Gov. Cox is making a whirlwind campaign and has the opposition up in the air these days. Meantime Mr. Harding is looking for a league of nations by some other name, which is more or less water on the Cox's wheel. With union labor practically endorsing Cox, and New York looking good, the Ohio governor is feeling pretty good over the outlook.

With big crops and fine bank balances in every town, Washington county isn't worried about any possible depression—especially so long as farm product prices are where they are.

BOGE—ARCHERD

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening, August 4, 1920, in Berkeley, Cal., when Miss Beulah Archard was united in marriage to Veldon C. Boge, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boge, of near Hillsboro, Rev. Price officiating in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Miss Vera Hughes was bridesmaid, and Russell Archard was best man. The wedding march was played by the Church pianist. The bride wore a lovely gown of white georgette.

Refreshments were served following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Boge will take up their residence at 1535 Milvia St., Berkeley. Both are students of the University of California, where they will attend the ensuing term. The groom is well known at Hillsboro and Farmington.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT

Ruby M. Wridge, mother of the late Lester Wridge, who was killed at the Haskell-Carpenter Logging Camp, near Cherry Grove, May 3, 1920, has sued the company for $30,000. She alleges the boy was under 18 years of age and that the company procured no permit from the school board, the school Supt. or the Child Labor inspector before putting him to work. She alleges that the company was negligent in using no signal device and that through their negligence a log which was being pulled by a donkey struck a tree, uprooting it and it fell and crushed the son's skull. She asks for the above sum and her costs and disbursements. Hare, McAlair & Peters will defend the case.

BLOOD OUT OF TURNIP

Dude Parker, formerly of the Grove, now of Portland, was in the city Tuesday, greeting his friends of a quarter of a century ago. Parker cleared the right of way on the old Astoria and South Coast railway between Hillsboro and Leisville, for Billy Reid, the railway builder who did not build. Parker was about the only man who got his money for work on the proposed line and then only because he besieged the Reid house in Portland with blood in his eye until the old gentleman came thro' with the mazzina.

READY TO LISTEN

Representative W. G. Hare thinks that when he is appointed on a committee to hear charges against the fish and game commission it means something, and he declares that he is ready to hear Richard W. Price and his associates, who declared that the commission was dominated by the fishing interests. Louis Lachmund, appointed with Hare, stands with the Hillsboro legislator to give Price a chance to tell what they know. When the investigating committee met in Portland, August 18, with the five members present Hare wanted to start business. A. W. Norblad, of Astoria, joined with Chairman Bean and Harvey Cross for adjournment and nothing was done. Mr. Hare says the fish and game commission asked for the legislative resolution for the hearing, and he thinks it should get what it wants. He says he is not only ready, but anxious to have things brot to a focus so as to see if the charges are true, and if they are, the present members of the commission who are under fire should have a chance to resign. Hare doesn't believe in the white-wash brush.
