YOUNG LADY STUDENT SUICIDES AT GROVE

Edith Bartow, of Portland, Victim of Chloroform Route

NO WORD OF CAUSE Found in Room With Drugged Bandage Over Face

The Edith Bartow, aged seven years, was found dead in her room at Herrick Hall, Sunday morning, death having been caused by chloroform. The young lady had started a towel and tied it over her face and head.

When Miss Bartow failed to attend the breakfast table that morning a messenger was dispatched to her room. After knocking and receiving no response the authorities of Herrick Hall were notified and the door was forced.

While some think the young woman merely took the drug as a sleeping potion, it is generally believed that the tragedy was the result of premeditated suicide. Her mother resides in Portland, and her father, E. V. S. Bartow, a druggist who has been working over in Washington state. For some time they had resided at 67 1/2 St. Portland, but lately had moved to 461 Schuyler, that city. Miss Bartow was starting her first year at Pacific and entered school a short time after the Fall term opened. She was an unusually attractive girl and during her short stay at the college had made many friends.

The parents arrived at Forest Grove Monday morning.

Mrs. Cummings, widow, receives 160 acres of land in Lincoln County, and her care and support; Donny Cummings, son, receives $1, as he has had his share advanced; Alfred Cummings, son, $1, as he also has had his share; Albert L. receives 8 acres of land near Buxton, and Clarence, another son, gets the home place of 75 acres, but must care for his mother; Mrs. Alice Messenger, of Buxton, daughter, receives a house and lot in Buxton.

The will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Wanderlich, who recently died at Salem, while on a visit, was filed before Judge Goodin. The estate consists of realty at or near Centerville, worth $17,500, and personal property worth $7,200. Her sons, Joseph and Charles, are named as executors, without bonds, and the legacies are—$1000 each to daughters, Catherine Winter, Caroline Arnold, Mary and Eliza Wanderlich and Mrs. Veronica Meyer; $2000 each to Joseph and Charles Wanderlich, and, after all legacies are paid, the residue is to go share and share alike to all the foregoing except to Mary and Eliza, who are sisters, and as the testator says, do not need help for the support of families. John Wanderlich, a son, receives $100, he having had his share of the estate advanced. To each of his children, however, the will leaves $100.

LUMBERMEN ASK LOWER RY. RATES

Employers Adopt the Eight-Hour Day

NO CASH FOR THIS COUNTY From Distribution of Forest Reserve Funds

No immediate relief for Northwest lumber shippers through revision in freight tariffs is expected, according to reports from the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which met last week in Seattle. Lumbermen are still hopeful that railroads will adjust rates to place Oregon and Washington shippers on equal footing with the South in Eastern markets, but this hopefulness in some cases is characterized as "lumbermen's optimism," as yet unfounded so far as definite assurance is concerned. Discussion of hours and wages at the Seattle meeting brought forth strong indorsement of the 8-hour day by all concerned.

Salem—Flax grown in the Willamette Valley is equal to that of any part of the U. S. and superior to much of the domestic product, according to George H. Street, general manager of the Flax Products company, of New York.

Cottage Grove shows steady growth in population—enrollment in schools is considerably ahead of last year.

Banks needs a jeweler, a shoemaker, a ten-cent store, new office building, hotel, planing mill, cannery, condensery, warehouse and elevator, more dwelling houses, an electric power plant, and a water system, and invites investigation.

Edward O. Edgerton, Pres. of the California Railroad Commission, says—"Great public utility companies must be assured of fair and square treatment at the hands of regulatory bodies before they will invest in improvements which are vitally necessary for growth and progress of the community."

Hood River—Mount Hood loop highway under way.

Junction City cannery doing large business.

Bend—$64,407.47 to be spent on paving six streets.

Corvallis—$350,000 hotel to be built here.

Salem—More than half million dollars worth of green fruit has been sold by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association during the three months of July, August and September.

