KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HAVE MAMMOTH CLASS

Forty Candidates Under Way Sunday, April 11th, Moose Hall

PORTLAND TEAM TO WORK

Day Will End With a Big Banquet at St. Matthews School Hall

Hillsboro Council No. 1634 will exemplify the ritualistic work to forty candidates in this city, at Moose Hall, on Sunday, April 11. Chas. F. McFadden, chairman of the arrangements committee, has formulated the following program:

At 9:30 the candidates will assemble at St. Matthews Hall and march in a body to the church, where High Mass will be celebrated by Father J. T. Costelloe. This will be followed by a sermon by Father Waite, of Portland, one of the distinguished orators of the Diocese of Oregon.

After the services dinner will be served in the basement of the school hall for the candidates, in charge of Grand Knight John M. Ryan and Financial Secretary A. J. Miltenberger; and proceed to Moose Hall where the three degrees of Knighthood will be exemplified by the Portland Knights of Columbus Degree team, assisted by State Deputy J. H. Peare, of LaGrande.

In the evening a banquet will be served by the ladies of St. Matthews parish at the school hall, and Chairman McFadden has arranged a list of speakers who will endeavor to instruct as well as amuse the big assembly. A few musical numbers will be interspersed in the evening exercises.

The Hillsboro Council is one of the largest in the state outside of Portland and there will be several hundred people in the city to witness the day's exercises.

THE BUICK

The Buick name is the Buick's best salesman, and Buick 1921 models have added prestige to that name. The new models possess the known Buick reliability to meet every condition of travel. To that reliability there is added comfort resulting from improved seating arrangement and spring suspension and easier control of mechanism. And the new lines are beautiful. Each car's reliability is re-inforced by authorized Buick service. The regular equipment on all models since January 1 includes cord tires. You should see these new models to appreciate them.

TIGARD CLUB

The Rabbit Club of Tigard held a meeting Saturday at the home of their leader, E. T. Trofitter. A judging contest on Baby junior New Zealanders refereed by J. D. Lalaw, well known rabbit judge and registrar, brought much commendation from him as to the ability of three boys to pick the best rabbit. Three beautiful does, seniors, were on exhibit and registered. They are owned by the following boys, Geo. Trofitter, Baby Mine, 48271; Eugene Bishop, Princess Starlight, 48269; Robt. Grandy, Greenburg Belle, 48270; all three coming from registered ancestry. The boys never miss an opportunity to learn and hope to come to Hillsboro in September with some pure bred stock and are hoping for stiff competition and a competent judge to make awards.

This club has shown twice in Portland, and once at Sherwood, and they have received high praise from our state leader, Mr. Seymour and Supt. N. A. Frost for their interest and work.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU OUTLINES CAMPAIGN

Big Picnic, County Wide, to be Held in June or July

DATE AND PLACE LATER

Executive Committee has Meeting, and Reports

Following is the report of the results of the meeting of the executive committee of the Washington County Farm Bureau, Wm. Schulmerich, secretary:

Farm Bureau Picnic—A county-wide farmers picnic, under the auspices of the Farm Bureau, will be held some time in June or July. The Granges, Farmers' Unions and other farmers' organizations of the county are being asked to participate in this event, which is in charge of a committee consisting of Wm. Schulmerich, of Hillsboro, and L. L. Crawford, of Manning. The date and place of the picnic will be announced later.

Wheat Marketing Project—Wm. Batchelder has been selected county chairman of the wheat marketing project. This action came as a result of a wheat growers' committee with Edgar L. Ludwick, Organization Manager of the Oregon Grain Growers' Co-operative Association, at the Annual Farm Bureau meeting. This committee reported back a resolution asking the Farm Bureau to make this a major project. Meetings will be held in the leading wheat producing sections of the county, for the purpose of explaining fully the aims of this marketing association. P. J. Vanderzanden has been asked to act as community chairman of the region around Verboort, Shefflin and Banks, and M. R. Hoff the Scholls-Kinton territory.

Onion Diseases—J. G. Leedy, of Scholls, reported that there had been some investigation on onion smut planned by certain growers in the county, and specialists at the Oregon Agricultural College, but on account of lack of funds the work could not be carried on. The executive committee agreed to provide actual travelling expenses for specialists to the county to carry on these investigations. These expenses will not be heavy, and amount to car-fare and other incidentals.

Time of Committee Meetings—The executive committee will hold regular meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month. During the busiest spring and summer months these meetings will be held in the evening at the Farm Bureau office. The county court was extended a vote of thanks for providing the excellent quarters in the court house for County Agent and Farm Bureau headquarters.

