Subscription, $1.50 per annum.

Issued every Thursday by Mrs E. C. McKinney and L. A. Long

Notwithstanding a drouthy summer, Washington County will have full granaries this harvest. Dairying has so rejuvenated the soil that a little more or less moisture makes but little difference in yields. A poor crop here is better than a big crop in the Eastern states.

Hillsboro has contributed several hundred dollars through its business men to help build a road up the Chehalem Mountain, toward Bald Peak. Yamhill County is connecting with the other end, and the macadam will be welcomed by the people who live on the mountain. Hillsboro is ever a liberal giver for these things—and that is one of the reasons why the town as a rule is always prosperous.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion of those left of the Gilbert family was celebrated Sunday at the home of Peter Boscow, of East Main street, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boscow host and hostess. The members of the family, all of whom were pioneers or descendants of the Gilbert pioneers of 1847, hailing from Iowa, and first settling in Benton County, at the reunion were—

Mrs. Jane Gilbert Clark, of Berkley, Cal., aged 83 years; Mrs. Mary Gilbert Edwards, Eugene, Ore., aged 73 years; Mrs. Emma Gilbert Watts, Portland, aged 66 years; J. B. Gilbert, Spokane, Wash., aged 69 years—their combined ages being 291 years.

Friends and relatives of the Gilberts in attendance were Peter Boscow, one of Hillsboro's leading pioneer citizens, beloved by all; F. A. Watts, Portland, husband of Emma Watts; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Boscow, Hillsboro; Mrs. Lou M. Proctor, Pacific Grove, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boscow, Hillsboro, Mrs. Boscow being a daughter of Mrs. Jane G. Clark, and hostess of the occasion; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lakin, Portland; Mrs. Lakin being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Watts; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gilbert, Mr. Gilbert being a son of J. B. Gilbert, and their little daughter, Geraldine; Janie Lakin, Portland.

After a splendid dinner was served by Mrs. Boscow, all assembled on the lawn under the shade of the trees planted by Father Boscow over forty years ago and listened to music and conversation, and the session closed with "God be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

It will be of interest to note that Mrs. Jane Gilbert Clark was the wife of the late Rev. Nelson Clark, at one time the M. E. minister in charge of the Hillsboro church.

This Friday evening, the 12th, 8 p. m., the young people of a number of the churches will give a union "ice cream and cake social" in the Summer Garden at the Christian Church. Everybody come and have a good time.

Before you paint your roof see C. J. Birdsee. He manufactures the Kaut Burn paint, a fire proof and water proof product which takes the "curl" out of the shingle. He will figure with you and save you money over other paints, and he will apply the paint at cost, besides, and save you the trouble of hiring it done. Paint your roof with the best at less money. See or write C. J. Birdsell, 1246 Baseline, Hillsboro. 21

For sale or trade: Best and fastest bug in the country.—Haskell Carter, Hillsboro. 21-23

Miss Priscilla Hobbs, of Portland, is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hobbs, of West Baseline.

Wanted: Barnyard manure. Will pay a good price by the yard.—Clarke Bros, Greenghouse, Hillsboro. 21-23

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lubric and daughters, Mrs. May Smith and Miss Madge Lubric, are spending the season at their cottage at Rockaway.

Dr. E. H. Smith and W. W. Downs went over to the Nesting on the first of the week on a fishing trip, and the way they landed salmon was not slow.

Jersey cow for sale. In milk.—Wm. E. Martin, Hillsboro, Or., R. 1, Box 3. Three-quarters of a mile north of the Hillsboro High school. 22-24

Thos. Henton, of Meek Plains, was in the city yesterday. He has finished threshing, and while he had a good yield, it was not up to the standard of last year.

Wanted: By young married man, work on dairy ranch. Prefer one with milking machine. Can give A1 references from last employer. Phone Greendale 4, Forest Grove central. 21-23

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Petrequin, Orenco, Aug. 3, 1921, a son.

For the first time in many weeks the county has had no prisoner.

Mrs. J. M. Goar and son, Leo, returned Sunday evening from an extended stay at Rockaway.

John Sinclair, of above North Plains, was in the city the last of the week and called on the home paper.

Oliver Huston, of Portland, spent Sunday at Hillsboro, and visited the old "swimming holes" with which he was familiar as a boy.

T. E. Morgan, wife and children came out from Portland Friday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Cornelius, of south of town.

Dr. D. W. Ward, of Forest Grove, the premier physician of the college city, was down to Hillsboro the last of the week on a professional call.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kechu, of Portland, were here the last of the week, visiting at Orenco and Hillsboro. They left for Seaside, overland, the first of the week and will remain there during the balance of Kechu's vacation.

The Carnation Milk people have a new Ford saleswagon for their Oregon representative. Machine No. 1 was in town yesterday, advertising Carnation Milk from "Contented Cows."

When in need of a monument, marker, or posts, or cemetery work of any nature, whether purchased by yourself or thru the Woodmen or any lodge it will be to your interest to consult Lewis & Co., as they will give you a better monument, etc., than can be purchased for the money anywhere else—in fact they can save you considerable on any purchase. 21tf

Four little lads from St. Mary's Orphanage, near Beaverton, started out to see the world one day last week, under the leadership of Horace Busby. Their leader brought them all to grief. They started afoot and when they reached the Redville S. P. station one of them crawled through the window, and while the others stood watch, parolined 144 pennies and a lot of commutation books and trip tickets. They also got away with some cigars which belonged to the agent. They made the mistake of going to Verboort, where some of the boys knew them through visits to the Home, and the authorities were notified. The lads were taken before the Juvenile Court and further infractions will get them into trouble.

A cavalcade of children, comprising a camp outfit on an auto house, a supply auto truck and a Ford machine for the superintendent of a Children's Home, at Des Moines, Wn., passed through the city Wednesday, and stopped for an hour to take in a little money. The Home receives neither county or state funds and is self supporting. The children publish a little newspaper and they sell subscriptions to those who wish to help, and take contributions as a reward for the playing of the children's hand, which puts up pretty fair music for a juvenile concern. The youngsters all looked happy and contented and appeared to be enjoying their overland trip immensely. They received quite a few dollars aside from their subscription support.