Seaside—10 mile stretch of highway between Astoria and here to be paved.

The lumber industry is faced by many serious problems today. Western states are favored with the greatest forests in America, and their timber products go to all parts of the world. The day is here when we must utilize our forests to the fullest extent. The problem is one of public interest as it involves questions of future timber supply, water supply and utilization of logged off land.

During last five years $1,000,000 has been spent on Linn county roads.

Lakeview—Goose Lake Valley loses $100,000 as a result of three inches of snow which fell on unharvested grain.

Hood River—Gnard walks to be built on highway between here and The Dalles.

Stanfield—Forty blocks of concrete sidewalks are completed.

Baker—New natatorium is nearing finish.

Thirty-one of the counties of Oregon share in the distribution of $121,653.51 derived from National Forest business in the state during the fiscal year 1920. Washington County gets no money.

Eugene—Lane teachers are receiving better pay.

The farmer in the Middle West does not fully realize that a large part of his produce must move to foreign countries in ships. He must begin to visualize his load of wheat as it passes to the warehouse and from there to the miller or to a sea board port in the shape of flour or grain and from there on board a ship which takes it to the far corners of the world. Let us begin to think in terms of ships.

WILLIAM B. KAUFFMAN

Sergeant William B. Kauffman died at the home of his brother, Dr. H. R. Kauffman, at Forest Grove, Nov. 13, 1920, and the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the Holman Parlor, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Kauffman was made sergeant at Camp Lewis and during his service overseas was company supply sergeant. Upon his return to Portland, following his discharge, he engaged in the practice of his profession. He was candidate for district judge in the May primaries.

Sergeant Kauffman was born in Oroville, O., Sept. 5, 1877. For several years he followed the printing trade and was engaged in this work until he graduated from the University of Oregon law school in 1914. He was a member of Multnomah Typographical union No. 55, Hawthorne Lodge No. 111, A. F. and A. M.; Oregon consistory No. 1, and Al Kader Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Portland B. P. O. E. No. 142. He was also a member of the Multnomah Bar association.

Sergeant Kauffman and Miss Jessie Layman, of 163 Twelfth St., were to have been married next April. He is survived by his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. Kauffman, Millageville, Ill.; three brothers, Dr. H. R. Kauffman, of Forest Grove; Dr. John Kauffman, of Joliet, Ill., and Luther Kauffman, of Wisconsin; three sisters, Mrs. Julia Smith, Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. John Dunn, Lena, Ill., and Mrs. Gertrude Howe, of Chicago.

ERWIN—BADGER

C. B. Erwin, of Nampa, Idaho, and Miss Eunice V. Badger, of Long Beach, Cal., were united in marriage at Santa Ana, Cal., November 6, 1920. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Erwin, of this city, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Badger, of Long Beach, formerly of Nampa, Idaho. The happy couple will remain on the coast until December, visiting relatives and friends, and will then make their home at Nampa, where Mr. Erwin is in the employ of the O. S. L. Ry. Co.

Pythians of Washington County will be interested to know that Ivanhoe Lodge, of Portland, will be visited by the Supreme Chancellor, on the evening of Nov. 30, when a huge class in the Bank of Page will be obligated on the famous Rathbone bible, on which the first Knight of Pythias took his obligation. Ivanhoe will welcome all the Knights from this county, and all Pages can be taken to Portland to receive their first lesson. Chancellor Commander L. W. Hyde, Geo. Schumacher, Fred Sewell, and a number of other prominent Pythians, have signified their intention of attending.

H. R. Findley, the Cedar Mill dairyman, was in the city Friday. He states that the Cedar Mill community fair, conducted by the Leedy Grange, exceeded all expectations, and hereafter will be an annual event. Beaverton expects to join with Cedar Mill, and a fair will be established under the name of East Washington County Fair. Mr. Findley says that the exhibits were much more numerous than anticipated, and Leedy Grange has every reason to be proud of the initial attempt.

