RASMUSSEN BROS. BACK FROM DENMARK

Tell of Conditions and Prices in Europe—Land Very High

FARMERS OWN PLANTS
Land Worth $750 Per Acre—30 to 40 Acres Average Farm

Peter and Hans Rasmussen, well known south of Hillsboro for ten years, returned a few days ago from a visit with their parents and two brothers in Denmark, and while there helped celebrate the 4th birthday of their father. The boys were raised in a dairy district, and it is of interest to read what they say of prices back in the land of the Danes. Is land high in Oregon? Probably! But listen to this—"Good dairy land in Denmark sells around $750 per acre."

Nor is land the only thing high there. Peter Rasmussen says that a good ordinary horse sells for $750, and during the war times was worth $1,000. A common milk cow sells for $300 American money; butter sells at 80 cents per lb.; full cream cheese tips the pocket at 50 cents per lb., while skim milk cheese sells at 25 cents per lb.

Most of almost any kind sell at 75 cents per lb. The farmers own their own creameries and cheese factories on the co-operative plan. Thirty to forty acres is the average farm. The schools are progressive, and now the war embargo is off the people are generally prosperous.

The Rasmussen boys left Denmark ten years ago, and spent the greater portion of the decade around Hillsboro. They started to revisit their boyhood home just as the war broke out, but this wrecked their plans. Hans went to Camp Lewis, and was in the famous 1st division in France. He was within a short distance of home, but was unable to get across Germany to make the visit, so he returned with the division, and on May 8 the brothers started for Europe. They expect to settle down to farming again, and say they want to live in this district.

STUDEBAKERS TALK

The Studebaker Corporation sends out the following to the press:

"After careful study of the situation and weighing the probabilities of the future, we have reduced the prices of Studebaker cars, f. o. b. factory, as follows: Special Six Touring, $1,750, a reduction of $125; Special Six Coupe, $2,650; Special Six Sedan, $2,750, and Big Six Touring, $2,150, being a reduction of $200 each.

The Studebaker business has been built up the past sixty-eight years upon the policy of large production and small percentage of profit. We believe that the recent and rapid decline in prices of many commodities and raw materials presage lower prices for those not yet reduced, and of course, manufactured products of all kinds, which are highly desirable if production is to be sustained and unemployment avoided this winter. Our plants have operated at full capacity all year, and are doing so today, and we now have on hand unfilled orders for over 6,000 cars. This oversold condition has been constant with us ever since the war ended, and our production, sales and profits for the first nine months of this year greatly exceed totals for the full year of 1919. Nevertheless, we believe it is highly desirable that lowering of prices should be encouraged, and we are therefore anticipating at this time our ability to purchase materials at lower figures during the coming year, to improve labor efficiency, and to increase our present volume of business, all with the effect of lowering the production cost of automobiles. Existing wage rates will be maintained at all Studebaker plants, which at present are employing 15,000 people. The capital and surplus of this corporation are now $75,000,000, and its sales are running at the rate of $100,000,000 per annum."

John E. Zimmerman, working at the Jackson Falls quarry, was in the last of the week, and starts his 27th annual subscription to the religious weekly.

CITY NOMINATIONS FILED WITH RECORDER

A. C. Shute Heads the Ticket for Mayor, November Election

THREE ALDERMEN NAMED

No Opposition for Council—Sewell, Treas.; McCormick, Recorder

After days of anxiety and a last minute rush for filing, the city municipal ticket has been named and filed and sent to Clerk Kuratli to be placed on the ticket for the November election, which takes place on the second of November.

The Ticket:
A. C. Shute, Mayor.
J. H. Garrett, Council, Ward 2.
A. M. Carlie, Council, Ward 2.
O. Phelps, Council, Ward 3.
F. J. Sewell, Treasurer.
E. L. McCormick, Recorder.

David Corwin, whose petition was among the first to file, withdrew before the nominations were sent to the county clerk. Thus it will be seen that there is no opposition for any of the municipal positions.

The presumption is strong that as soon as the election is over and the officials qualify there will be a special election called for a vote on the commission form of government.

