

VISITORS SEE WHAT OTHERS CAN NOT

Predicts a big Future for Hillsboro and Vicinity

TAKES RIDE IN COUNTRY

Says Thousands of Acres of Small Fruit are Coming

A visitor from abroad looked over Hillsboro the other day, took a trip out in the country for ten miles, and returned by a circuitous route, and this is what he said on arriving back to the city:

"I belong to the church and do not make bets, but I want to wager almost any sum that Hillsboro is going to be some town with in a very few years. You have a natural site for a city of ten thousand, and when people get awakened to the fact that nowhere in Oregon is there a better territory for small fruits you will see thousands of acres of berry yards—and the demand for the small fruits, since prohibition has arrived, is enormous. No one realizes it more than I, who have been traveling for the past year. When I return here two years hence I expect to see thousands of acres in logan and straw berries where there is now only an acre of each. I expect to see several canneries contemplated, and I shall be disappointed if I do not witness a prosperity that will amaze the most optimistic of your citizens. Your transportation facilities and the fact that you are on a paved boulevard, makes for better conditions—you have the soil; the climate; the possibilities for big things which are going to realization, and, old man, when I come back here two years hence I am going to ask you to dig up your files and read what I am now predicting."

"The trouble with your people is that they do not realize what they have in hand—but I see a big canneries about completed, and it is a 'cinche' some one is getting in on the ground floor for the bigger things coming."

WILLAMETTE U.

A. F. Flegel and J. W. Day, of Portland, were in the city Tuesday evening, for the purpose of organizing for a campaign to raise $100,000 for Willamette University, at Salem. The idea is to create organizations and start the ball rolling for a campaign later on to hustle for funds. The gentlemen met with a number of townsmen and a dinner was enjoyed at the Washington Hotel. The committee was selected as follows: James R. Forsythe, deputy at the post office, chairman; H. L. Greer, R. A. Carlile, A. J. Cook, J. W. Connell, I. M. Irwin, Dr. L. W. Hyde and L. Shinnaberger.

Just as soon as the state organization allots the quota for Hillsboro the committee will start operations.

The Argus will pay you cash for good clean rags.

FARM RECORDS

Corvallis, May 5.—"Why keep farm records?" Because it pays to be accurate and to know the cost of producing your farm products. The farm records furnish the only sure way to determine what labor has produced during the year.

Realizing the need for accurate and complete accounts R. V. Gunn, farm management demonstrator of the college in cooperation with the United States department of agriculture and the Oregon Bankers' association have published a farm record book which may be secured at cost of the local banks.

The farm records give definite facts and figures. It has proven a great help in figuring income taxes. In order to make an intelligent and a reliable statement it is necessary to keep such records as are provided for in this book. Until the farmer can submit reliable figures as to the actual cost of production he is not in a position to demand a fair and satisfactory price for his products or to farm on the most efficient basis. Mr. Gunn advises the farmer to get the habit of paying farm expenses by check. The cancelled check or check stub serves not only as a receipt, but also as a record from which accounts may be posted later when necessary.

CHILD INJURED

The little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Coslett, of First and Baseline, was injured Sunday, having been struck by an auto driven by A. J. Bailey, of Portland. The boy suffered a fractured leg but was not otherwise injured. The child was being led around a machine near the Coslett home, when Mr. Bailey drove past the machine accidentally striking the lad. No blame was attached to Mr. Bailey. Dr. Robb reduced the fracture. The driver is connected with the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company, of Portland.

VANOUDEHAEGEN-GNOS

Joseph Vanoudenhaegen and Miss Selma M. Gnos were united in marriage at St. Matthews' Church, Wednesday morning, May 5, 1920, at 9:30, Rev. Father J. C. Heesacker, of St. Mary's Home, officiating. The groomsmen was Arnold Gnos, a brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Miss Johanna Vanoudenhaegen, a sister of the groom.

After the ceremony the wedding party motored to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anton Gnos, of Iowa Hill, where a wedding breakfast was enjoyed.

The groom is a prosperous young farmer of North Cornelius, and both bride and groom have a host of friends in Washington County who wish them much happiness.

All grades of powder have advanced $1.25 per hundred. Having a limited amount on hand I will sell at the old price as long as it lasts. Customers intending to do more grubbing should get what they want now. It will be higher next fall.—W. L. Stevens, Laurel Store. 2tf

H. A. L.'S LOSE GAME TO KIRKPATRICKS

Nearly Six Hundred Fans Attend the Opening of Ball Season

BALMY WEATHER ON DECK

Boys Not Discouraged Remembering History of Big Things

It is a matter of history that the Allies in the World War did not win the initial engagements over in France but ultimately won the pennant from Kaiser Bill—so, too, it is history that Hillsboro's H. A. L.'s did not win the initial game of baseball in the Inter-City League last Sunday at Athletic Park. The score Sunday stood just about the same as the Allies first score against the Huns 13 to 0.

About 600 fans and fanettes turned out Sunday afternoon to see Bill Healey's ball tossers from Portland take the H. A. L. team into camp to the tune of 13 to 0. Of course, that 13 is going to be unlucky for the Kirks, and that goose-egg is going to hatch for the Hillsboro team and bring home the bacon in the end. Lack of practice and over-confidence is ascribed as the cause of our defeat.

Manager Sexton and his boys, however, are not discouraged, and they are out every evening digging into the game. He has signed up some more men, and by next Sunday, when the locals take on the Multnomah Guards there may be a different story to tell.

Seven hits off Hillsboro was not so bad, after all—but Hillsboro's trouble appeared to be that they could not connect with the visitor's curves—which were not so much after all.

A great deal of credit is due the H. A. L. outfielders, who galloped all over the field and took everything in sight, errorless, taking the sphere off their shoestrings in real big league style.

