ANSON A. STOWELL

Anson A. Stowell died at the Washington County Hospital, May 26, 1920, from injuries received at the Stowell home, near Buxton, a week ago Sunday, when an auto went over the bank with him. His spine was seriously injured and he suffered internal injuries.

He was aged 20 years, two months and a few days. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Stowell. The funeral was held at the Buxton Pres. Church today at 2 o'clock, Undertaker Limber directing.

The young man was very popular in his section and his death so early in life is a matter of regret to a large circle of friends. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

RUDOLF KAUFMAN

Rudolf Kaufman died May 21, 1920, after a lengthy illness. He was born in Grindewald, Canton Berne, Switzerland, Dec. 3, 1849, and emigrated to this country in 1883, settling first in Ohio. He was married in 1883 to Elizabeth Roth, who came from the same

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and the following children: Mrs. Bertha Welch, 1205 Gauge St., San Francisco, Cal.; Albert, of Portland; Mrs. Geo. Trimble, of Helvetia; Mrs. Edna Lohkamp, 490 Morrison St., Portland; Edward Kaufman, Portland, and Miss Martha Kaufman, of 490 Morrison St., Portland.

A truck driver for one of the South Tualatin logging camps ran his rear truck into the buggy of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cooley, in the cut leading to the Jackson Bottom bridge, yesterday forenoon. He signalled to pass and got by with the truck, but the trailer sandwiched Mr. Cooley's buggy in between, and his horse became frightened and commenced to run. Mr. and Mrs. Cooley's conveyance was finally crowded over the bank and the horse ran away. They were thrown out of the buggy, which was demolished. Mrs. Cooley was somewhat injured but was able to go home. D. B. had his hand crippled up a little, but otherwise was not damaged.

CANYON ROAD WILL BE FINISHED AUG. 1

Warren People Busy Putting Down Pavement on Stretch of 2 Miles

GASTON ROAD WORK ON Commission Will Macadamize About Six Miles to Gaston

The late Spring and the shortage of labor has interfered with state highway work to a certain extent, and it will be August 1 perhaps before the Warrens will complete paving the Washington County end of the Beaverton-Canyon road. They are at work now putting down their base on the last two miles, and the company made quite an effort to get the work finished in time for the Shriners' convention, but to no avail. So it will be mid-summer or better before one can make a straight shoot thro from Beaverton to Portland. The road will relieve a lot of traffic on the Terwilliger and be a time saver for Washington County motorists.

The work of macadamizing the Dilley-Gaston stretch of six miles is now under way, but so far, rock from one crusher only, operated by Mel Hiatt, furnishes the workmen. The county will install a gravel crusher on Gales in a short time and then the work will be augmented by crushed gravel from that point.

Gaston is feeling that the road will be a considerable help, anyway, for it will be laid in a substantial manner.

MASONS ATTENTION

Bring your lunch and let's all go to the picnic at Forest Grove next Monday, May 31. Every Mason is requested to donate some saleable article which will be sold on the picnic grounds—proceeds to go toward Masonic Home—anything from a cake of soap to a sack of potatoes will be gladly received. All donations must be at Masonic Hall, Hillsboro, not later than 10 a. m. Monday.

COLD SPRING AID TO APHS FAMILY

Are Attacking Only the Vetch Fields So Far

COLD RAW DAYS BREED Little Old Mrs. Lady Bug, However, is on the Job

Numerous inquiries have been made recently regarding the possibility of another serious aphid attack to the hay and grain. Some of the reports made from sections of this county, and from other counties, indicate that a serious attack is not impossible, though it is hardly considered likely.

The cold rainy weather of March and April was highly beneficial to the development of aphids in large numbers, but the freeze during the winter decreased their numbers and prevented their breeding during that season, so that there were fewer at the beginning of the spring weather which favored development. Another condition which will prove unfavorable to them, is that the early warm weather of this year favored the increase of the natural enemies of aphids specially the lady bug, and they are now present in the fields in larger numbers than at the beginning of the serious attack of two years ago. It is therefore believed that though some fields, especially of vetch, have spots which are rather badly attacked, the aphid will not be a serious menace, though some damage may result.

Apparently thus far, grain fields have not been attacked, the aphid confining themselves to vetch fields. A number of the gardens have become infected, but the insects can be controlled by the use of nicotine sprays.

AMENDMENTS CARRY

Every amendment on the ballot carried the electorate Friday. For a day or so it was thought that the restoration of capital punishment was defeated but later returns gave it a substantial majority. Now when a man or woman commits murder in the first degree it will mean the death penalty unless the jury recommends leniency.

The two educational bills passed by an immense majority, as did the four per cent. road bill. It was expected that the rural districts would cut down the vote for all the measures, but the farmers evidently favored all proposed legislation and amendments, for they gave a big vote in proportion to that cast as did their town cousins.

Eminent Domain—yes, 2697; no, 1362.

Four per cent. road bill—yes, 2618; no, 1551.

Capital punishment—yes, 2667; no, 1586.

Crook-Curry bonds—yes, 1873; no, 1315.

Making president of senate governor in case of vacancy—yes, 2164; no, 1862.

College bill—yes, 2249; no, 2208.

Soldiers' and Sailors' aid—yes, 2249; no, 1894.

Elementary Schools bill—yes, 2610; no, 1692.

Blind School—yes, 2948; no, 1246.

Wild pigeons have been having a carnival at the expense of 15 acres of grain on the Joe Connell place near Lincoln station, according to W. E. Rice, who hauls lumber by that point. Rice says that every morning for some time after oats were sowed the pigeons in droves of two or three hundred would visit the field and help themselves to the oats which had been seeded. They have made havoc of 14 or 15 acres, and some of them would eat until they could hardly fly. Farmers living up in the hills will get some fine juicy pigeon roasts if they happen on to some of the birds which have been feeding at the Connell field expense.

Chas. Brandaw, ex-service man, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brandaw, departed Sunday for Calhoun County, Iowa, to visit an uncle. While in the Hawkeye state Mr. Brandaw will marry a young lady who has been in the newspaper game for several years. The wedding will take place June 3. His brother, James H.