A. C. Shute, the candidate for mayor, and candidates Garrett and Phelps are making their first runs for municipal honors.

HILLSBORO AT O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, October 4.—Lawrence Taggart, of Hillsboro, was last Saturday a shining light in a gridiron struggle between the varsity and freshmen elevens. The varsity took the rooks into camp by a score of 21 to 0. In spite of the fact that Taggart was slightly injured earlier in the week, his ability to spear forward passes was marveled at by many. A certain big football authority was heard to remark that Taggart showed up among the best on the field.

Winfield Dryden, who reported college notes for the Argus last year, has been appointed assistant editor of the Commercial Print. Dryden, a senior in commerce, is also writing sports for the Oregonian. Besides these many duties, he is an instructor in the School of Commerce. Among his house brothers in the Fleur-de-Lis are several Hillsboro men.

The Commercial Print is printed by students in the School of Commerce, and is a directory of the entire student body. Verne McKinney is also a member of the staff.

The Fleur-de-Lis, of which several Hillsboro men are members, is settled in its new home.

Four Hillsboro young men were instrumental in the formation of this club, which was founded with the view of bringing together a group of over-seas veterans. It is thought by many that it will become a strong factor on the campus, because of its original purpose. Hillsboro men now at the club include Frank Rollins, Charles Deichman, William Dierdorff, Haskell Carter, Verne McKinney and Lawrence Taggart.

Kinney and Lawrence Taggart.

TEACHERS' RECEPTION

The teachers of the Hillsboro schools were tendered a reception and dinner in the basement of the Christian Church, Thursday evening last. Autumn leaves and ferns were used as the decorative scheme, while grapes and leaves decorated the dining table. The place cards and candle shades were painted by Miss Ethel Johnson.

Rev. Fishback sat at the head of the table, and the following guests were seated: The Misses Weathered, Jones, McNeil, Coleman, Batson, Mann, Cook, Stevens, Johnston, Case, Johnson and Young; Mesdames Case, Bride, Ball, Brown, Lake; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bump, and Mr. Olsen. Mrs. Blades and Miss Waite were unable to be present.

The menu consisted of tomato jelly salad, chicken pie with gravy, mashed potatoes, rolls, pickles, jelly, corn, apple pie with ice cream and coffee.

Mr. Fishback made a short address of welcome and Mr. B. W. Barnes responded for the guests, thanking the members of the church who had so splendidly entertained the teaching corps.

GEO. W. BIDWELL

Geo. W. Bidwell died at the home of his son, Geo. H. Bidwell, near Laurel, October 5, 1920. He was born in New York state, Aug. 10, 1832, and when a young man he moved to Wisconsin. About 15 years ago he came to Oregon. He is survived by three sons and two daughters—Frank, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Geo. H., of Laurel; Roy, of Ladysmith, Wisc.; Mrs. Blanche Hamilton and Mrs. Florence Wismer, of Dumas.

The funeral took place today, Undertakers Donelson & Bell directing.

Deceased resided in Hillsboro a number of years, and since the death of his wife, has made his home with his son George.

W. N. Brown, of Laurel, was a city visitor Tuesday afternoon.

Strayed—From Moffat station, black short, weighs about 60 lbs. Telephone 2081.

E. E. Lyons, ranching up near Yamhill, was down to Hillsboro the last of the week.

J. W. Vandervelden, of Roy, was greeting friends in the city Tuesday.

Tablets, pencils, penholders, etc., for school, at the Pharmacy, 2714.

Lutheran services next Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Advent Church, on Baseline.—Paul H. Schaus, Pastor.

If you want to set out Everbearing Progressive strawberries, get mine. Sturdy plants; great bearers; irrigated—produce large berries.—W. F. Peechouse East Oak St., R. 5, Box 14. 32

Andrew Heckman, of Bethany, was a Hillsboro visitor yesterday. Andrew is the same old jollier, and his visit to the city is always welcomed.

For Sale—Studebaker wagon, 23 1/2, nearly new, with 2-inch tire. Price, $65.—M. Sturm Jr., Portland, Route 2. Phone, Hillsboro 1418. 29-31

Cement drain and tile factory complete for making 3 to 12 inch tile—$1,000 takes it. This is one-half its real value. Write or phone Beaverton Lumber Co., Beaverton, Ore.