Ferd Groner, of Scholls, was up to Hillsboro Friday. He has made a walnut washing machine and has applied for letters patent. The machine will wash 24 tons in a day with two men running it. The old way it would require a couple of men a day to wash out a couple of tons. He will see what can be done with the apparatus down in California, where they raise many walnuts, and the Argus hopes that it will prove a financial find.

Miss Arline Garborino, daughter of Mrs. Rosa Garborino, of near Beaverton, died Nov. 12, 1920, at the family home. The mother and three brothers and one sister mourn her loss. She was aged seventeen years. The funeral took place Tuesday and interment was in the Mt. Calvary Cemetery, on the Barnes road.

The annual meeting of the Congregational Church will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 1, at 7.30. Reports will be given from all departments. Refreshments will be furnished and served by the men of the church. All members and friends of the church are invited.

SCOTT ALLEN STRUCK AND KILLED BY AUTO

Neck Broken by Impact and Only Lived a Few Minutes

AUTO DRIVEN BY G. MYERS

Fatality Took Place North of Beaverton—Unavoidable

Scott Allen, full name James Scott Allen, was struck by an automobile driven by Geo. Myers, Monday morning, Nov. 15, and died within a few minutes afterward. Allen was walking along the macadam road near the Welch place, north of Beaverton, near where the road makes a junction with the Barnes road. A truck driven by Hugh Lewis, hauling potatoes for the starch factory, was going north, and the Myers machine, containing the driver and Father O'Neill, were signalled to pass. They pulled out to pass the truck, when Allen made a quick step into the road and in front of the machine. The machine was stopped at once, and Messrs. Myers and Lewis, with the help of Father O'Neill, did all that was possible for the dying man. His vertebrae was uncomplected, and although he attempted to speak, his words were inaudible.

Coroner Limber was notified, and held an inquest Tuesday morning. The jury found the following verdict: "We, the jury duly called and sworn to inquire into the cause of death of James Scott Allen, then lying dead at Washington County, Oregon, find the deceased was accidentally killed on Nov. 15, 1920, by being struck by an automobile driven by Geo. Myers, and we find that it was an unavoidable accident.—L. R. Dean, G. W. Tefft, Martin Gleason, E. A. Hendricks, J. E. Liebrich, Jacob Schmidt."

Scott Allen was a bachelor, and was aged about 65 years. He was a son of the late Isaac Allen, who settled near Reedville in the early sixties. The dead man lived on a portion of the Allen place. He is survived by a brother, Eck Allen, Reedville, and two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Dant and Mrs. Ambersine Weisenback, of Reedville.

MOTHER DIES

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Elford, of North Plains, returned yesterday morning from Rochester, Minn., where they attended the funeral of Mr. Elford's mother, who visited here last Summer. Mrs. Elford returned East with Mrs. Elford Sr., and after reaching Rochester telegraphed T. J. to come at once. All eight of the sons were present before the end came and were at the bedside. The eight sons were pall bearers at the funeral.

COUNTY NURSE

Does it pay to have a County Health Nurse? Does it pay in dollars and cents to have epidemics prevented by the timely warning of the nurse; to have our children protected from unsanitary conditions at the school? Several such instances were told at the County Health Association meeting on Nov. 13. One school where sanitary conditions were very bad now boasts the most sanitary condition in the county. Another school, where lighting was so bad nearly every child had eye trouble, was reported to the board by the health nurse, and they now have a new school, with better conditions. Not only school children but aged and poor have been visited where a nurse could show those caring for the sick in a family how to give the proper attention to patients. One could go on indefinitely, telling of the work of the County Health Nurse.

Let us back our Health Association and adopt the following report, submitted at the meeting, as many other counties are doing more, and we ask the following budget—

Nurse's salary	$1680
Expenses	$600
Office and supplies	$150
Printing	$150
Contingent	$100
Total	$2680
