AUTO STAGE TURNS OVER THREE TIMES

Goes Off Grade on Terwilliger Boulevard Monday Morning

RAINS MAKE ROADS SLICK

Machine Lands 70 Feet Below, With Six People Injured

An auto stage, plying between Portland and Hillsboro, went off the grade on the Terwilliger Boulevard, Monday afternoon, injuring six people and completely wrecking the big Cadillac car. The injured: R. C. O'Connor, aged 21 years, residing at 475 Tillamook St., Portland, back wrenched and leg fractured in two places; H. M. Boss, Bachelor Hotel, Portland, ruptured blood vessel and contusions; L. A. Nelson, of the West Coast Lumbermen's Ass'n., cut and bruises; R. B. Brown, of the same association, Seattle, leg fractured and back injured, and two other passengers slightly cut and bruised.

The car was driven by Otto Bötticher, aged 21 years, and the officials who investigated say that the accident was due to excessive speed over a wet pave. The accident took place between the curve bridge and the comfort station, and the car was headed towards Hillsboro when the wreck took place. The driver reported the affair and the passengers were taken to Portland in an ambulance. The driver then disappeared and could not be located up to Tuesday morning.

Investigation showed that the steering gear and other parts which might have been responsible for the wreck were in perfect condition.

The smashed car was a seven passenger, six-cylinder machine and was bonded by the Auto Transit Co., although owned by the father of the driver. It is hard to realize how the machine went over the bank as the car had the mountain side of the drive. The machine turned over three times before it finally found lodgement in the thick brush.

It is said that the young man driving had never been examined as a chauffeur.

DROP GAME TO GUARDS

The Hillsboro American Legion dropped the Sunday game to the Multnomah Guards of Portland, score 13 to 7. Taggart and Nelson had a bad day, and Gray was not in uniform, being a sufferer from a severe cold. The Guards had their eyes with them and connected at will.

Geo. Henderson has been signed and will play next Sunday.

The fellow who started the fight on the grounds Sunday was not connected with the Guards, and was ordered off the field by Manager Sewell, and the Legion wishes to apologize for the intruder's conduct, as the boys want no rowdiness, and will not have it.

On Sunday, July 18, at 2:30, the Camas Blues will be here. Don't overlook them—everybody come.

Homer Mansfield, stock buyer for the Hillsboro Mercantile, and Guy Townsend, driver of the Mercantile truck, are feeling lucky these days—lucky that they are alive. Townsend was driving the truck, and Mansfield was with him, the two having gone after a heifer, which was loaded into the conveyance. The machine was hit by the S. P. train near Newton, Sunday morning, and there was hardly enough left of the car to tell whether it was scrap iron or the remnants of a machine. Mansfield had his knee cap dislocated and his elbow badly bruised, and sustained a broken collar bone, two fractured ribs and minor cuts and bruises. Dr. E. H. Smith attended the injuries. Mansfield recently lost a thumb in an accident, but he is game—all during the time the doctor was dressing his wounds he was worrying about the heifer, which came out scott free and was later caught by a Japanese farmer.

J. C. Hartley, of Maryhill, Wash., arrived here last week to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. May Blades, for an indefinite period. Mr. Hartley is at home in the county seat because he will meet with many of his oldtime neighbors from the Banks-Greenville sections from day to day. He still keeps his Maryhill home.

John R. Bailey, the Buxton rancher fruit grower, was in the city Tuesday, returning from a Portland trip. He has a fine prospect for prunes and Bartlett pears this season, and was lucky enough to get practically all his hay in before the rains of this week.

Irene Moore sues Harry Moore for separation. She wants $25 per month for the care of the child of whom she asks the custody. She says the husband is a street car conductor and he reserved his manners for the public, treating her cruelly at all times.

Little Elizabeth Wilcox, aged 12 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilcox, of near Reedville, died suddenly at Twin Rocks, Ore., from an attack of heart trouble. She is survived by her parents, and one brother, Whitney, and a sister, Marian.

Elsie Prather, aged 15 years, of Hillsboro, and Omer Butler, of St. Helens, aged 19 years, were married at Vancouver, Wn., Friday. Nancy E. Prather, mother of the bride, secured the license, giving written permission for the nuptials.

Finis L. Brown, who has been under the care of a physician for many months, was in from near Laurel, Saturday. He is beginning to look like a new man and will soon be able to give the best of them a tussle.

Mrs. B. K. Simpson and granddaughter, Mrs. Millie Pugh, of Portland, were Hillsboro visitors the last of the week. Mrs. Simpson now resides at Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hedrick, of Seattle, Wn., were guests of Mrs. M. A. Powell the last of the week, returning home Monday.