For Sale—A Mitchell power spray outfit, in first class condition, mounted on steel trucks, for $125.—J. D. Bergen, East Hillsboro, at Greenhouse. 29-31

We still have a nice bunch of feeder hogs; 21 shoats; seven seven sows and about 60 nice pigs ready for delivery. If you have skim milk let these fellows make you some money.—Hugh Carey, a stone's throw from North Plains. 31-32

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buchanan, of Seattle, Sept. 27, 1920, a son. This arrival is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ornduff, of Laurel. Mrs. Ornduff is still at Seattle with two grandchildren—new ones—to visit, and Sam is contemplating a trip to the Sound.

The electric storm Tuesday evening, about 8 o'clock, was a pyrotechnic display that is rarely seen in Oregon, and particularly at this time of year. At times the entire heavens were lighted up, and many of the bolts were mighty close to old mother earth. The rain accompanying was very heavy, and the night was as sultry as a mid-summer visitation.

WALTON SKIPWORTH BACK TO HILLSBORO

Methodist Episcopal Conference Sends Him Back to Pastorate

PARISH CALL UNANIMOUS

County Appointments Made at McMinnville, Saturday Evening

The Methodist Episcopal annual conference for Oregon adjourned Sunday, at McMinnville, and the appointments for the coming year for Washington County are: Hillsboro, Walton Skipworth; Metzger and Tigard, R. C. Young; Tualatin, A. P. Bates; Banks and North Plains, F. L. Post; Cornelius, W. T. Miller; Dilley, J. Schell; Forest Grove, C. R. Carlos.

The return of Mr. Skipworth for his fourth year is a matter of gratification, not only to the parish, but to the hundreds of his friends who are not affiliated with the church. During his administration here, the church has had a fine growth numerically, as well as a very substantial gain along the assets of church property.

Mr. Skipworth is a gentleman of the old school and is a scholar second to none in the Oregon ministry. Through his efforts, there is a unity in the church never before attained. The organization is in a fine financial condition, and a new parsonage has just been completed and the old one repaired so it can be used as an income property.

Notwithstanding the parish has had a bad time of it with street improvements and sewer expense the past few years the credit side of the ledger has not only not gone into the red column, but has wiped out the liabilities in fine shape. The Argus joins Mr. Skipworth's friends in extending congratulations that he is returned.

AN OPEN LETTER

Hillsboro, Ore., Sept. 23, 1920.

Dear Friend:

Washington County is one of fourteen counties having a Public Health Nurse, but unfortunately we are one of only four counties not having provided adequate transportation facilities for these valuable workers.

We need the County Nurse—you need her in your home, your school, your community. Why? Because she brings to each a knowledge which means a longer life, better health, fewer deaths in babyhood, in childhood, in youth and in the prime of life, less disease, fewer dollars spent, and less time lost from sickness.

Every day lost in sickness, every day's absence from school has an economic value. If the public health nurse helps any member of the community to save this loss should she not be provided with the means of reaching more people and preventing a loss of her own time?

Our county nurse needs a car. She should not have to wait for trains, nor go unnecessary distances to reach our homes and schools. The value of one life saved to the community is far more than the price of a car. The advice a nurse is able to give in the home is the knowledge gained after long and expensive research by specialists which would cost enormous fees if you were to seek it in private consultation.

Our County Public Health Association is paying the transportation expense of our nurse, Mrs. Agnita Smith, R. N., and we are in a position to measure her efficiency under present transportation arrangements. We know the necessity of a car and hence are asking enough citizens of this county for one dollar each to provide a Ford car. If you have met Mrs. Smith personally you know our need; if you have not met her, it has been because she was not able to reach you. Will you send a check for $1.00? Any additional contribution will be gratefully accepted. Make checks payable to Mrs. C. W. Rollins, Hillsboro, Ore.

Only monument dealers in Washington County. Drop us a card, and we will show you our samples. Write or call on us, at 1363 Main St., Hillsboro.—Oregon Monument Works, Hillsboro, Ore. 30-31
