

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS

County Official Paper

L. A. Long, Editor

Entered at the Post Office a Hillsboro, Oregon, as second class mail matter.

Subscription, $1.50 per annum.

Issued every Thursday by Mrs E. C. McKinney and L. A. Long

In the death of David Corwin all Hillsboro suffers a common loss. Mr. Corwin was a high type of citizen and his friendship and his public spirit were always worth while. His devotion to his home life, his home town, and to highest ideals, affords an example to all citizens, and the community will miss him beyond measure.

C. W. Dodson, of near Banks, was an Argus caller this morning. Harry Zimmerman, of near the Wallace settlement, above North Plains, was in the city Monday.

Chas. Tompkins, who with Geo. Darcy runs a dairy ranch beyond North Plains, was a city visitor the last of the week.

Dr. L. W. Hyde and wife motored to Albany and Sedaville, Sunday, where they attended a big all-day picnic of the Albany Camp, Spanish War Veterans, and Dr. Hyde, as State Commander, delivered an address. They report a big attendance and a fine time.

Havoline Oil Goes to College

The American Efficiency Survey wished to determine the weather efficiency of various motor lubricants, and chose Purdue University to make this test, because of its high order of instruction as well as its specialized attention to scientific research.

Havoline Oil

earned first place in wearing qualities. In heat resisting properties Havoline Oil lead all competitors. In uniform quality in all temperatures Havoline stood highest.

"The Old Swimmin Hole"

From James Whitcomb Riley's Old Home Poem.

Dr. E. H. Smith this week operated on Mrs. Peter Syverson, of below Reedville, for appendicitis.

C. W. Spiering, owner of the Bergeen place near North Plains was an Argus caller this morning.

Miss Margaret Long is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. G. W. Wells, of Newberg.

H. T. Koerber is in a Portland Sanitarium, taking a rest and recovering his health generally.

Mrs. Ernest Foord and son and Miss Onetta Sussbauer returned Monday from a week's stay at Barview.

John Dorland, of beyond North Plains, accompanied by his neighbor, Mr. Grossman, was a city caller Monday.

Marriage licenses were granted to Clarence E. Day and Muriel Blaney; Arthur Joel Larkin and Florence Snider.

Will do tattooing reasonable. Well experienced. Write to Louise Zunkehr, Box 112, Route 1, Hillsboro, Ore. 26

Married—August 23, 1921. Judge Smith officiating. Winifred H. Ring and Elizabeth E. Holmes.

Edwin H. White, of Hillsboro, and Lillian B. Hartfield, of Seattle, were married at Vancouver the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Grindell and daughter, Crystal, of Dufur, Ore., were guests at the Chas. Sewell home the past week.

The Misses Sophia, Anna and Mary Schneider and Effreda Hornecker, of Leisville, have returned from a week's stay at Rockaway.

For Sale—Deering corn binder, used only one season; $200. E. A. Rueter, Forest Grove, Ore. Gales Creek Star Rt. Telephone. Gales 2; Forest Grove central. 24-26

Married—Leonard Braithwait and Muriel Clark, of Forest Grove, August 20, 1921. Len B. Fishback, pastor of the Christian church officiating.

Arthur Gotlieb, of north of the city, fell from a water tank the other day and sustained two broken ribs and slight internal injuries. Dr. E. H. Smith is in charge of the case.

Judge J. W. Goodin, wife and son, Melville, departed Saturday for a couple weeks' visit with the Judge's sister, Mrs. Collins. Elkins, and family, at Prineville, making the trip by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carter and son, Haskell, went to Corvallis the first of the week to get their Corvallis home in readiness for occupancy by the opening of O. A. C.

Frank Keenon, of above North Plains, was a city caller Tuesday. Frank says that the rain last week wet the ground down to a depth of two inches and did a world of good to the late potato crop.

Offer choice young Jersey, fresh February; $100. No pasture. Cow gives two gallons on stake. Also six months Holstein heifer; dandy; $25. Will swap for young pullets.—W. J. Clark, Hillsboro, R. 2. 24-26

Mr. and Mrs. David Kurath, of Tillamook, were Hillsboro visitors Tuesday. They were accompanied home, Wednesday, by Miss Alma Spicker, who takes a position with a legal firm in the coast city. Dave has just returned from the Elks convention at Marshfield, and he reports a fine time.

For Sale—Three Jersey cows and seven Holstein cows. Four giving milk now and balance will be fresh by last of September. Cows may be seen at the Helzel farm, above Banks. Phone Manning 54.—Mrs. Elizabeth Carstens, Hillsboro, Ore. Phone 2821. 24-26

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Bowman were Hood River visitors the last of the week. They motored all over the Hood River Valley and spent a night at Eagle Creek. They were very much interested in the wonderful orchard tracts and the irrigated district—Bent says that he thinks Hood River has the wonderful hanging gardens of Babylon beaten a million miles.

Geo. Trimble, Dr. E. H. Smith, Sheriff Alexander and Ed. Williams returned Monday evening with a buck, the returns of their hunting trip to Southern Oregon. George bowled him over the first day out. Ed Williams got a bull let in a buck, a big pool of blood being the evidence, but he got away on the jump and although they tracked him for a long distance, the wound evidently was not enough to give him his quietus.

The H. T. Koehrs have sold the Sugar Bowl Confectionery to J. W. Ellis, late of Salem. Mr. Koerber was one of the first to invest heavily in the confectionery business in Hillsboro, erecting the brick for the business and for living quarters. He has made a success of his endeavors, and his many friends regret to see him retire. Mr. Ellis comes highly recommended and Mr. Koerber be-