Community Committee Organization—Requests have come from several communities for assistance in organizing a program of work for the Farm Bureau, consisting of anything that the community might want to do. The executive committee, in discussing this phase, found that there would be something like 35 or 40 communities in the county which will want community committees, and that it would be practically impossible for one County Agent to give all of the help that these communities would want, but it has been arranged to give assistance to all communities that have asked organization, with the hope that some method will be found through which follow-up work can be made effective. There are now eight communities with organized programs of work in Washington County. If your community is ready for the organizing of a community committee, notify the County Agent at Hillsboro.

Wool Marketing—Frank Schulmerich has been selected by the executive committee of the Farm Bureau to head the wool marketing project of the county. It is planned to get as many wool producers as possible interested to join the Oregon Wool and Mohair Co-operative Association. The object of which is stated in the first paragraph of the Association agreement as follows:

"The undersigned propose to organize a non-profit, co-operative association without capital stock, under the laws of the State of Oregon, for the purpose of promoting, fostering and encouraging the business of producing and marketing wool and mohair and its by-products co-operatively, and for reducing speculation and for stabilizing the wool and mohair markets; for co-operatively and collectively handling the problems of sheep and goat growers and for other pertinent purposes."

R. G. Scott, local representative of the Association, reports that the following Washington County Wool producers have signed the association agreement: A. B. Flint, H. L. Flint, Frank Schulmerich, W. G. Hesse, Conrad Algesheimer, Geo. Barkhalter, D. W. Bailey, Jacob Koenig, W. C. Heaton, E. G. Heaton, Harold Cutting, M. R. Hoff, E. A. Ruetter and A. V. Denney. Wm. Schulmerich, Sec.

ENTERTAIN SCOUTS

On Friday, April 1, the Woman's Relief Corps entertained Hillsboro Camp No. 1 Boy Scouts in Veteran Hall. Judge Crandall, in behalf of the organization, presented the boys with a flag, and Rev. Deck accepted for the Scouts. J. L. Crow made a short address, and Mr. Cobb told of an experience while he was on guard duty during the civil war. Earl Bowman made remarks for the Scouts. All joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner, after which refreshments were served. The boys gave several of their Scout yells and the afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

JOHN F. CARSTENS, COMMISSIONER, DEAD

Passed Away at His Home on Fir Street, Hillsboro, Wed., April 6th

IN OREGON OVER 50 YEARS

Was Ill but Three or Four Days—Elected to Office Last Fall

John F. Carstens, County Commissioner, died at the family home on Fir St., between Sixth and Seventh, early Wednesday morning, April 6, 1921, after a few days illness from uremic poisoning. Mr. Carstens had attended to county business until the last of the week, and was stricken Friday. Dr. Smith called Dr. Yenne, of Portland, in consultation, and on Tuesday the physicians decided that he had a narrow chance to survive. He died about 2:30 Wednesday morning.

Carstens was born at Creston, Lake Co., Ind., Feb. 5, 1865, and at the age of five years came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fedde Carstens, to Oregon, settling east of Hillsboro at the Hawthorne place. Later the family moved to Banks.

He was married to Miss Nettie Stephens, a daughter of pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens, April 5, 1887, the wife passing April 3, 1918. To the union two children were born—Clell B., of Banks; and Arlie, dying in infancy.

He was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Heltzel, of Banks, May 11, 1919, Mrs. Carstens and the son by the first wife, Clell, surviving him.

Mr. Carstens resided in Hillsboro during the nineties, and conducted a sash and door factory. About 1901 he moved and settled on his farm adjoining the present town of Banks, and he lived there until January 15, 1921, when he bought the A. Brandaw property and moved to Hillsboro.

In November, 1920, Mr. Carstens was elected county commissioner and he went into office in January. His good business judgment made him a valuable man for the place, and his associates, Judge J. W. Goodin and Commissioner J. J. Wismer, had formed a friendship for him which was very substantial.

Aside from his own farm he had stock in the Banks Hop Co.'s holdings and was also interested in the Washington County Bank, of Banks. He was a good business man, and his reliability and integrity were rated very high.

Mr. Carstens was always an ardent admirer of the National game of baseball, and for several years managed a winning team for Banks.

Of his immediate family he is survived by one brother and three sisters—Henry C. Carstens, of Roy, Ore.; Mrs. I. H. Smith, of Forest Grove; Mrs. Henrietta Williams, of Banks, and Mrs. Emma McKinney, of the Argus, Hillsboro.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Donelson & Bell Chapel, Rev. Costelloe conducting the service. Interment will be in the Hillsboro Cemetery.
