MOONSHINE CATCH

Through the lack of an automobile tail light another moonshiner came to grief the other evening. Mike Opitanvich, an Austrian, was driving a Dodge car past Timber the other evening without a "glim" coming from the rear of the machine. Officer Stockdale noticed the absence of the light and proceeded to stop the car. As the machine stopped and he told the driver he was liable to arrest the rear axles broke from the car and cautiously sneaked past. This excited Stockdale's suspicions and he investigated. He found twenty-five gallons of fine moonshine, concealed in five cases, all the liquor being in pint bottles, and wrapped in paper. He arrested Mike, whereupon the Austrian started negotiations to get the officer off. He offered him $200. Stocky pocketed the coin and started to Hillsboro with his man to turn over the booze and the money to the sheriff. Mike then offered him $180 more, but didn't let loose of it. The man and the booze were brot to the county seat. The joke of the arrest was that a Multnomah deputy was trailing Capitanvich when Stockdale cut in and made the arrest, and in the meantime the Multnomah deputy sheriffs were waiting for the Austrian to reach the Terwilliger. The prisoner, now in jail, says he got the booze in Yamhill county and that he got it for another party, not knowing what is was—the same old song.

WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS

H. C. "Dusty" Rhoades is responsible for more happiness in juvenile circles than has existed since the last appearance of Santa Claus. For Rhoades is the advance representative of Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amberg's wild animals, a mighty merger of two mammoth menageries into what is termed "the world's wonder show." The date of the appearance in Hillsboro has been fixed for June 13th, and all the arrangements for the biggest day in the year for the kiddies have been made by Mr. Rhoades.

The Howe-VanAmberg circus is a combination of two long established tented enterprises, under the ownership of M. E. Goldstein, M. R. Runkle and Charles A. Lothrop, three San Francisco showmen of vast experience. Col. Howe remains with the organization, despite his advanced age, but the active management is in the hands of younger men. Captain VanAmberg, recognized as one of the greatest animal experts in the world, continues in charge of the menagerie.

The management of the show is in the hands of Charles T. Boulware, for many years with Al. G. Barnes.

NOT SWAN EGGS

Jake Geisbahler says that Art Hillenberger is wrong about those eggs found in the road—Jake says they are not swan eggs, but are eggs laid by the moon bird, which hatch only when the moon shines. Jake says he is willing to go on record as to this and leave the genesis of the fruit to any authority.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Because of the graduating exercises of the Hillsboro High School being held Friday evening, the Pythian Sisters will not hold a meeting.

Hillsboro is to have an animal circus June 13.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds, well known here thirty years ago as Miss Effie Powell, died at Olympia, Wash., May 24, 1922, after an illness of a year. Mrs. Reynolds was a professional nurse, and for several years held a position with the old Portland Hospital, at Third and Davis. After leaving Portland she spent several years in the East, nursing at Philadelphia, Chicago and New York, and from there went to Ware county, Georgia. She was married to Mr. Reynolds in the Big Bend country. There are no children. The husband survives. Of her immediate family she is survived by her mother, Mrs. M. A. Powell, of Hillsboro; sisters, Mrs. Sylvia Tucker, Clarkston, Wn.; Mrs. L. A. Long, Hillsboro, Mrs. Grace Bryan, California; Mrs. Frank Hedrick, of Seattle; Mrs. Geo. Reynolds, Olympia, Wn., and a brother, John A. Powell, of San Luis Obispo, Cal. The funeral took place at Olympia today.

The room formerly occupied by Mrs. Stockton, next door to the Handy Variety Store, is being remodeled by C. A. Hande, and will be used by the Handes as a millinery and fancy goods store. Only the latest styles of stock will be on sale, and the millinery opening takes place Saturday, May 27. 11-12

O. H. Cobb, who has been ill for many months, made his first trip away from the hearthstone the other day. Mrs. S. Hyre, of Newton, conveyed the veteran to the Hyre home, where he enjoyed a visit with the Hyres and with Rev. Anderson, another veteran of the Civil War. Mr. Cobb says the Hyres have a beautiful home, with fruit in abundance, fine poultry, hogs and cows, and Cobbs states that he wishes some of the farmers around this section could see the Hyre alfalfa field. Mr Anderson says that nowhere in the United States can alfalfa be grown to better advantage than right here—just get the ground in good shape, seed it and watch it grow.

MOTOR TRAFFIC BIG

Acting under the instructions of the state highway commission, G. C. Reiter, who has been in charge of the engineering of the state highway from Bertha on to the Yamhill line via this city, had a census of motor vehicles taken May 13, 14 and 15. The results were startling and show that traffic on the west side is not a small affair. For the three days, at the Gales Creek bridge, south of Forest Grove, the totals were:

Gales Bridge—
Passenger cars, Oregon	2007
Passenger cars, other states	28
Trucks of all kinds	115
Beaverton-Hillsboro—
Oregon passenger cars	5977
Cars from other states	68
Trucks	594

Sunday was the big day for travel. On the Beaverton-Hillsboro count there were 3440 passenger autos and 109 trucks, and on the Gales Creek bridge count there were 1264 cars with a total of all motor vehicles, 1326.

The count at both points was made from six in the morning until ten at night. Melvin Crow made the Gales Creek bridge count and A. W. Walker made the Beaverton-Hillsboro count.

The census is gratifying, as no one anticipated such a big travel.

RESOLUTIONS

On the Proper Observance of Memorial Day

Whereas, the thirtieth day of May has been set aside for years as a memorial day during which tributes of respect are paid by American citizens to those who have fallen in defense of liberty, and

Whereas, the truly loyal American, mindful of the sacrifices that have been made in the country's cause, turn with respect to the memories of the battles of our Union for the right and sacrifices of the citizens who paid the supreme penalty for loyalty,

Therefore, be it resolved by Scout Harrington Camp Number Fifteen, Department of Oregon, United Spanish War Veterans, that we commend to all good citizens that they turn aside with reverent respect in honor of our noble dead and forego those pleasures that would detract from a proper observance of the day.

H. S. Rogers,
L. H. Shirley,
L. W. Hyde,
Committee.

Oswald West has promised to address the club in the not distant future.

LET'S HELP THE BAND

Most live towns have a band.

Every live town needs a band.

Hillsboro has a splendid band in the making.

They need financial support.

They need it now. Right now.

The Hillsboro club has been asked to help raise the money. As a temporary measure to relieve immediate needs a Band "Tag Day" has been declared.

Saturday, May 27, a bevy of pleasant young ladies will make the canvass. They will solicit your donation with a smile. Respond with a smile, and if you happen to drop a dollar in, don't sprain your wrist reaching for the change. You cannot overdo this. There is no top limit, but there is a minimum limit of 25 cents per person.

The band boys need this money to buy music, pay hall rent, a leader, etc.

The boys are giving their time in practicing. You give a little money as your bit. That will help even things all around.

Let's do this thing like regular towns do such things, viz—"put 'er over big." Are you helping?

Austin, Cady, Phelps, Rasmussen, Wells, Committee.
