E. C. McKinney and L. A. Long

Next Monday is the day of days for real burnt-in-the-cork and blown-in-the-bottle Americanism. It stands as a symbol of human liberty and has been a great lesson to the world. Without free America today there would be no republic surviving in the world. Give the day its tribute and give it your life. Hillsboro will do the rest.

Lack of water pressure in the Hillsboro mains is a menace to property, and the utmost care should be practiced during the hot season in matters of fire prevention. The problem of water supply is one that is viewed with alarm, and justly so. Payment for a service that is not a real service should be met promptly by Hills-boro's business administration, and something should be done if Hillsboro is to prosper. With poor water pressure in the mains property is in jeopardy, and that is poor business in any city.

The Argus is gratified to know that Hon. H. V. Gates will deliver the oration Independence Day, at Shute Park. He is a Civil War Veteran, knows and loves his country, and adheres to National ideals which stand for a greater and better America. He comes from a family of patriots and his posterity responded to the great call of human sacrifice for human weal. Mr. Gates knows how to handle English, and his audience will be told what constitutes Americanism—and told in a way that will be appreciated.

Five dollars reward for the return to the Argus office of a fishing rod, lost between Hillsboro and Scoggin Valley, on road,

R. C. Lohman, Prop.

Chas. Fager, of Virginia Place, engaged in raising pure bred White Leghorns, was in town on Monday afternoon. Fager says that good poultry costs no more than poor stock, once you get a start.

A. J. Soumer, of Virginia Place, has moved to Portland for an extended stay.

Clem Shaner, of Jolly Plains, was in town Monday. He says that beaver have a home on Mc-Kay creek, below his place, and that either the beavers or muskrat have wallowed down a big lot of his hay on the river bank. One of his horses fell into a hole which had been mined by one of the workers, and Shaner said it was big enough to contain a load of hay.

M. N. Lewis will soon move his monument works adjoining and just west of his present location.

YOUR VACATION WEEK

Music

Chautauqua is a veritable Festival of Music. The Lowell Patton Company, featuring Lucille Collette, distinguished French violinist, presents two concerts on the third day. Then there is the Mary Adel Hays' Grand Opera Singers in two notable concerts on the last day; The Alexander Trio; The Liberty Belles and the Stone-Platt-Bragers Trio. Ten concerts in all—certainly the music alone is worth far more than the cost of the season ticket.

Lectures

Many notable people appear on the Chautauqua lecture staff this season. Dr. Robert Parker Miles, great journalist and interviewer of celebrities, is one of the head-liners. E. B.
Fish, editor of "Labor and Industry," is another. Add to these names those of Dean Ellwood C. Perisho, former President of the State College of South Dakota; Chief Strongheart, Indian lecturer and entertainer; Dr. E. L. House, prominent author and psychologist, and Virgil I. Shepherd.

Entertainment

An outstanding entertainment event is scheduled for the fourth night in a big play production presented by The Keighley New York Players, with an all-professional cast. Two other entertainment features of note rest in the coming of Winifred Windus, a reader who ranks at the top of her profession, and Electra Platt, a New York monologist and entertainer who is without an equal on the Chautauqua platform.
