As A Citizen of Oregon You Need the Port of Portland

If you owned a store you could not make a big success unless your business methods were as modern as your competitors! Unless Oregon develops her shipping facilities she cannot expect to get her share of the world's business. It rests with the citizens of this state whether Oregon shall develop her wonderful resources and reach out for bigger markets, or remain practically an inland state.

To become a real port, a 30-foot channel must be dredged in the Columbia and Willamette Rivers from Portland to the Pacific Ocean. This will enable farmers, stockmen and lumbermen in the interior of the state to reach the markets of the world at a lower freight rate and greater profit to themselves.

The taxing and bonding power to make these improvements can be granted the Port of Portland only by the people of the state. You and every citizen will benefit if you, on November second Sylvia Polley and Ruth Olive Duncan, of West Portland Heights, sue Washington Cabler, administrator of the estate of John Henry Cabler, for the sum of $450. The plaintiffs allege that in 1915, Cabler, now deceased, threw a lot of debris and stumps on Block 30, West Portland Heights, belonging to plaintiffs, damaging them in the sum of $300, and that he also filled up a well, causing them a further damage of $150. Eva Schick, who married Harry L. Schick at Pendleton in October, 1917, asks for a divorce. She says they went to Weston in September, 1919, where Shick bought a home. He asked her to go to Forest Grove to her parents for a time, and when she returned to him at Weston he told her, so she says, this endearing little message—"You'll have to make your own living. I will not give you another dollar for your support. There is a son two years old, and she wants $50 per month for his care and support and $100 suit money.