John Wunderlich, of Banks, was in town the last of the week.

THE HEAVY RAIN DID CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

But Also Does a World of Good to Vegetable Kingdom

HEAVY GRAIN LAYS DOWN

Salvation of Spring Grown Crops, However—Loss and Gain

The heavy rains of Monday and Monday night did a world of good, which was some compensation, but also did considerable damage to winter grain, flattening many fields so that it will be necessary to cut the crop "one way." A great deal of hay has been cut and is in the swath or shock, and this, too, will be colored considerably, and damaged quite a little if the moisture continues to prevail.

The hill farmers, however, where Potato is King, are jubilant over the fact that late planted potatoes will thrive from this on, and there is promise of a splendid crop.

Cherries are suffering much from the rains, particularly those that were just ready to pick, for they are splitting badly. Those which are just turning are not suffering as yet.

Taken by and large, while the precipitation has worked damage it also has done a world of good. Two years ago, a little later than this, we had nearly a week of rain, and the damage was offset by the benefit. Oregon weather has a nasty faculty of doing the wrong thing at the right time but it generally balances very nicely—and you can't always order it just as you want it.

WANTS TEN THOUSAND

Veda Armstrong, who married J. C. Armstrong, at McMinnville, in 1912, asks for divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She alleges that the husband abused her for correcting his children by a former marriage and encouraged the children to be saucy to her. She also charges that he slapped her and called her vile names. Mrs. Armstrong swears that she left him and that this Summer the husband went to her and threatened to do her bodily injury if she did not return and live with him. She asks for $100 per month pending the suit and petitions the court to give her $10,000 permanent alimony. Armstrong lives near Forest Grove, and is reputed to be fairly well provided in this world's goods.

EDGINGTON—RICE

Oliver Sherman Edgington and Lura M. Rice, of near Blooming, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rice, July 10, Rev. Walton Skipworth officiating.

Hugh Rogers, chief of the S. P. scaling forces on log shipments, was in Marshfield last week and had dinner with the J. S. Loring. Rogers says J. S. is always busy, but takes time to hear of old Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Luther and children, of Salem, were down over Sunday, guests of the Harttramps and Luthers. While here they sold their Hillsboro property, having purchased a home in Salem, where Earl is in the employ of the S. P.

Jas. Robb, of near Roy, was a city caller Tuesday.

Eastman Kodaks and Films at the Pharmacy. 1814

C. Sorenson, of near Reedville, was an Argus caller Tuesday.

Th. and Thos. Nissen, of Scholls, were city callers the last of the week.

Geo. Cypher, of "Old Glenocoe," was a city visitor Monday afternoon.

George Trimble, of Helvetia, was in the city Monday afternoon, greeting railroad friends.

Karl Grammer and Rose Stribling were recently married at Beaverton, Rev. Wiley officiating.

Al Mulloy, of Laurel, and Ed. Hoffman, of Farmington, were greeting friends in the city Tuesday.

Ray Reasoner, who is handling the Hillside quarry for the county, was down to the county seat Tuesday.

If you are in the market for a bug I have some buy in a Mitchell chassis with green body.—D. Corwin.

J. E. Dickason, of Orenco, with the Oregon Nursery Co. at present, was a city caller Tuesday morning.

For sale: Horse, weight, 1200 lbs., $50.—Inquire of C. Sorenson, two miles south of Reedville. 19-21

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pauli, of Elmonica, came up Tuesday to see how the county seat was progressing.

Mrs. Chas. S. Parker, of Portland, was brot to the Dr. Smith hospital, the first of the week for an operation.

Thos. W. Conner and Bernice Hodgden were married in Hillsboro, July 10, 1920, Judge W. D. Smith officiating.

L. J. Rushlow, who is located with his family at Barview for the season, is home for a few days on business.

John Herb, who is running the county quarry up at Manning, was down to the county seat Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seiffert, of near Phillips, were in the city Monday. They expect to move into Hillsboro this fall.

Marriage license was granted the last of the week to Glen D. Sheeley and Greta McIntyre. The groom hails from Vernonia.

For sale: Several tons clover and timothy hay in shock.—T. R. Davis, North Plains road, 3 1/2 miles N. W. of Hillsboro. 18-9

Henry Dooley was in from Banks, Friday, greeting oldtime friends and getting the lay of the land on things political and otherwise.

Lester Campbell, of Scholls, was a city caller Tuesday. He has some fine winter wheat that went nearly flat with the heavy precipitation.

C. C. Wight, of Cornelius, was in town Tuesday. Mrs. Wight will soon make a trip to Canada to visit relatives, provided her health will permit.

