Personal Service

Convenience, courtesy, and strict attention to your motor needs await you at our new Service Station at Baseline and Third Streets.

Every effort of this company is bent to one purpose; to produce quality products and give reliable service. Every facility of modern science and invention is used to this end. And the Standard Oil Service Station is the ultimate expression of this endeavor.

You will find in charge experienced salesmen, trained to know the needs of your motor and interested and efficient in supplying them. They are there not merely to sell you Red Crown gasoline, Zerolene, and other Standard Oil products, but will gladly supply you with air for your tires, water for your radiator, information and similar courtesies, for which no charge is made.

You will find our Service Station a good neighbor, so that you will remember your visit there with pleasure.

FAMILY GATHERING

Relatives of two early pioneers, W. O. Gibson, 1847, and Michael Boyd, 1857, met at the W. E. Rice home, Shady Brook, recently, and enjoyed a family basket dinner. Those present were Mr and Mrs. Joseph Boyd, Earl and Harry Boyd, Harry Redman, W. E. Rice and family and the Misses Esther Boyd, Pearl, Harriet, Ida May and Eugenia Redman; Evelyn and Ruth Boyd, Faith Rice; J. K. Boyd, Riley Boyd, L. G. Boyd, Oliver Duward, Earl and Harold Boyd, Richard Rice and Ed Humble. After a bountiful dinner it was agreed that the next annual meeting should be at the site of the W. O. Gibson place at Dilley. A dance, in which many friends participated, was given in the Artisan Hall, at Dilley, in the evening, closing an enjoyable day.

J. F. Kerr is again at his real estate office after a sick spell.
J. R. Dean, of Farmington, was in town the last of the week, greeting friends.
Miss Myrtle Shinaberger, of the recorder's office, is taking her vacation at Wenatchie, Wash., in the celebrated peach section.
Mrs. Julia Heisler, of Sherwood, died July 9, aged 82 years. She is survived by five sons and two daughters.
Mrs. Jonas Olsen, of Tillamook, arrived in the city Tuesday to attend the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Edith Emerson, who is recovering from an operation at the Dr. Smith hospital.
The county court, accompanied by A. A. Morrill, went to the new tunnel, on the new railway line into the Vernonia country, Tuesday, to look into road affairs connected with its location.
Ira T. Mills, the champion goopher and mole trapper of the county, was down from above Banks the last of the week, returning from a Portland trip. He says the fur market is "shot to pieces" in Portland, and he may have to ship his pelts East.