Oh, well! Hillsboro has never been a quitter, and one defeat spells nothing. The boys are going after that pennant, anyway, and the H. A. L.'s are going to have a team in the running at any cost.

The regular monthly meeting was held Tuesday night and a general shakeup took place.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

FROM THE FAN MILL

Mayor Wall was wild in the piches. Possibly his arm wasn't right.

E. L. Moore looked good in the cage.

Leather come high—the price the boys paid for the boots was 13 to 0.

The 15th inning was played on the street corners Sunday night.

Dr. Smith bought a can of paint, said to be blue.

McCredie and Sexton will have to trade players if this thing keeps up.

Ivory was plentiful last Sunday.

That little thing the boys failed to see crossing the plate was just a regulation Spalding.

But they are filing up their eyesight for the next time.

And the band played right along.

Fred Siegrist is nursing a hand which he burned with orchard spray a few days ago. Fred is satisfied that it is strong enough—the spray—to put any orchard pest on the run.

Marriage licenses: Aug. C. Jensen and Emily Pederson; Alfred L. Mansfield and Rosemary B. Skipworth; Chas. E. Nelson and Eva M. Kemmer, the last two being from Beaverton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cohen, of Spokane, Wn., have been Hillsboro visitors the past week, guests of Mrs. Cohen's father, Nathan Weil, and her brothers, Reuben and Sam, of Wells Dept. Store.

Mrs. Conrad Dick, of West Union, who has been seriously ill with influenza-pneumonia at the Portland Sanitarium the past nine weeks, is improving nicely, and will soon be able to leave the hospital.

ANNUAL MAY DAY

An event of exceptional interest to Washington County people will occur when Pacific University holds her annual May Day Celebration on Friday, May 14, at Forest Grove.

The entire day will be given over to festive celebration in fitting honor of the "merrie month of May" and her accompanying sunshine and flowers.

Queen Zella the first will hold complete sway during the festivities which will include after the crowning of the Queen, the presentation of a beautiful Historic Pageant, a succession of many folk dances, the winding of the May-pole and attendant festival observances, under the magnificent oaks of the university campus.

The afternoon will be full of excitement when the Varsity clashes with Willamette U. in a conference baseball game and in the evening the Sophomore Class will present their play together with various "stunts" of the men's societies.

A cafeteria lunch, on the campus, will be accessible in the early evening, under the management of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations.

Alumni, ex-students, friends, and all people of Washington County are most cordially extended a welcome.

Wm. Raynard and wife, of Scholls, were up to the city Tuesday morning.

FOUR HUNDRED ARE IN JERSEY JUBILEE

Visit County Tuesday and Look Over World's Champion Yearling

LUNCH AT J. J. VANKLEEK'S

Pass Thro Hillsboro Two Times —Visit Biersdorf Model Dairy

Fully four hundred people were in the big Jersey Jubilee parade which visited Washington County Tuesday forenoon, passing thro Hillsboro two times in a stream of machines that took practically a half hour to pass to the highway.

The parade came to Washington County to take a look at a Lulu Alpha of Ashburn, senior yearling, World's Champion of all breeds of her age, owned by J. J. VanKleek & Sons, of Kinton.

The procession left Portland early in the morning and was augmented as they drove into Washington County. The line of machines passed thro Hillsboro and Forest Grove and shortly after 9 o'clock visited the Jersey stock farms and dairies of D. G. Lilly and Thos. Williams, and from there drove to the Geo. Biersdorf Jersey stock farm, where they remained for an hour.

The visitors drove thro Hillsboro enroute to the VanKleek ranch between 11 and 12, and over four hundred were given a lunch and refreshments. After the big audience had dined they inspected the World's Champion of all breeds of her age, and took off their hats to Oregon and Washington County.

The inspection of Lulu Alpha was made the feature of the first day of the Jubilee, and as there were visitors from the far East, from Canada, and from nearly every state in the union, Washington County has been given a signal honor by the little Jersey which has eclipsed anything the world has ever produced, considering age.

Lulu Alpha of Ashburn is one of the most beautiful types of the Jersey breed and if there is no untoward luck she will eventually eclipse other World's Champions of greater age.

The visitors were well pleased with Washington County and many expressions of interest were heard. The President of the National Jersey Club was in attendance, and he was very much taken with the model of the Biersdorf dairy. He stated that he had visited many breeding and dairy farms in his day, but he had never seen a dairy so especially equipped for comfort and results.

Mr. Biersdorf served six percent Jersey milk to his guests—and prohibition for the once was forgotten.

The visitors were highly pleased by the treatment they received at the VanKleek home, and there was plenty for all, and then some. Four big packers of ice cream were served at the end, and the Jersey Jubilee visitors went their way to Yamhill County feeling that the trip into Washington County marked the annual meeting as a distinctive feature.

Mr. VanKleek's Champion is known as Lulu Alpha of Ashburn No. 375,710. Her year's test was concluded with 800 pounds of butter at one year and ten months, a remarkable record. This not only meant that Washington County had a world's Champion in the Jersey class, but a champion of all breeds.

Geo. Trimble, of Helvetia, was down Saturday. Geo. says he hears the call of the wheels on the railway, but he is going to stay by the raneling job if it takes a leg.

E. A. Eddy, well known all over the county, was up from Tualatin Monday afternoon, doing the rounds of the city. Eddy knows the Tualatin Valley and its possibilities along production about as well as any of the wise ones, and says that good roads are all we need to skunk anything in any country.

Sheriff Alexander has an I. W. W. in the county coop and in all probability he will have to let him go his way. The Federal officials say he cannot be deported at this time, and the state Syndicalism law is not strong enough to get him. Meantime the chap, who is an Austrian, is getting his square meals each day and enjoying himself, chanting the I. W. W. sabotage songs to himself.
