

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

VOL. XXVIII. HILLSBORO, OREGON, APRIL 21, 1921. No. 7

HARRY H. STUART DIED AT VANCOUVER

Sustained Fall at Friend's Home in British Columbia City

FIRST SUPT. CONDENSER

Dead Man Was Vice President of the Carnation Products Company

Harry Harland Stuart, the first superintendent of the Carnation condenser at Forest Grove, and who also had charge of the Hillsboro plant after it was bought from the local owners, died at Vancouver, British Columbia, Sunday, from the result of a fall sustained while visiting with a friend. Stuart leaves a wife and three children, who were at Los Angeles, Cal., at the time of his death.

Stuart was aged 44 years, and he was the nephew of E. A. Stuart, the president of the Carnation Co. He was a valuable man for the company and worked his way up from the process end of the big factories.

He was born in Lawrence, Kansas, and had been on the coast 18 years, and had been with the Seattle offices for the past 15 years. When he left Hillsboro and Forest Grove he was succeeded by Phil Kinzer.

The dead man had many friends at Forest Grove and Hillsboro, and was noted for being approachable. Close application to business, and a quick conception of big things made him a favorite with his uncle and he rapidly rose to promotion. He is said to have left an estate easily worth a quarter of a million dollars. It is said that it was largely upon his recommendation that the company installed the big condenser in Hillsboro, young Stuart having an appreciative regard for Hillsboro as a big dairy center.

During the war he was one of Herbert Hoover's aides and served with the Food Administration at a dollar a year salary.

Stuart lived to see the company with which he was identified grow to the largest producer of any of the Pacific Northwest condensed milk factories.

A wild driver, yet unknown to the officials, ran into John Tenner, of 117 Smythe Avenue, Portland on the Rex-Tigard road this side of Rex, Sunday. Tenner's car was overturned, and he was bruised; Mrs. Ida Dimmick sustained a broken arm and two fractured ribs; Orval Dimmick, a son, was severely bruised, and Juanita Dimmick, her daughter, was severely cut and bruised. Wayne Dimmick was injured about the body. Tenner's machine was a wreck. The driver of the car hitting the Tenner car made his getaway.

For house moving, barn moving, raising buildings, etc., see or write M. C. Hewitt, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 4. Years in the business here. Estimates given on this class of work. 4-11

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wuyick, of Orenco, Ore., April 16, 1921, a daughter.

REBEKAH CONVENTION

The Rebekah District Convention held its annual meeting at Gaston, Saturday, April 16, with Mrs. Florence Bryant, of Gaston, presiding.

The Forest Grove, Banks, Hillsboro and Gaston lodges were all well represented, there being about seventy members present, twenty going from the Hillsboro lodge.

The Grand Warden, Miss McMahon, of Brownsville, was present as the State President's representative.

After a very interesting session and one of Gaston's justly famous dinners, the following officers were installed for the coming year: Mrs. Elpha Wilson, of Banks, chairman; Miss Little, of Forest Grove, vice chairman; Mrs. Helen Deichman, Hillsboro, secretary; Mrs. Elsie Soehren, of Banks, warden; Miss Rhea Wilkes, Hillsboro, conductor; Mrs. Alice Crook, chaplain, and R. Hill, Forest Grove, guard.

Argus, $1.50 per year.

James Robb was in from near Roy yesterday.

W. L. Stevens, the Laurel merchant, was an Argus caller Wednesday.

Jack Raynard, of Midway, between Scholls and Laurel, was a city caller yesterday. He has a sale notice in another column.

A two-ton Nash truck for sale; 1919 model; in first-class mechanical condition; run but little. —W. L. Stevens, Laurel, Or. 9

WIRELESS TOWER NOW UP OVER 350 FEET

Steel Workers Putting Up Frame for Radio Co.

WHAT THE STATE IS DOING

Mills Here and There are Resuming Operations

The steel crew for the Radio Company now has the big steel tower over 350 feet in the air and within a few days the 625 foot structure will be completed. This is to be the biggest radio plant in Oregon.

The Brighton sawmill has again started over in the Tillamook County and here and there all over the state the big mills are starting their wheels.

The Drain-Divide highway to be paved, 14 miles to cost $495,460.

New state highway bridges in 1921 to be built at cost of $1,045,000. Of these $519,700 were left over from 1920.

