ACCOUNT BOOKS

Farm account books are being used by 1925 farmers in Washington County, representing a saving in time and money to every man who has one. The department of farm management of O. A. C. prepared this account book and distributed it through the county agent and local banks. It aids the farmer in keeping detailed and summarized records and accounts, and assists him in interpreting the results of his business for the year.

The book gives a man a record and tells him where he stands at the end of the year; it gives him reliable information for correct filing of income tax returns, which may save him money as he might otherwise overlook expenditures, or fail to make use of their inventory power when making his report; and such records also give the information necessary for determining the cost of producing various farm products.

Mayor L. A. Jackson, of Cornelius, was in the city the last of the week.
