Critics are pointing to the fact that capital punishment in Oregon is no deterrent to murder. This, doubtless is true, for first degree murderers do not as a rule contemplate detection, and those who kill in the heat of passion are punishable by life imprisonment. Many who favor capital punishment do not regard it as a deterrent, at all, but believe the measure as protective against the coming generation on the grounds that like begets like, and, besides, society should not be burdened with "crooks" of the "killing kind."

This is one of the latest Springs for many years, and there is going to be a shortage of grain unless the weather settles down and permits sowing at once. As a rule early sown grain crops are fair in this district and late sown fields give a rather indifferent yield. Old Jupiter appears to be putting in overtime with his sprinkling can and one or two decent days at a stretch is the limit.

The radio telephone is here to stay. It will not be many moons before you can carry your radio in your ear muff and then the Lord pity your drums when you apply it to hear what the world is doing. One will be mighty apt to get a political speech by a soap box orator at Seattle mixed up with a Mexican band parading in the public square at Mexico City.

This time it is Russia that is the fly in the ointment at the Genoa conference, and Trotsky and Lenin have their representative well backed up by Germany. Meantime Uncle Sam is letting things take its course and playing the isolation game, thus giving France and England full swing in the theatre of Europe.

"What do you think of the new moon," inquired one bootlegger of another in the Multnomah jail, the other day. His fellow prisoner replied, "Not much, but I'd give my last quarter for a good drink of the old."

At dead of night the Sheik climbed the balcony to Dian's bedroom which overlooked the Sahara desert. Her jeweled revolver lay upon the dressing table. Suddenly the Sheik emptied the tiny weapon of its cartridges and departed in the first light of dawn.

This is one of the gripping scenes in that great Paramount picture "The Sheik". A photograph of passionate love against desert background.