Wanted: Unincumbered widow wants position as practical nurse or housekeeper.—Call, or write to Mrs. M. Persinger, 265 Holladay Av., Portland, Or. 21

F. M. Loftis, of near Reedville, was in town Tuesday. His school district will soon paint the Witch Hazel school house, and a call for bids is found in another place in this issue.

Dr. J. O. Robb operated on Mrs. Max Crandall the first of the week, and Mr. Crandall, who is occupied at Corvallis, came down to be at the bedside of the patient during the critical period of her trouble.

Thos. G. Meacham, of Banks, was down to Hillsboro Tuesday, with the cheering word that the heavy rains did potatoes and gardens and late grain a world of good, anyway.

John Boeker Sr. returned the last of the week from a nine months stay in Los Angeles and San Francisco and other California points. He has given up his Eastern trip, but may take a notion to go back along about Indian Summer time.

Lionel Rosenthal, student at O. A. C., lately with a surveying force near the British line, at Glazier, Wn., was in the city over Sunday, the guest of Verne McKinney. He reports that Cliff Long is still on the survey up there. Rosenthal goes to Scappoose this week to work on a survey.

BIERSDORF SHIPS 2 JERSEY YOUNGSTER

Selected by Committee Bull Association, After Tour of State

EIGHT HUNDRED FOR TWO

Sent by Express to Skamokaway Bull Association, on River

George Biersdorf, who raises registered Jersey stock, shipped two bull calves, registered stock, to the Skamokaway Bull Association, of Skamokaway, Wash., on Monday morning, receiving for the youngsters the neat little sum of $800. One was aged 7 months and the other was 8 months. They are half brothers to nine heifers for which Biersdorf refused $1,000 each at six months of age. Their dams are junior 2-year-olds, and on official tests one produced 411.25 lbs. of butter fat in 209 days and the other 406.02 lbs. in 239 days.

The committee representing the Skamokaway association toured all over the state in search of four calves, and after looking over the various herds, selected half of the quartet from the Biersdorf herd.

The Biersdorf herd was visited at the time of the Jersey jubilee, and Jersey breeders were surprised at the way the owner handled his herd and at his model dairy plant.

Dairymen can readily see that it pays to raise the right kind of stock, and within a few years Washington County will be ranking first in production of blooded cattle.

The calves were shipped by express, crated, and reached their destination within 24 hours after shipment.

CAPT. E. D. PARSONS DEAD

Captain E. D. Parsons, for many years a Columbia River pilot and steamboat man, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, July 9, 1920. Captain Parsons was aged 58 years, and was a general favorite among the pilots of the month of the Columbia. He left an estate worth perhaps nine thousand dollars, and among his real estate was a small place at Huber, which he willed to Captain Geo. McNelly. His other bequests were as follows:

To Captain Michael Nolan, who is his executor, his gold watch, his Liberty Bonds and his war saving stamps;

To Eugene Mann, Huber, $250 and his poultry and a calf;

To Mrs. Laura C. Mann, Huber, his diamond ring;

To Miss Clara Willing, his nurse in his last illness, at St. Vincent's Hospital, $50 in cash;

To little Ruth McLeod, Huber, $250;

To Jimmie McLeod, her brother, his small gold watch;

To J. Blakeslee, Huber, his household goods at Huber;

To Capt. John Reid, Astoria, his two blooded hogs;

To the McLeods, at Huber, hog and heifer;

To Sam Lotan, Portland, 2 lots in Loomis Park, Multnomah;

To Fritz Hirsch, Astoria, lot in Loomis Park;

To A. E. Camm, Astoria, lot in Loomis Park;

Captain Nolan is made trustee of the crops on the Huber place, the same to be distributed among the pilots on the Columbia River.

All the residue of his property, together with the Huber place, goes to Capt. McNelly, he to pay any deficiency, if any there be.

BIG SUIT FILED

A. G. Beals, of Tillamook, filed in circuit court this week a suit asking judgment in the sum of $6357.06 part payment on logs sold the S. & W. Lumber Company, and for the further sum of $16,500, on a 40 day promissory note dated May 13, 1920. The claim on the lesser amount is for $8 per M. for logs furnished the defendants since May, the contract price being $25 per M. delivered, and the note sued on was given for lumber furnished the company. W. N. Sharp and C. T. Winslow are the partners forming the S. & W. Lumber Co. Hare, McAlear & Peters are attorneys for Beals.

C. H. Piggott, who built the Haunted Castle on the Portland mountain, just above Sixth Street, has sued Winifred Morrow to foreclose a mortgage on some land up in the hills.

Harry Cook, of Cornelius, was shaking hands with county seat friends the last of the week.
