

AUTO OWNERS ATTENTION

Beginning with February 1, 1921, we reduced prices on all mechanical labor and machine work

25c Per Hour

Other reductions make this possible for us. Competent workmen, operating on an efficient basis and with equipment and machinery to meet any legitimate competition is your protection.

We are not going to try and make you believe we can do a $10.00 job for $9.98, but we can and will give you as much value for your money. Our profits are from a volume.

Let's get acquainted and make 1921 a winner.

We are here to serve you with better service. Our employes are working with us. We are working with you.

If your work isn't right, We'll make it right.

"OLD DAIRY HOMESTEAD"

A large audience enjoyed the "Old Dairy Homestead" play given by the C. E. Dramatic Club of the Christian Church, last Thursday, at the Liberty Theatre.

Martha James, as the old maid, and Gerald Barr, as the farmer, kept the audience laughing at their kindly wit and good-natured sarcasm.

Robert Kelly, the town constable, with his "uncertain" love affair, and George Thompson, the Pinkerton detective, with his "ever changing personality," kept the audience guessing throughout the play.

Barbara Bergerson, Adie Reagan and Earl Bowman played the tragedy parts in a very able manner.

Ruth Helms, the little waif of the play, won not only the heart of Mr. Fishback, the tramp detective, but also the favor of the audience by her clever acting.

Much credit is due Mr. Fishback for the beautiful lighting scene of the second act and also for the general directing of the play.

The play will be presented by the Club at Sherwood, on the 19th, and at Beaverton the 26th of February.

ATTENDED BEHNE RITES

Robt. Imbric, attending the Osteopath College at Kirksville, Mo., writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Imbric, that he attended the funeral of his uncle by marriage, V. H. Behne, at Madisonville, Ky., on Jan. 30.

The body was shipped to Nashville, Tenn., for interment. Mr. Behne died January 28, and was stricken after going down town in the morning, about ten o'clock, death ensuing at one o'clock. He visited here in 1909, and met a number of Hillsboro people, when he was a guest at the Imbric home.

Mr. Behne is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jane Behne, who is a sister of J. A., T. R., Frank and Ralph Imbric; Mrs. W. W. Williams and Mrs. Maud Williams.

For many years Mr. Behne was a druggist.

DAIRYMEN

The Oregon Dairymen's League for Washington County will meet with the zoning committee at the Moose Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 11, at ten a. m., for the purpose of taking up the matter of markets for dairy product.

Every dairymen, whether belonging to the League or not, and all business men are invited. "Better Marketing" will be the slogan, and the subject matter of this meeting—a matter of importance to dairymen.

CLEVER PROGRAM

A daily paper of Eugene, in a recent number, tells of an entertainment by the freshmen class, U. of O., in which a Hillsboro girl was responsible for a beautiful part of the program:

"One of the most enjoyable dances of the year was given by the freshman class last night in the Armory, which was effectively decorated for the occasion.

A most brilliant part of the evening entertainment was the feature which was elaborate and unusual. A cleverly executed balloon dance was given by Verene Shute, of Hendricks hall.

As this was ended the lights were lowered, and as the orchestra played a slow waltz, balloons of many colors were wafted as if by magic from above over the heads of the dancers.

Kewpies were attached to the balloons, which were distributed among the girls as souvenirs.

Dainty programs printed in gold and tied with purple ribbon revealed to those present the order of the dances, which was—step, fox trot, fox trot, step, feature waltz, fox trot, step, waltz, fox trot, step, waltz.

Music was furnished by a 10-piece orchestra, which played until 11:30. Punch was served throughout the evening to the dancers."

Attorney Chas. J. Schnabel, of Portland, well known to many of the Swiss and Germans in Washington County, and to many of the Hillsboro people, was shot in the back by a crazed man last week and died before reaching the hospital.

The assassin fired on Schnabel as the attorney was in the court house corridor, the bullet taking effect in the back and piercing the heart. Schnabel was well known here in circuit court and delivered a patriotic address at a flag presentation before Judge Bagley one day, when citizens were being admitted. He is survived by a widow and two children.

HILLSBORO COMMERCIAL BANK

This bank does not believe in misleading advertising, hence this statement.

No Banking institution, State or National, is stronger than its own resources, and the Government of the United States, or the Federal Reserve Bank are not behind the liabilities of any institution.

The Federal Reserve Bank is a loaning agency only and a member thereof can borrow from them, providing they have securities to offer that are self liquidating. The strength of a State Bank or a National Bank depends upon its own management and the responsibility of its stockholders. The laws are that if the assets of any bank have vanished each and every stockholder is personally liable for double the amount of stock he holds in that institution.

It stands you well in hand to inform yourselves as to whom the stockholders of your banking institution are, and as to their reliability.

WANTED—A MAN

We are looking for a man of certain qualifications. If you are the one a chance to make good money and form a connection with a national company of enviable reputation awaits you.

Perhaps you are now a mail carrier, school teacher, grocery clerk—you might be working on a farm or preaching—and yet have real sales ability.

We are selling a nationally advertised product of proven worth and merit. This is not a stock selling or promotion scheme. We want a man to sell a useful article, one any man may be proud to represent.

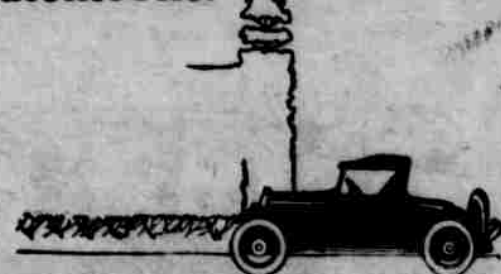

If you have lived here long enough to have a good acquaintance in the county, if you have a good record and can furnish good references it will pay you to answer this ad.

Our Mr. Harriman is making a special trip here this week to interview applicants. If interested, don't be backward about replying. All information will be held confidential.

Write Mr. Harriman a letter at once telling him about yourself and what you have been doing. Be sure and give your address and telephone number if you have one. He will look you up this week. Address
