

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS
 County Official Paper
 L. A. Long, Editor
 Entered at the Post Office at Hillsboro, Oregon, as second class mail matter.
 Subscription, $1.00 per annum.
 Issued every Thursday by Mrs. E. C. McKinney and L. A. Long

Congress is again in session and President Harding read his message to the "boys." Doubtless Woodrow smiled when he read the news report, for he re-established the custom that was indulged in the days of Tommy Jefferson.

President Harding in his address to Congress says he is for an association of nations to prevent war. A league by any other name would sound as sweet, eh?

Gov. Olcott is to have lots of opposition in the next election, but the Argus predicts the fighting governor will lead them all at the finish.

Hillsboro is cleaner, anyway, as the result of business backyard cleanup this week.

Registered O. I. C. hogs for sale: Two year old boar, as good as any in county; young sow with 3 pigs at side; young gilt, about 70 lbs.; sow, 2 years, with 6 pigs at side. These hogs have all been well cared for and are in good show condition. Will sell right. Registry papers with each animal if wished.—Hugh Carey, North Plains. Telephone, North Plains, 2F14. 4-6

W. J. Clarke, long a resident of Eugene, has bought the Joseph Mann property south of the condenser, and will intensify farming on the four acres. He says he has just what he wants; likes the town better every day, and says he thinks Hillsboro is going to be one of the "comers." He has taken possession and moved his family into the newly purchased home.

Oregon & Washington Truck Service, Wm. Josay, Prop.—Farm produce and supplies transported between Mountaineer, North Plains and Portland every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Leave shipments at C. B. Buchanan's warehouse, North Plains. Portland office, 40 Second St. Phone, Broadway 5121. 421f

The Argus, $1.00 per year.
 Ben Sahnaw, of east of Meek Plains, was a city visitor Friday morning.
 Gen. Walters, of West Union, was an Argus caller the last of the week.
 A. L. Yanokry, of below Witch Hazel, was a city visitor Saturday.

J. L. Foeger, of near Haber, was in the county seat Saturday afternoon.
 Oscar Handley, of the Meek Plains, was in town Saturday and called on the Argus.

With the cherry bloom in full action the countryside and town look like a Garden of Eden.
 Elmer Mays, of North Plains, passed thro town Monday enroute to his prairie ranch in Yamhill County.

Carl Handy will soon build on Main, at the Sixth St. intersection. Still the good work continues.

Trephon Diricks, of near old Greenville, was in town Friday, coming down to attend the Carstens funeral.

W. C. Gifford, of Beaverton, was up to the city Monday, spending the afternoon with oldtime friends.

E. L. Kraus, of South Tualatin, was a Hillsboro visitor Saturday. He shipped out a carload of potatoes last week, receiving a dollar per hundred.

John Powell, the oldtime trainman, has gone to Southern California to work. He expects to have his family join him in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Weil, of Weil's Department Store, returned the last of the week from a few months' stay at Los Angeles and other California points.

Mrs. O. E. McCarthy has returned from a several weeks' visit with relatives at Seattle—and says that Hillsboro and Oregon are all to her liking.

Patrolmen Weckert and Stockdale pulled in thirteen offenders, Sunday, the charges being speeding, too bright lights and no tail lights.

Miss Emma Stott, who resided at Forest Grove years ago, died the last of the week in Portland. She was a sister of the late Sam Stott and Judge Stott, of Portland. Interment will be at Walla Walla, where she lived for years.

Mrs. E. L. Via, Mrs. Fred M. Peters, Mrs. Chester VanBuren, Ray Williams and Percy Carstens, of Portland, and Verne McKinney, of O. A. C., were Hillsboro visitors Friday, attending the funeral of their late uncle, J. F. Carstens.

Anton Hermann, of Verbena, was in the city yesterday, called as a witness in circuit court.
 Hon. W. H. Hollis, of Forest Grove, was down to the city Monday morning, on legal business. Mrs. Hollis is critically ill.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Tomasic, of Laurelhurst, Portland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lura, to Robert Stout, of New York.
 Two new logger trains out of Hillsboro help some.

For good seed barley, 2 cents per lb., go to Conrad Dick, one mile north of West Union Church.
 E. J. Moore, who is of one of our pioneer families, is now located at Marshfield, and wants the religious weekly sent him.
 Mrs. John Storey, of Independence, was in town Friday, attending the Carstens funeral, and remained a few days, the guest of Mrs. J. F. Carstens.
 Judge Gen. E. Bagley was over to Tillamook the past week holding a short term of circuit court. Frank Schulmerich was in from Farmington the last of the week.
