NATIONAL EFFORT

To put 700,000 ex-soldiers into jobs is the American Legion's immediate objective, according to an announcement from Legion national headquarters. To accomplish this, a nation-wide drive will be launched from local posts in every city and town in the country on March 20, and employers and business men will be called into conference to devise ways and means of creating jobs and putting an end to a situation which Hanford MacNider, Legion commander, has called "the greatest crisis in the Legion's history."

Civic organizations from Maine to California have been asked to swing into line to back up the Legion and make a concerted effort which will be felt in all sections of the country. By stimulating industry, by pushing engineering projects and municipal development, by speeding up public utility enterprises, road building, paving, dredging, truck gardening, reforestation and reclamation, and by encouraging the "back-to-the-farm" movement, the Legion hopes to break the labor slump which has kept worthy men out of work and caused widespread distress. Each city will be divided into regions, each under its own post and employment committee, with a general committee co-ordinating the efforts of all.—American Legion Bulletin.

When in need of a monument, marker, or posts, or cemetery work of any nature, whether purchased by yourself or thru the Woodmen, or any lodge, it will be to your interest to consult Lewis & Co., as they will give you a better monument, etc., than can be purchased for the money anywhere else—in fact they can save you considerable on any purchase. 21-1f

"THE SILENT CALL"

"The Silent Call," a wilderness story, will be filmed at the Liberty, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 19, 20 and 21. This is one of the finest bits of wild and frontier life seen on the screen, and some indication of the country where the picture was produced is evidenced from the fact that during the work on this location, the actors slept in tents, their nearest town being fifty miles away. The most thrilling scenes in the play are those of Strongheart, the big dog. The dog is a wonderful actor himself and the cast of men and women is wonderfully strong.

It will depict the wilderness in a way that will grip the heart, and Manager Phelps thinks it one of the best bits of good film that he has secured for some time.

Canine temperament was displayed in the filming of the "Silent Call," the coming attraction at the Liberty Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, a Laurence Trimble-Jane Murfin production, presented by H. O. Davis. Between shots of the terrific battle between the villain and Strongheart, the dog, the villain impressed his friendliness so strong upon the canine that it required considerable coaching on the part of the director to get his dogship up to the boiling point necessary to make the film go strong—but he did it.