Eugene—15 miles highway above Blue River to be surfaced. Baker—$1,000,000 for improvements program in city for 1921.

Portland woolen mills at St. Johns now running night and day—wool cheap.

Some Salem carpenter workers working at $5 per day.

University of Oregon and State Agricultural college are in a great marathon race for the largest enrollment of students. Former has 4108 and latter 4307. Oregon taxpayers maintain larger institutions of this kind than the older and richer eastern states.

Portland—Willamette Iron and Steel to build $150,000 boiler shop. T. B. Wilcox to erect $100,000 hospital. Emanuel hospital will erect $32,000 dormitory.

About half the salmon canneries will operate on 1918 scale. Yamhill building a $5000 gymnasium.

Willamina will build $3000 community hall.

Southern Pacific to spend $100,000 on yard improvements at Roseburg.

Condon building a 12-room school with gymnasium.

Jacksonville branch railroad is being rebuilt.

Hood River—New box factory will be running shortly.

Portland—Wages of stone cutters in nine plants here advanced from $8 to $9.

Plans for the spring planting of burned over areas on national forests of Oregon and Washington have been completed, according to J. F. Kummel, in charge of reforestation for the local forest service bureau. About 450,000 trees from the Wind River nursery will be planted in areas on the Rainier, Santiam and Crater national forests, the first in Washington and the other two in this state.

Portland—Milk prices advance from 10 cents to 11 cents per quart.

Eugene—New sawmill near here now in operation.

Eugene flour mill does business of $720,000 in 1920.

Hood River to have new box manufacturing plant.

Coos Bay—Buchner Lumber Co. resumes operations.

Dallas—Construction of new auditorium planned soon.

St. Helens shipyard resumes work after being idle for several months.

Stanfield to have $40,000 high school.

Greer, Powers & Co. for seeds. Everything in fishing tackle.—D. Corwin. 6-11

Peter Almquist, of near Reedville, was an Argus caller Tuesday.

D. A. O'Meara, of near Elmonica, was in town Monday afternoon.

Mart Mead, of North Plains, and Fay Mead, of Buxton, were visitors to the city Tuesday.

Carl Hande has started construction of a home at Sixth and Main.

J. W. Enschede, of the Hawthorne place, East of the city, was a Hillsboro visitor Friday.

A. Karpenstein, of Scholls, was in the city Monday afternoon.

John C. Beach, of North Plains, was in town Tuesday on probate business.

For good seed barley, 2 cents per lb., go to Conrad Dick, one mile north of West Union Church. 6-7

C. L. Brown, of Manning, was in town Tuesday on business, and while in the city made his annual call on the Argus.

Wanted: To buy a good, fresh, 5-gallon cow, with good rich test. Must be tubercular tested. Apply at 1214 Greeley St., Portland. 6-8

Potatoes have been moving a little the past two weeks and many in the hills have been digging and getting them to market.

For Sale—Registered Jersey bull, 16 months old. Sire, Fancy Raleigh; dam, Marie's Bluebell. Very fine animal.—Karl Broeder, Sherwood, Ore. 7-9

The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps will have a window sale of cooked food, Saturday, April 30, at the Wells Fargo Express office. Remember the date and come prepared. 7-8

Mrs. Lottie Smith has returned from a several months stay in Mexico, Texas and Southern California. Monterey and other Mexican cities have regained their usual calm since hostilities ceased under the new regime.

For Sale—Span young mules, full sisters, 4 and 5 years; $200.—W. J. Enschede, Hillsboro, R. 4; 3 miles East of Hillsboro, on Hawthorne place, Hillsboro phone, 34R2. 7-9

Erwin Ritter, of Bethany, came to the city Friday on insurance business, and was conferring with W. F. Haase, of the Farmers Mutual. Between farming and keeping up the correspondence and business of the big Mutual, Erwin has his hands full.

White Leghorn cockerels, Hollywood and Tom Barron strain; also hatching eggs from the same strain. Prices reasonable.—F. B. Davis, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 1, Box 5. Successor to E. C. Lamb, one mile north of Hillsboro high school. 8-7

Occasional showers since last Sunday have retarded Spring plowing and seeding, but the moisture has done a world of good to Fall sown grain and loosened the soil which had baked during the last dry spell. Farmers everywhere welcomed the rainfall, although there were many who would have seen it deferred a week in order to have closed up their Spring work.

