BOTH ENGINES OFF

The Tillamook passenger, coming over the mountains as a double header, was held up by a tree Monday night, and the trains did not pull into Hillsboro until nearly five o'clock Tuesday morning. Engineer Wilkinson was on the head engine, and when he rounded a sharp curve he found that an old stub had blown on the track. The big tree cleared, as it had broken, but when it fell it had partially turned a rail. Wilkinson whistled for brakes, but the distance was so short that the train could not be stopped until both engines went off the track. The train was not making over 15 to 18 miles per hour, and the engineer had one of the train masters in the cab with him, so there will be no scalps hanging for fast running. The passengers were taken in to Timber, a distance of about three miles, for hot coffee and lunch, and the accident was accepted by the passengers as one of the things attendant to vacation travel.

NANCY JANE BARTLETT

Mrs. Nancy Jane Bartlett died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Gray, Fifth St., Hillsboro, August 16, 1920, aged 75 years, 6 months and 8 days.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, from Limber's Undertaking Parlors. Interment was in the Rose City cemetery, Portland.

PROBATE

The estate of J. B. Hanley has been appraised at $26,383.22 and the valuation has been approved by the court.

The administrator of the estates of Cora E. and Chas. W. Colby has been authorized to place a monument over the graves at a cost not to exceed $300. The Colbys lived east of Beaverton on the Tualatin Valley highway and were found dead over a year ago. Colby had killed his wife and then killed himself. The residue of the estate goes to the mother of Mrs. Colby, and when this is done the estate will close of record.

E. J. McAlear, guardian of Wadsworth Cooper, a minor, within Washington County jurisdiction, is authorized by the court to pay the minor the sum of $500, the same to be sent to the ward's Colorado guardian, Rose E. Jordan.

Samuel McCracken petitions the court to have the hearing to break the will of the late Robert McCracken and the case will be heard Sept. 13.

The Argus will pay you cash for good clean rags.

What to look for in buying a Phonograph

Whether or not a phonograph is attractive in design and finish is a matter for each individual to decide, for your personal taste enters very largely into the decision.

The cabinet, however, should be well finished—the back as well as the front.

Carelessness in finishing the back of an instrument may mean carelessness in other points of manufacture which are not open to inspection after the instrument has been finished.

The best way to decide on a Phonograph is to hear the different makes of machines and then hear the Brunswick, and we know what the verdict will be.