Hillsboro is going to be in shape for a Fourth of July that will eclipse any of the past efforts. The new pavilion will have been completed to hold a big audience, and it will be close in where the crowd congregates; Hillsboro will have the best ball team of its history, and Manager Phelps will secure attractions that are popular. Let us all pull for the big celebration.

Bill Hanley, of Burns, Eastern Oregon Land Co, leaves in a few days for a tour of the Mississippi Valley states under the auspices of the State Chamber of Commerce. He will carry the story of Oregon back to the former class, and his visit will be opportune, with floods, storms, snowfalls and cyclones hitting the country East of the Rockies. Oregon will get its share of immigration from that quarter and Washington County, being the first dairy county in the state, will get its share of the home hunters.

For Sale—Cabbage, tomatoe and bedding plants, at the Bergen greenhouse. 8

POSTAL BUSINESS OUTGROWS QUARTERS

Postal Inspector Calls for More Floor Room for Office

INCREASE OF 16 PER CENT

Is Report of Postmaster Ball for Quarter Just Ended

Postmaster Harry A. Ball reports that Hillsboro's postal business increased sixteen per cent in the last quarter—and thereby hangs a tale. That tale is demonstrated by the fact that Postal Inspector C. W. Linbaugh, who visited Hillsboro the other day, has posted a notice calling for bids for a building with at least 1800 feet of floor space; asking for good daylight accommodations; improvement over some of the apparatus and furniture now in use.

The bid calls for a period of five years as the least to be considered and for ten years, as well. The government wishes to occupy the quarters by Jan. 8, 1922, when the lease on the present place expires.

It is more than likely that the Odd Fellows will bid again, and in this they have the pole on competitors. All they will have to do will be a vacation of a tenant on the North of the present postoffice room, take out the partition, and then reverse the present order by making the work room of the office adjoining the East wall of the structure instead of the West wall, as now used. A little more wall light can be made by inserting windows, and there you are.

The government has been paying $40 per month for the rental of the room on a ten year lease, and, sub rosa, it will probably be a mighty long time before your Uncle Sam will be able to get a corner for that money in little, old, agricultural Hillsboro. In all human probability there will be no other bidder, although there is some talk that two contenders will be in at the bidding.

The government asks that the site shall not be more than 80 rods away from the central part of the town.

The Hillsboro post office feeds a big territory, covering Phillips, Helvetia, Shady Brook, East of Bethany, and South of Laurel and Scholls. Its routes have more patrons than any other town in the county, and the present quarters are altogether too cramped.

TOT ENTERTAINS

Little Rose Kamberger entertained a number of her little friends last Friday, celebrating her seventh birthday. Those present were Phyllis Pollock, Katherine and Dorothy Alexander, Merlia and Mildred Harris, Ethel Linklate, Bobby Dinsmore, James Forsythe, Norine, Dorothy and Ruth Gilmore, Billie Stockton, Margaret and Janet Cady, Margaret Stockton, Rose, Georgiabelle and Henry Kamberger.

Garfield Garthofner went to Portland to attend the opening game the first of the week, and it was postponed on account of wet grounds. Gar says this isn't his first postponement at the Vaughn St. grounds. When will the baseball "maggots" learn that to set playing dates in April is a mistake, as a rule.

For Sale—Three-quarter blood Grade Holstein bull, 2 years old; out of Shaw-Fear Elmonica bull; a fine animal.—John Marty, 3 miles northwest of Cedar Mill; address, Portland, R. 2. 8-2

Church of Christ—10, Bible School; 11, sermon subject, "The Good Fight"; 6:45, Junior Endeavor, in basement; Intermediate Endeavor, led by Robt. Kelly; 7:30, subject, "The Lost Christ"; duet, "How Can I Look on Calvary's Cross," by Miss Cooley and Miss Stevens.—Len B. Flashback, minister.

Wanted: A good second-hand 4-horse disc; 18 inch, 12 blade; tongue truck.—Frank Greener, Hillsboro, R. 5; on Road Bridge road 3 miles southeast of city. Tel. 4RX6. 6-7

Fred Sewell, Leonard Brown, S. E. Fayram and W. H. Taylor went over to the Nehalem Saturday evening and spent Sunday fishing the stream of streams. Sewell reports fair traveling, excepting up the Timber hill, where the big steam shovel is working.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Frederickson, of the Barnes road, North of Beaverton, were city callers the first of the week.
